Department of Human Services Vocational Rehabilitation Program

Vision

Every Oregonian with a disability, who desires to work, is given the opportunity and means.

Mission

Vocational Rehabilitation's (VR) mission is to assist Oregonians with disabilities to achieve, maintain and advance in employment and independence. VR partners with Oregonians with disabilities to gain employment through a variety of services designed to assist in identifying and mitigating the functional impediments created by disability.

Program

This is a state and federal program authorized by state law and the federal Rehabilitation Act of 1973, amended in 1998 and in 2014 by the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA).

VR helps Oregonians with disabilities gain employment through a variety of services. This includes helping youth with disabilities transition to jobs as they become adults; providing individualized counseling and supports to job seekers with disabilities to overcome barriers to employment; helping employers realize the benefit of employing diverse people with disabilities; and partnering with other state and local organizations that coordinate and provide equitable employment and workforce programs. Over 350,000 working-age Oregonians experience a disability, but approximately 35 percent are employed. Employment helps people with disabilities progress towards self-sufficiency, become involved in their communities, and live more engaged and satisfying lives.

All working-age Oregonians who experience a disability and are legally entitled to work are potentially eligible for VR services. Individuals who experience a medical, cognitive or psychiatric diagnosis that results in a functional impediment to employment are typically eligible. Recipients of Social Security disability benefits are presumed eligible for services.

Approximately 99 percent of all eligible clients currently served by VR are people with significant disabilities. These individuals experience multiple functional impediments requiring several services provided over an extended period.

VR has a diverse staff of counselors with expertise in the areas of intellectual and developmental disabilities (I/DD), deafness and hearing impairments, mental health, motivational interviewing, spinal injury, and traumatic brain injury. Additionally, the participant's cultural and linguistic needs are considered.

Individuals we serve

Vocational Rehabilitation employees provide direct services through a network of local offices across Oregon. For a list, see:

<http://www.oregon.gov/dhs/vr/Pages/officelocation.aspx>

Services are provided by rehabilitation counselors and support staff who deliver direct client services through 34 field offices and multiple single employee outstations in Work Source Oregon Centers and other human services agencies across the state. As the demographics in Oregon are changing, VR is adapting accordingly to provide culturally and linguistic services to Oregonians and to help diversify the State workforce.

VR Data:

- Helped 17,204 individuals and obtained 2,688 employment outcomes in fiscal year 2018.
- Contract with 120 school districts and consortia on behalf of 150 high schools to provide serves for approximately 1,300 students each year.
- Assisted 692 individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities (I/DD) and 378 individuals with psychiatric disabilities obtain jobs in federal fiscal year 2018. Of those 692 individuals with I/DD who obtained jobs, 408 are maintaining their job through supported employment services.
- The number of clients rehabilitated in VR by Race/Ethnicity for the state fiscal year 2018 breaks down to 37 American Indian or Alaskan Native, 266 Hispanic or Latino, 2143 White, 117 Multi-race, 72 African American, 8 Native Hawaiian or other Pacific Islander, and 45 Asian.
- VR staff in the field served 1255 Oregonians who reported some level of hearing loss as their primary disability. Of those, 499 labeled themselves “Deaf” and 710 labeled themselves “hard of hearing.” Consumers with hearing loss represented 7.4% of the total population served by VR during state fiscal year 2018

Services Provided

VR is designed under five primary areas: basic services, youth programs, supported employment, career counseling information and referral and independent living. In addition, VR is also engaged in Oregon's Employment First program in partnership with the Office of Developmental Disability Services and is actively engaged in improving workforce partnerships core partner in the state workforce programs.

Basic Services: These are basic services provided to individuals whose disabilities present a potential barrier to employment. A rehabilitation counselor conducts a comprehensive assessment to evaluate vocational potential, including diagnostic and related services necessary for the determination of eligibility for services as well as the nature and scope of services to be provided. Vocational counseling and guidance builds on this assessment and helps the client identify a vocational goal. The counselor, in partnership with the client, develops an individualized plan for employment and authorizes appropriate services in support of the plan while maintaining a counseling relationship with the client.

Youth Transition Program (YTP): YTP operates as a partnership between VR, the Oregon Department of Education (ODE), the University of Oregon's College of Education, and local Oregon school districts. At least 70 percent of students with disabilities in YTP complete high school and transition to a job or postsecondary education at a rate exceeding the national average. This internationally and nationally-recognized school-to-work transition approach is a best practice for young people with disabilities. YTP bridges the gap between school and work by providing coordinated vocational rehabilitation services while the student is in school and ensuring a smooth transition to adult services and employment after completion of school. YTP currently serves over 2,000 students in over 120 school districts through comprehensive VR services and pre-employment transition services.

Supported Employment Services: These services target individuals with the most significant disabilities for whom employment was not possible through traditional means, but who can obtain and maintain competitive employment in the community with the provision of job coaching and ongoing supports. Basic vocational rehabilitation services are provided on a time-limited basis for each client. Oregon Health Authority (OHA), the Office of Developmental Disability Services (ODDS), other community programs, families and private employers are responsible for the follow-along services once VR has completed placement and training services. Supported Employment Services combine traditional VR services and support services provided by job coaches, typically at job sites.

Career Counseling, Information and Referral (CCIR): The WIOA created these services in the 2014 update to the Rehabilitation Act. States began the sub-minimum wage projects in 2017. These services provide career counseling, information and referral to individuals (any age) known by VR to be employed at subminimum wage. Employers with 14C certificates from Department of Labor are allowed to employ individuals at less than minimum wage. These employers are required to provide information about training opportunities (self-advocacy, self-determination, and peer support); however, the employers are prohibited from providing the CCIR as this is a required function by VR. In 2018, the VR program provided CCIR to 997 individuals and 59% of these individuals indicated they are interested in competitive integrated employment opportunities.

Independent Living: Services are available through seven Centers for Independent Living (CILs). The CILs are nonprofit organizations that provide information and referral, independent living skills training, peer counseling, both systems and individual advocacy and transition services for youth. CILs also provide a range of services based on local needs, many of which compliment services provided through other state and federally funded programs. Services are provided through a peer-mentoring model, with an emphasis on self-help, self-advocacy, and consumer responsibility.

