Laura,

In the public hearing for SB 941 this morning, Kevin Starrett included in his testimony an email from this office. Below is a response from our office that states we had originally thought the bill was similar to the old bill and thought that family members were included in gun transfers and trades. Kevin Starrett did not include my response which corrected this misunderstanding and did not provide the whole story. Provided that my email was included in public record, I wanted to include the full story.

Best,
Christina

We had just signed on to the bill and didn't know that it was updated to provide exemption to family members and extended family members.

Senator Hass,

Your previous reply revealed that your game plan is to ultimately require a background check even for family members. This is not a well thought out plan to solve a problem, it is a systematic attack against a right and a lifestyle that some find distasteful. Senate Bill 941 places a burden of time, effort, and money on law abiding citizens yet will have zero impact on criminal's access to firearms.

Please oppose Senate Bill 941.

Sincerely,
Stephen and Christine Meliza
