

Office of Emergency Management

David Stuckey

Cascadia Subduction Zone Catastrophic Earthquake and Tsunami Response Plan

Oregon's response plan was developed as a component of the coordinated Federal plan. The Federal plan is based on state developed issues and needs identified in the state plans of Oregon, Washington and California.

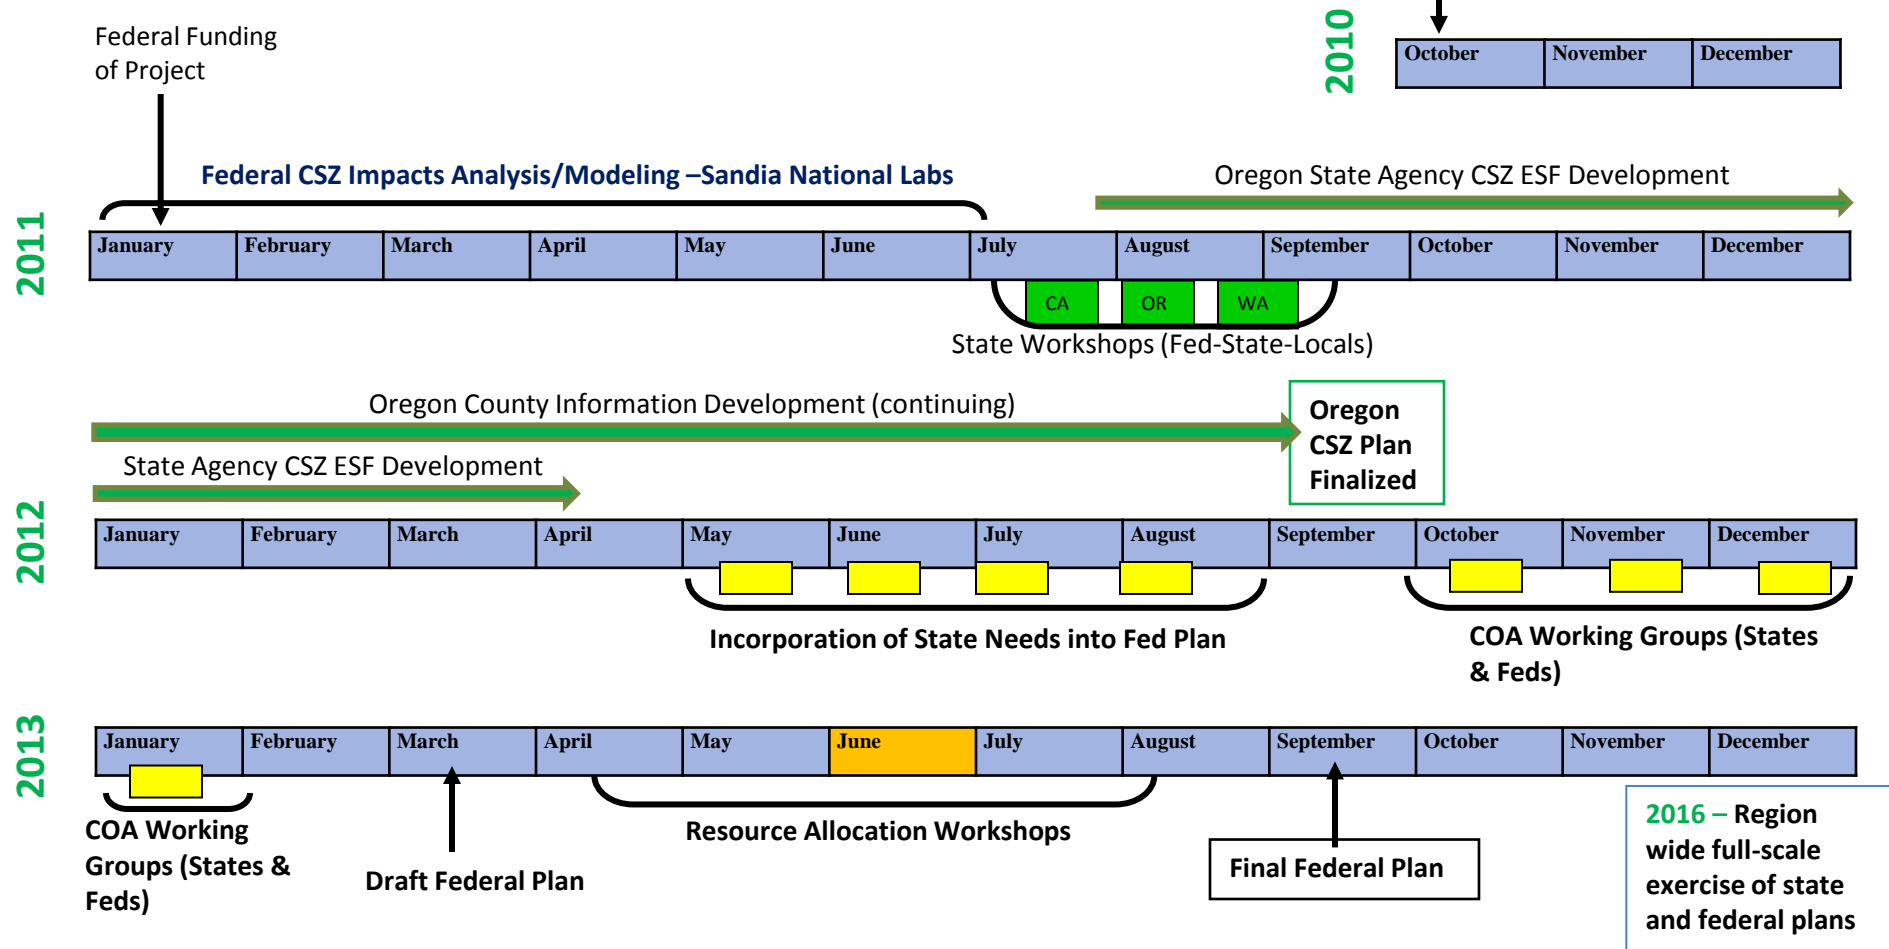

Goal is in developing a coordinated and pre-identified response plan to this catastrophic event based off impacts to OR-WA-CA-BC, Idaho in a support role, and Alaska experiencing secondary effects due to loss of NW ports.

Valuable final products:

- Cascadia Subduction Zone Catastrophic Earthquake and Tsunami Response Plan
- Federal Response Plan built to incorporate our state needs and built to support Oregon based on our strengths/weaknesses/vulnerabilities.
- Communication & building working relationships with locals and federal partners pre-disaster will be instrumental in providing response post-disaster.

Cascadia Subduction Zone Catastrophic Earthquake and Tsunami Response Plan

Cascadia Subduction Zone Catastrophic Earthquake and Tsunami Response Plan

The Response Plan consists of 3 components:

Oregon Cascadia Subduction Zone Earthquake and Tsunami Operations Plan: This component contains the planning scenario, objectives, actions and tasks necessary to respond.

Individual ESF Annexes: The Emergency Support Functions (ESF) describe the hazard-specific concept of operations, actions, and responsibilities of state agencies.

Cascadia Subduction Zone Plan - County Response Information Annex: was developed after a series of ongoing meetings with counties, cities and other local responders in order to determine community response capabilities and likely needs post-event.

Cascadia Subduction Zone Catastrophic Earthquake and Tsunami Response Plan

Next steps:

Federal Plan Coordination

- Resource Allocation- Currently working with federal partners (in Region X and nation-wide) to determine amount of federal assets available
- Incorporation of federal plan findings into state response plan

Completion of Oregon County Information Annex

Continuing Updates to Plan as New Information Becomes Available

Exercise the Plan

Questions?