CILs are a federal program established in the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. Oregon's State Independent Living Council was established by Governor's Executive Order 94-12 in 1994. VR has the responsibility to:

- Receive, account for, and disburse funds received by the state;
- Provide administrative support services to the CILs;
- Keep records and provide access to such records as required by the Administration on Community Living (the Federal authority for the Independent Living program); and
- Fund and support the State Independent Living Council's resource plan

VR and the Work Incentive Network (WIN) provide benefits planning through a contract with the CILs. WIN was developed as a pilot project through a Medicaid Infrastructure Grant and provides benefits and work incentives planning to individuals with significant disabilities who want to obtain, maintain, or increase their employment, but should not lose other benefits and medical coverage. This allows people on disability benefits to become employed, gain more levels of self-sufficiency, become engaged in their communities, and live a higher quality of life. They also begin paying taxes and reduce reliance on publicly-funded services.

Employment First: Youth and adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities (I/DD) are significantly underrepresented in Oregon’s workforce. With appropriate services and assistance, most people with I/DD can work successfully in the community. The state is seeking to increase employment of people with I/DD in integrated workplaces through increased efforts around the Employment First policy and the Settlement Agreement (Lane v Brown) with targeted outcomes

The Governor’s Executive Order 13-04 and subsequent EO 15-01 directs state agencies and programs, including VR, DHS’ Office of Developmental Disability Services (ODDS) and the Oregon Department of Education (ODE), to increase community-based employment services for people with I/DD and to reduce state support of sheltered work. VR has specialized counselors around the state committed to working with people with I/DD to find employment in the community.

Tribal Partnerships: The General VR program continues to partner with and support the Tribal VR programs in the Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla, Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs, Confederated Tribes of Siletz, Confederated Tribes of Grand Ronde and the Klamath Tribes. Each tribe shares an individualized vision for its program and identifies how state VR can support delivering services to all Native Americans.

This collaboration includes:

- Sharing consumers with complex disability-based barriers to employment requiring specialized rehabilitation services
- Cross-training new VR counselors on the cultural customs specific to the tribal organization

- Joint rehabilitation trainings for state and Tribal VR counselors. Facilitation of Tribal VR directors and tribal leaders to meet with the Department of Human Services Director
- Sharing space within the WorkSource buildings

Workforce Partnerships: With the passage and implementation of the Workforce Opportunity and Innovation Act (WIOA) of 2014, VR has been identified as a core partner in the workforce system. VR has been working closely with the core workforce partners to create a system that is less siloed, more efficient, inclusive, equitable and diverse.

VR, DHS- Self Sufficiency Program (SSP), the Oregon Employment Department, local workforce development boards, and Adult Basic education programs around the state have been meeting to ensure all our services are aligned minimizing duplication and creating opportunities to expand services that meet the needs of our joint client. Moving towards this shared purpose has increased awareness of the needs of individuals with disabilities seeking employment while creating more opportunities for our clients in local economies.

VR continues to create opportunities for diverse individuals with disabilities to gain equitable access and benefit from various workforce strategies. Moving forward, VR will enhance employer outreach strategies to engage employers and conduct outreach and education to show that our diverse clients are reliable, dependable, and skilled workers who also happen to have disabilities. VR will also engage employers to provide work-based learning opportunities for all clients, including youth transitioning into post-secondary careers and apprenticeships.

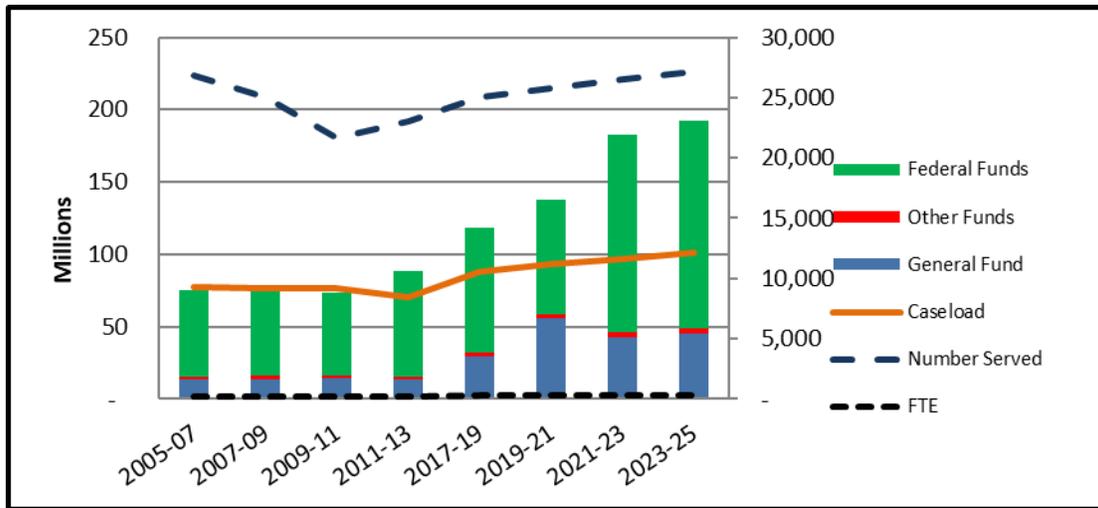

As part of our integration into the workforce system as a core partner, VR has representation on the nine local workforce development boards in the state. We also have a larger role with in the statewide Workforce and Talent Development Board. As a core member of the workforce system, VR and our workforce partners have developed and updated the unified state plan that guides our collaborative efforts to build an effective and strong workforce system.

Program Overview

Vocational Rehabilitation (VR) helps Oregonians with disabilities obtain, maintain, regain and advance in employment through counseling, specialized training and job placement. This includes helping youth with disabilities transition from the educational system to the workforce as they become adults, helping employers overcome barriers to employing people with disabilities, and partnering with other state and local organizations that coordinate employment and workforce programs. The public workforce system in Oregon, includes the following state agency partners: Oregon Employment Department (OED), Self Sufficiency Program (SSP), Vocational Rehabilitation (VR), and the Higher Education Coordinating Commission (HECC). Agencies work in conjunction with the governor’s office and Local Workforce Development Boards. A Workforce System Executive Team is tasked with communication among partners and ensuring system alignment.

