Re: Claimant: JAMES EVANS

This letter is intended to correct a typographical error that was made in a denial letter sent to you on March 14, 2013.

In the first paragraph of the March 14, 2013 letter the word "do" was used in error and the correct word should have been "do not" in relationship to our finding of state negligence.

A corrected copy of that letter is enclosed for your records. We are sincerely sorry for any confusion that this error created.

We have completed our review of your claim with management level staff from the Oregon department of forestry. Based on that review we do not find liability or negligence on the part of the Oregon department of Forestry or their staff.
