

Look, the farmer has a high value crop that that he or she needs to protect from from GMO pollination or simply does not want to grow GMO crop because he or she needs to continually buy seeds from the GMO company. It seems to me that agricultural choice and freedom from corporate domination of the seed choice should be honored. Please support that choice or corporate agriculture will dominate agriculture more than it does now.