A total of 303,115 working-age Oregonians, ages 18-64, experience a disability, but only 39 percent are employed (American Community Survey 2016 1 year estimates). Employment helps people with disabilities become more self-sufficient, involved in their communities, and live more engaged and satisfying lives.

All working-age Oregonians who experience a disability that creates a barrier to employment and are legally entitled to work are potentially eligible for VR services. Individuals who experience a medical, cognitive or psychiatric diagnosis that results in an impediment to employment typically are eligible for services. Recipients of Social Security disability benefits are presumed eligible for services. Approximately 95 percent of all eligible clients currently served by VR are people with significant disabilities. These individuals typically experience multiple functional limitations requiring several services provided over an extended period.

VR has counselors who specialize in the areas of intellectual and developmental disabilities (I/DD), deafness and hearing impairments, mental health, motivational intervention, spinal injury, and traumatic brain injury; however, the majority of VR counselors provide services to a wide array of Oregonians with disabilities.

Services are provided by rehabilitation counselors and support staff who deliver direct client services through 34 field offices and multiple single employee outstations in one-stop career centers and other human services agencies across the state.

Specialized services that help clients be as independent as possible are provided through seven Centers for Independent Living (CILs) located throughout the state. Both Information & Referral, as well as comprehensive services are provided.

VR staff work in partnership with community organizations and businesses to develop employment opportunities for people with disabilities. These activities range from live resume events and job fairs to presenting disability awareness workshops in local businesses. VR also offers business services that include consultations with employers about diversifying their workforces by hiring people with disabilities and pre-screening services to match employers with clients who are qualified, reliable job candidates.

Program Description

VR is designed under four primary areas: basic services, youth programs, supported employment, and independent living. VR is also engaged in Oregon's Employment First initiative. VR is a core partner in the implementation of the Workforce Innovations and Opportunities Act and is committed to improving access to the workforce system for Oregonians with disabilities. VR works with the Commission for the Blind and Oregon's Tribal VR (121) Programs.

Basic Services

These are basic services provided to individuals whose disabilities present an impediment to employment. The Vocational Rehabilitation Counselor (VRC) conducts a comprehensive assessment to evaluate vocational potential, including diagnostic and related services necessary for the determination of eligibility for services as well as the nature and scope of services to be provided. Vocational counseling and guidance builds on this assessment and helps the client identify a vocational goal. The counselor, in partnership with the client, develops an individualized plan for employment and authorizes services and training in support of the plan while maintaining a counseling relationship with the client.

Youth Transition Program (YTP)

YTP operates as a partnership between VR, the Oregon Department of Education (ODE), the University of Oregon's College of Education, and local Oregon school districts. At least 70 percent of students with disabilities in YTP complete high school and transition to a job or postsecondary education, a rate that exceeds the national average. This internationally and nationally recognized school-to-work transition approach is a best practice for young people with disabilities. Local YTP teams deliver pre-employment transition services so students can begin career exploration while they are still in school. These services include career counseling, counseling on postsecondary education and training options, work-based learning experience, work-readiness skills development and training in self-advocacy. YTP bridges the gap between school and work by providing coordinated vocational rehabilitation services while the student is in school and ensuring a smooth transition to adult services and employment after completion of school. YTP currently serves about 2,200 students in more than 120 school districts.

Supported Employment Services

These services enable Oregonians with the most significant disabilities, including youth with the most significant disabilities, to achieve and maintain competitive integrated employment. Vocational rehabilitation supported employment services (i.e., job coaching, training normally done at the job site) are time-limited, lasting from job placement until the individual is stable in their job and long-term supports are in place. Oregon Health Authority's Behavioral Services), Office of Developmental Disability Services (ODDS, community programs families or private employers provide long-term supports after the individual reaches job stabilization, which continue after the client has exited the VR Program.

Independent Living

Services are available through seven Centers for Independent Living (CILs). The CILs are nonprofit organizations that provide information and referral, independent living skills training, peer counseling, systems and individual advocacy, and services for transitions to community life – both for those at risk of or already living in institutions and for youth after high school. CILs also provide a range of services based on local needs, many of which complement services provided through other state and federally funded programs, such as the VR program. Services are provided through a peer-mentoring model, with an emphasis on self-help, self-advocacy, and consumer responsibility. CILs, along with Oregon's Area Agencies on Aging (AAAs), provide leadership statewide and nationally in the formation of the "No Wrong Door" experience for seniors and people with disabilities accessing long-term care supports and services via the Aging & Disabilities Resource Connection (ADRC) network.

Program Justification and Link to Focus Areas

VR assists individuals with disabilities to establish a foundation by identifying a personal vision, goals and steps necessary to achieve success in education and employment, and become independent, productive citizens. The VR program and the services provided primarily link to the governor's initiative relating to Safer and Healthier Communities. It has been shown that higher rates of employment result in healthier and safer communities. This is especially true, in regard to Oregonians with disabilities, who are underrepresented in the workforce. Secondly, by creating better access to the workforce system, we are increasing the number of employable Oregonians, many of whom bring in skills and attributes necessary to today's economy, thereby contributing to a Thriving Oregon Economy.

Employment and Jobs

- The VR Program has developed a plan in partnership with the workforce system as defined by the Workforce Innovations and Opportunities Act (WIOA) which includes goals regarding employment outcomes for clients, to increase skills upgrading and certification of Oregonians with disabilities seeking employment
- As a result of the Lane v. Brown Settlement, the state is seeking to increase employment of people with intellectual and developmental disabilities (I/DD) in integrated workplaces through increased efforts around the Employment First initiative. The Governor's Executive Order 15-01 and the Settlement Agreement directs state agencies and programs, including VR, DHS' Office of Developmental Disabilities Services (ODDS) and the Oregon Department of Education (ODE), to increase community-based employment services for people with I/DD and to reduce state support of sheltered work. VR has specialized counselors around the state committed to working with people with I/DD to find employment in the community.
- VR assisted 661 people with I/DD and 690 individuals with psychiatric disabilities to obtain jobs in federal fiscal 2017
- In federal fiscal year 2017, 2,827 individuals obtained and maintained work through the basic rehabilitation program. VR Employer Services provides training and technical assistance to employers for new hires and incumbent workers, and identifies and refers qualified candidates. A 2013 Portland State University study found that VR returned $4.03 in tax revenues to the state of Oregon for every $1 spent in the program.
- VR continues to contract and collaborate with the Latino Connection program in reaching out to and providing specialized job placements services to native Spanish-speaking individuals with disabilities. The focus of these services has been in Portland, Clackamas, Salem and Woodburn, which have large Latino communities. This program had a 67.6 percent rehabilitation rate in federal fiscal year 2017.

- VR is continuing to increase community engagement with communities of color, non- or limited-English speaking communities and other communities across the state. VR works with DHS to provide information in alternative formats and language to communities across the state.

Program Performance

Vocational Rehabilitation measures its performance primarily by employment outcomes. Employment outcomes are defined as the number of individuals who obtained and successfully maintained employment for a minimum of 90 days. The chart below shows employment outcomes for the program since FFY2012.

The Workforce Innovation and Opportunities Act of 2015 added several measures with emphasis on long-term employment. The graph below displays some of the new measures the program will be expected to achieve.

Education

- The internationally-recognized Youth Transition Program has expanded to more than 120 school districts in Oregon. More than 70 percent of students with disabilities in YTP complete high school and transition to a job or postsecondary education, a rate that exceeds the national average. YTP bridges the gap between school and entry into the work by providing coordinated vocational rehabilitation services while the student is in school and ensuring a smooth transition to adult services and employment after completion of school. YTP currently serves about 2,200 students in more than 120 school districts.

- VR utilizes Supported Employment, an evidence-based model, which allows individuals with developmental and intellectual disabilities to work in competitive employment in the community with needed supports.
- The Independent Living program partners with schools and families to support the transition of students with disabilities to secondary education and/or work.
- Memorandums of Agreement with the Office of Developmental Disabilities Services and the Oregon Department of Education are designed to more effectively align transition services, identify opportunities to braid and leverage funding in order to increase the number of students with disabilities.
- Introduction of services in partnership with ODE to meet WIOA requirements to expend 15 percent of our Federal funds to meet Pre-Employment Transition Services as required by the WIOA.

Safety

- Centers for Independent Living (CILs) train seniors and people with disabilities to develop personal preparedness plans and on empowerment and safety as a preventative for crime and abuse often faced by these populations.
- CILs also provide training and mentoring to parents with disabilities, which enhances skills for management of their homes and families.

Oregon's seven CILs continue to be innovative catalysts to independence for people with disabilities in Oregon. Leveraging community partnership funds and empowering people with disabilities with peer supports, CILs provide a return on investment (ROI) for Oregonians estimated at 220%. The ROI is based on an analysis by the Association of Centers for Independent Living conducted in 2016, comparing cost savings from consumers served versus the State's IL program investment. The chart below shows Independent Living Program outcomes since 2012.

Independent Living Program

| YEAR                  | FY2017 | FY2016 | FY2015 | FY2014 | FY2013 | FY2012 |

*A three-year study of reasons consumers gave for not achieving their goals during the year identified that a significant portion of consumers believed they just needed more time.

Enabling Legislation/Program Authorization

VR is a state and federal program authorized by Oregon state law (ORS 344.511 et seq.) and the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act of 2014.

The Independent Living Program is a federal program established in Title VII of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, and regulated by the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 45, and Part 1329. In conjunction, Oregon's State Independent Living Council was established in 1994 by Governor's Executive Order 94-12. VR is listed as the designated state entity for this program in the State Plan for Independent Living, per Section 704 of Title VII.

Funding Streams

VR is funded through the federal Department of Education. It receives a formula-based grant with Match and Maintenance of Effort requirements. The match rate for Vocational Rehabilitation is 21.3 percent General Fund; 78.7 percent Federal Fund. For Independent Living the match rate is 10 percent General Fund; 90 percent Federal Fund. Grant dollars cannot be utilized by other programs. Program income, which is reinvested back into VR, includes Social Security reimbursement and Youth Transition Program grants.

FUNDING JUSTIFICATION AND SIGNIFICANT CHANGES to 19-21 CSL

The Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA), calls for Oregon Vocational Rehabilitation to collaborate with school districts to provide, or arrange for the provision of, pre-employment transition services (Pre-ETS) for all students with disabilities who are eligible or potentially eligible for VR services. Further, WIOA states that there must be local coordination with districts for Pre-ETS at all 16 VR branch offices. The Oregon Department of Education and VR estimate that the target population for Pre-ETS to be roughly 27,000 students with disabilities.

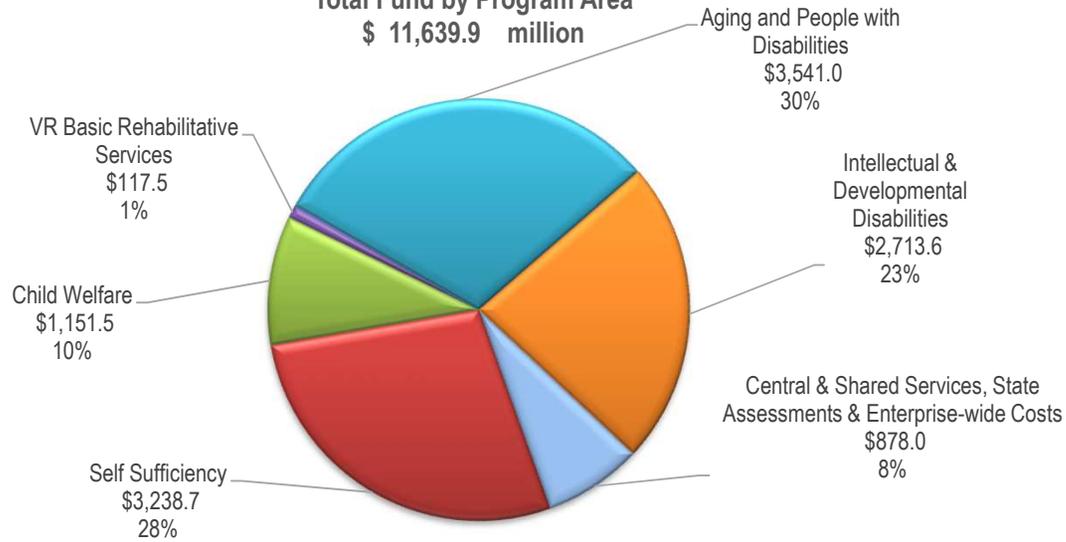

Currently Oregon VR has two Pre-Employment Transition Service Coordinators that provide direct services to students with disabilities in the state. One is based in the Portland Metro area and the other is based in Bend with the responsibility of covering the eastern part of the state. Neither of these positions have enough capacity to cover the entire state and deliver the mandated services by WIOA. Therefore, we are requesting the position authority to hire two more Pre-Employment Transition Service Coordinators (PA1) to meet this need and one OPA1 to handle the data entry elements of this mandate.

This POP would utilize funds already within VRs budget so this will be a zero cost or, cost neutral POP.

Additional Changes:

Federal fund limitation was added for use of one-time ReAllotment revenues ($4,446,741).

Aging and People with Disabilities Program

Mission

To help Oregonians in their own communities achieve well-being and independence through opportunities that protect, empower, respect choice and preserve dignity.

Vision

Oregon's older adults, people with physical disabilities and their families have convenient access to services, support and early interventions that help maintain independence, promote well-being, honor choice, respect cultural and linguistic preferences and uphold dignity.

Goals

To ensure that:

- Older adults and people with disabilities feel safe, respected and are able to live independently
- Services meet changing needs and are easily accessible
- All services are equity based and focused on the individual and their own communities
- The program is innovative, preventive and demonstrates high quality outcomes
- Oregon continues to be a national leader in supporting broad, transparent collaboration with consumers and stakeholders

Individuals we serve

During the 2019-2021 biennium, we expect to serve:

- More than 5,000 people age 60 and older through Oregon Project Independence
- More than 34,000 older adults and people with physical disabilities per month with long-term care services paid through Medicaid. That includes more than 1,277 Oregonians who identify as African American, more than 1,400 who identify as Asian, more than 1,400 who identify as Hispanic, more than 521 who identify as Native American, more than 94 who identify as Pacific Islanders

- About 227,000 older individuals through Older Americans Act services.
- More than 150,000 Oregonians with direct financial support services.
- Approximately 43,000 Oregonians who live in APD-licensed, long-term care facilities

Aging and Disability Resource Connection

Oregonians needing information and referral services about any APD programs or services can contact the Aging and Disability Resource Connection (ADRC) of Oregon. This collaborative, public-private partnership streamlines consumer access to a complicated and confusing aging and disability service delivery system. ADRC provides culturally and linguistically appropriate services which are free to Oregonians and raise visibility and awareness of the full range of options available. The ADRC provides trusted information and assistance and empowers people to make informed decisions.

Through trained options counselors, Oregonians can develop action plans to address long-term services and supports needs that align with consumer preferences, their financial situation, strengths, values and needs. If a person is likely to be eligible for Medicaid long-term care services, they will be referred to APD local offices or Area Agencies on Aging (AAAs) for a full assessment.

Employees from both APD local offices and AAAs throughout Oregon provide direct client services. Employees also determine eligibility around the aging and people with disabilities population for medical programs provided through the single state Medicaid agency, Oregon Health Authority (OHA). During the last biennium, the ADRC received more than 131,000 calls and 160,000 web hits.

APD is impacted by demographic growth in the older adult population and is increasingly serving a more diverse population. APD strives to identify disparities in outcomes for diverse populations and identify effective strategies to serve all individuals in a culturally and linguistically appropriate manner.

Adult Protective Services

APD and Type B AAA offices are responsible for investigating instances of abuse against older adults and persons with physical disabilities across the state. Elder abuse, and other adult abuse, is costly both from a human and financial perspective. A person who has experienced abuse is likely to have increased health and long-term care costs. In Oregon, there are an estimated 540,000 adults potentially at risk and in need of adult protective services from APD. In 2016, there were more than 21,800 allegations of abuse and self-neglect investigated, resulting in 5,452 substantiations. Financial exploitation and neglect remain the most common forms of abuse for people served by APD.

Licensing

The APD Safety, Oversight and Quality Unit (SOQ) licenses many providers of long-term care for people who are aging and physically disabled. These providers range across the continuum of care. Through diligent oversight, investigation of complaints and reports of potential abuse, and corrective action, SOQ reduces future instances of unsafe conditions and improves the quality of care. These services are most effective when they are provided in a quality model aimed at preventing harm in the first place to protect the safety and health of vulnerable Oregonians.

The providers licensed by SOQ include adult foster homes, assisted living facilities, residential care facilities, nursing homes, conversion facilities, intensive intervention care facilities and facilities with memory care endorsements. SOQ ensures service equity and delivery of culturally and linguistically appropriate services.

Medicaid Services

In Oregon, approximately 35,000 older adults and people with physical disabilities use Medicaid long-term services provided through APD each month, with about 38,200 forecasted for the 2019-2021 biennium. By federal law, each state must develop criteria for access to nursing facility care paid by Medicaid. Criteria must include financial and asset tests as well as service eligibility criteria. The federal government, through Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS), must approve any state criteria.

Older adults and many individuals with disabilities need assistance from other people to perform daily activities. To accurately identify those who need assistance, DHS created service priority levels (SPLs) to establish eligibility for Medicaid long-term services and supports. SPLs prioritize services for older adults and people with physical disabilities whose well-being and survival would be in jeopardy without services. Level 1 reflects the most impaired while Level 17 reflects the least impaired; levels are based on the ability of the person to perform activities of daily living (ADLs). ADLs are personal activities required for continued well-being. These include mobility, eating, toileting, cognition and personal hygiene. Prior to 2003, DHS served individuals through SPL 17. Since then, because of budget constraints, only levels 1-13 are funded.

APD assists thousands of Oregonians — who require ADL services and instrumental activities of daily living (IADL) services, which include housekeeping and meal preparation — in selecting competent providers and establishing effective working relationships. Due to the increasingly diverse population served, the program requires supports that are equally diverse, and linguistically and culturally appropriate.

Programs

APD's budget is sectioned into three key areas; program services, program design and program delivery.

Program Services

Program services focus on supporting fundamental ADLs such as bathing, dressing, mobility, cognition, eating and personal hygiene. Long-term services ensure that the person is living in a safe and healthy environment. All services promote choice, independence and dignity. Services can be provided in nursing facilities, or community settings such as residential care, assisted living, memory care, foster homes or in the person's own home.

Services are provided through six programs:

- Older Americans Act
- Oregon Project Independence
- Special circumstances support
- In-home services
- Community-based care facilities including adult foster homes

- Nursing facilities

Older Americans Act: This is a federal program and is administered through APD. It provides federal funding for locally developed support programs for individuals 60 and older. APD distributes funds to local Area Agencies on Aging (AAAs) for service delivery through subcontractors. About 227,000 Oregonians currently access these services. The AAAs develop services that meet the needs and preferences unique to individuals in their local area. Program mandates require services target those with the most significant economic and social need, to minorities and those residing in rural areas. There is no income or asset requirements to receive services except those related to the Senior Community Service Employment Program (SCSEP).

APD distributes federal funds to the AAAs using a federally approved intra-state funding formula based on each area's demographics and square mileage. APD encourages and incentivizes culturally-specific and linguistically competent supports within all programs. Programs might include; family caregiver supports, medication management, nutrition via congregate and home-delivered meal programs, senior employment, legal services or elder abuse prevention services. They may also provide assistance to senior centers and sponsor and promote evidence-based wellness and chronic health condition management activities.

Oregon Project Independence (OPI): This is a state-funded program offering culturally-specific and linguistically competent in-home services and related supports to individuals 60 years of age and older or people who have been diagnosed with Alzheimer's or a related dementia disorder. Approximately 5,000 Oregonians receive service's. It represents a critical element in Oregon's strategy to prevent or delay individuals from leaving their own homes to receive services in more expensive facility-based settings, or depleting their personal assets sooner than necessary and accessing more expensive Medicaid health and long-term service benefits. The program was expanded by the 2005 Oregon Legislature to include younger adults with disabilities but funding was not provided. In 2014 and 2015 a pilot program was funded expanding the program to adults ages 19-59 with physical disabilities. Through this pilot more than 500 individuals have been served.

OPI is administered statewide by local Area Agencies on Aging (AAAs). Many areas have waiting lists due to high demand and limited program funding. Client eligibility is determined by an assessment of functional ability and natural supports related to activities of daily living. Typical services include assistance with housekeeping, bathing, grooming, health care tasks, meal preparation, caregiver respite, chore services, adult day services and transportation.

The OPI program has no financial asset limitations. A sliding fee scale is applied to clients with net monthly income between 100 and 200 percent of the federal poverty level (FPL) to pay toward the cost of service. A small group with income above 200 percent of FPL pays the full rate for services provided.

Generally, this is because they benefit from the case management; ongoing support and monitoring, in addition to the actual purchased services.

Special circumstances support: APD has programs designed to meet a variety of special circumstances for certain low-income populations.

- General assistance (GA) program: With this program, APD serves individuals with severe disabilities who are experiencing homelessness or who are at risk of homelessness. To be eligible for the GA program, individuals must meet all of the following criteria:
  - Be homeless or at risk of homelessness;
  - Be an adult, age 18-64, with no minor children living with them;
  - Have a severe disability that meets Social Security disability criteria;
  - Be receiving Presumptive Medicaid medical assistance;
  - Meet all eligibility criteria for Supplemental Security Income (SSI);
  - Apply for SSI and appeal any denials received; and
  - Sign an Interim Assistance Agreement (IAR), allowing DHS to recover GA funds paid to them once awarded SSA benefits

General assistance program benefits include up to $545 per month in housing assistance, $90 in utility assistance per month, $60 in cash assistance per month, and free assistance with the Social Security application and appeals process.

- Cash payments – special needs: APD is required to meet maintenance of effort (MOE) payment for low-income aged and disabled Oregonians who receive federal Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits. These benefits are focused on payments that allow clients to retain independence and mobility in a safe environment. Examples of special needs payments include help for non-medical transportation, repairs of broken appliances such as a furnace, or for such things as adapting home stairs into a ramp.

- Employed Persons with Disabilities Program (EPD): This program allows people with a disability to work to their full extent and not lose Medicaid coverage. To be eligible, a person must be deemed to have a disability by Social Security Administration criteria, be employed and have adjusted income of less than 250 percent of FPL. Eligible individuals pay a monthly participation fee and are eligible for the full range of Medicaid benefits and services. APD currently serves 2,034 individuals in the EPD program.
- Other benefits: The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) requires DHS to coordinate with Medicare in many areas and clients need help accessing other programs for which they are eligible. The federal Medicare program is the most common program clients need assistance with. APD determines client eligibility and submits client data to CMS for two Medicare-related programs: Medicare buy-in and Medicare Part D low-income subsidy. APD served more than 130,000 clients in these two programs over one year. These programs help low-income beneficiaries with their cost-sharing requirements. Securing this coverage also ensures Medicare remains in a “first payor” status, ultimately saving the state’s Medicaid program significant money.

In-home services: In-home services are the cornerstone of Oregon's community-based care system. For older adults or people with physical disabilities, supporting regular activities of daily living gives them the ability to live in their own homes. For more than 25 years, Oregon has created options to meet people’s needs in their own homes. All options are funded Medicaid program support through home- and community-based waivers or state plan options. Oregon has been able to create cost-effective programs that meet people’s needs in their homes and other community settings and sparing Oregonians from the unnecessary use of much higher cost services, primarily offered in nursing facilities.

Services to older adults and people with physical disabilities are designed to support assistance with fundamental activities of daily living (ADLs), such as mobility, cognition, eating, personal hygiene, dressing, toileting and bathing. To receive in-home services, an individual must be financially eligible for Medicaid.

A case manager works with the client and together they identify needs and develop a plan for the in-home services.

- Medicaid client-employed Home Care Workers: Home Care Workers (HCW) are hired directly by the client and provide many of the services Medicaid clients need to remain in their own homes. The client, or his or her selected representative, is responsible for performing the duties of an employer. These duties include selecting, hiring and providing on-site direction in the performance of the care provider duties authorized by a case manager to meet the client's individual needs and circumstances. The HCW must pass a criminal background check. In conjunction with the client, APD develops and authorizes a service plan, makes payment to the HCW on behalf of the client and provides ongoing contact with the client to ensure his or her service needs are met. More than 19,000 clients are expected to receive services supplied by HCWs each month in 2019-21.

The Oregon Home Care Commission (HCC) was established in 2000 by an amendment to the Oregon Constitution. It is a public commission dedicated to ensuring high-quality home care services to APD clients using client-employed providers. Service Employees International Union Local 503, Oregon Public Employees Union, represents approximately 17,000 HCWs. For purposes of collective bargaining, HCC serves as the HCW employer of record. The Commission maintains a statewide, computerized registry of workers and provides an extensive training curriculum. The HCC also makes training available to clients to better understand their employer responsibilities and increase their skill in managing the use of HCWs.

- In-home agency services: Many clients prefer to receive their in-home services through a home care agency. In-home agencies are licensed by the Oregon Health Authority. These agencies employ, assign and schedule caregivers to perform the tasks authorized by the client's case manager. APD contracts with licensed in-home care agencies throughout the state. Agencies work closely with DHS case managers and clients to ensure services are provided as authorized and to ensure the quality of the work performed.
- Medicaid Independent Choices: This program offers a choice to clients in the way they receive in-home services and increases clients' self-direction and independence. Clients receive a cash benefit based on their assessed need. They purchase and directly pay for services. Clients are responsible for locating providers, paying their employees, and withholding and paying necessary taxes. Depending upon how they are able to manage their service benefit, many are able to purchase a few additional services or items otherwise not covered by Medicaid to increase their independence or well-being.

- Medicaid adult day services: These services provide supervision and care for clients with functional or cognitive impairments. Service may be provided for half or full days in stand-alone centers, hospitals, senior centers and licensed care facilities.
- Medicaid home-delivered meals: Home-delivered meals are provided for to those who are homebound and unable to go to sites, such as senior centers, for meals. These programs generally provide a hot midday meal and, often, frozen meals for days beyond the provider's delivery schedule.
- Medicaid (state plan) personal care services: Individuals who do not meet service priority levels (SPLs), but have some personal care needs, may qualify for Medicaid Personal Care Services. Services are limited to no more than 20 hours a month. Personal care can be used only for tasks related to the performance of activities of daily living, such as mobility, bathing, grooming, eating and personal health assistance.
- Medicaid specialized living services: Services are provided to a specialized client base, such as those with traumatic brain injuries or other specific disabilities that require a live-in attendant or other 24-hour care. The services are provided through a contract with APD and targeted to a specific group of clients living in their own apartments, and assisted by a specialized program offering direct service and structured supports.

Community-based facilities: These include a variety of 24-hour care settings and services to provide an alternative to nursing facilities. Services include assistance with activities of daily living, medication oversight and social activities. Services can include nursing and behavioral supports to meet complex needs. State and federal guidelines related to health and safety of these facilities have to be met.

- Adult foster homes: Services are provided in home-like settings licensed for five or fewer individuals who are not related to the foster home provider. Homes may specialize in certain services, such as serving ventilator-dependent residents.
- Assisted living and residential care facilities: Licensed 24-hour service settings serve six or more residents and facilities range in size from six to more than 100 beds. The difference between residential care and assisted living is generally in the structural set up of the facility and the fact that generally in residential care, individuals have shared rooms. Either type of facility can seek a Memory Care endorsement on top of the underlying licensure. There are additional requirements for Memory Care Facilities. Registered nurse consultation services are required.
- Conversion facilities: A conversion facility is a nursing facility that has decided to “convert” its license to that of a residential care facility. The facility must go through the federal process of “closing” the nursing facility before going through a state process for “converting” the building to a residential care facility.
- Intensive intervention care facilities: Intensive Intervention Care (IIC) facilities are small residential care facilities designed to serve individuals with high behavioral and mental health needs. Five or fewer people can live in a single IIC home.
- Enhanced care services: Specialized 24-hour programs in licensed care settings that provide intensive behavioral supports for seniors and people with physical disabilities who have needs that cannot be met in any other setting. These programs support clients with combined funding from APD and the Addictions and Mental Health division of the Oregon Health Authority.
- Memory Care Community Endorsement: These facilities are licensed as an Assisted Living Facility or Residential Care Facility or Nursing Facility and serve individuals with Alzheimer’s disease, other forms of dementia and other cognitive diseases. They are required to have enhanced training and a more secure setting for their residents. The endorsement is in addition to the underlying licensure.

- Providence Elder Place: This is a capped Medicare/Medicaid Program of All-inclusive Care for the Elderly (PACE) providing an integrated program for medical and long-term services. Nearly 1,400 Oregonians age 55 and older are served in this program that generally allows them to attend adult day services and live in a variety of settings. The Elder Place program is responsible for providing and coordinating their clients' full health and long-term service needs in all of these settings.
- LGBTQ Welcoming Designation: This equity-related initiative allows providers to be trained in the specific needs of LGBTQ older adults and to become designated as LGBTQ Welcoming. Providers must agree to maintain a code of conduct and have all providers agree to it. There are yearly continuing education requirements, and participants receive a Welcome sticker for the front of their home. This initiative helps to promote the availability of safe, supportive, and respectful living environments for LGBTQ older adults.

Nursing facilities: Institutional services for older adults and people with physical disabilities are provided in nursing facilities licensed and regulated by DHS. Nursing facilities provide individuals with skilled nursing services, housing, related services and ongoing assistance with activities of daily living.

Oregon has led the nation since 1981 in the development of lower cost alternatives to institutional (nursing facility) care. Home- and community-based alternatives to nursing facility services emphasize independence, dignity and choice and offer needed services and supports equitably, at lower costs than medical models.

Program Design

Staff and services support the administration of APD programs, including:

- Central leadership and administration
- Medicaid eligibility and federal waiver administration
- Development and maintenance of policy and administrative rules
- Formation and staffing of the APD Service Equity Committee
- Support and leadership for various advisory councils.
- Administration of the Older Americans Act

- Home Care Commission

Program Delivery

Staff and services provide direct services to Oregonians, including:

- Direct service staff located in local offices throughout the state
- Case management
- Presumptive Medicaid Disability Determination Team
- State Family/ Pre-SSI
- Disability Determination Services
- Administration of Medicare Modernization Act and Buy-in programs
- Provider payments and relations
- Adult Protective Services investigations
- Adult Foster Home, Nursing Facility and Community Based Care licensing
- Long term care referral services registry

Eligibility and case management services are delivered throughout the state by APD and Area Agency on Aging (AAA) employees. ORS Chapter 410 allows AAAs to determine which populations they wish to serve and which programs they wish to administer. Type B Transfer AAAs choose to provide Medicaid services in addition to Older Americans Act and OPI services. In areas where the AAAs (Type A - AAAs) do not provide Medicaid services, APD has local offices to serve older adults and people with disabilities.

APD and AAA case managers perform a variety of roles in serving older adults and people with disabilities. They determine financial and long-term care eligibility, assist individuals in developing person-centered service plans, and find qualified providers. They address issues and concerns regarding providers. They act as advocates and champions for consumer rights. They assist individuals in accessing supports available through APD and other programs. In short, case managers are the front line in protecting individuals from abuse and neglect.

APD case managers face ever increasingly complex work. In just the past five years, APD implemented Waivered Case Management expectations requiring monthly contact on every case. Due to changes to the Fair Labor Standards Act, APD added more responsibilities on working with homecare workers, including managing hourly caps, limiting overtime and ensuring access to adequate services. Based on federal expectations, APD has also increased expectations on person-centered planning and ensuring individuals safety. Legal requirements have made notices more complex and detailed, requiring more case management time to issue each notice.

History

During the past 30 years, there has been a profound shift in society's understanding of the importance of independence for aging and people with disabilities.

Traditionally, states had provided services to these individuals in institutional settings such as nursing facilities. Oregon's first nursing facility opened in the 1940s. With the passage of the federal statute creating Medicaid, the state began to pay for nursing facility services for eligible individuals in the 1960s.

The Older Americans Act also passed in the 1960s, which over time, has expanded additional protections and services to vulnerable older adults, including access to home-delivered meals, senior centers, transportation, family caregiver support, legal services and the Office of the Long Term Care Ombudsman to uphold rights and resolve complaints.

Professional standards and public thinking about how to best serve people with disabilities began to change and community living became more accessible. Civil rights were strengthened and expanded by the Americans with Disabilities Act, in the areas of employment, public accommodations, transportation and housing. Community integration, a right, became more available as accessibility increased and society began to accept people with disabilities as part of the community. Families had the ability to remain intact and to keep their loved ones — child, adult or senior — at home.

Federal dollars to fund Medicaid waivers first became available in 1981 for "Home and Community-Based Services." That same year, the Oregon Legislature updated its policies around disabilities and found that significant numbers of people with disabilities lived in institutions because adequate community services did not exist. The Legislature mandated that the state work to empower people with disabilities, keep them as independent as possible, and develop service settings as alternatives. The 1981 Oregon Legislature also created the Senior Services Division and a strong statutory mandate to support seniors in their own homes and community settings outside of institutions. This action forged the way for Oregon to lead the nation in the development of lower-cost alternatives to institutional care.

In response to that mandate, Oregon applied for, and received, the first home and community-based waiver that allowed Medicaid funds to provide long-term services outside an institution. Throughout the 1980s and 1990s, Oregon received waivers that allowed services for unique groups of people. For Medicaid-eligible older adults and people with disabilities in Oregon, this has meant that the provision of long-term care has, in large measure, shifted away from nursing facilities to in-home services, assisted living facilities, residential care facilities and adult foster homes.

Future populations

The aging population is growing rapidly, and the Program is planning appropriately. The number of people 65 and older in the United States is expected to increase to 55 million in 2020, to 70 million by 2030, and to 88.5 million — or 20 percent of the population — in 2050.

The aging population in Oregon will continue a dramatic increase as baby-boomers continue to enter retirement age. Beginning in 2011, the aging population growth rate will exceed 4 percent annually for nearly a decade. There will be 48 percent more older adults in 2020 than in 2010.

Women currently account for 54 percent of the 65-84 years of age population, and 63 percent of the 85 years of age and older population. Approximately 4.9% of Oregonians identify as LGBTQ.

In 2016, approximately 17 percent of Oregon's population was 65 years or older. By 2030, the percentage is expected to increase to nearly 20 percent.

In Oregon, people 85 years or older make up a small but rapidly growing segment of the total population. By the end of 2010, approximately 76,000 Oregonians will have reached 85. By 2020, the number is expected to reach nearly 120,000, an increase of almost 64 percent.

By 2020, in the Portland Metro Area, the African American population is expected to grow to 81,348, with 14.4% of the population expected to be age 65 and over. The Native American population is expected to grow to 33,754, with 15% of the population expected to be age 65 and over. The Asian population is expected to grow to 188,033, with 16.4% of the population expected to be age 65 and over. The Pacific Islander and Hawaiian population is expected to grow to 17,217, with 9.6% of the population expected to be age 65 and over. The Hispanic/Latino population is expected to grow to 349,822, with 6.2% of the population expected to be age 65 and over.

A focus on service equity and diversity, including individuals of different races, ethnicities, genders, sexual orientation, disability, age and other under-served populations, will create new approaches to service delivery that ensure all individuals have access to critical supports and services and achieve desired outcomes. Current initiatives include a focus on language access, district-level Service Equity plans, and Tribal outreach and partnership.

Older Americans Act funding comes primarily from the federal government. In 2011, OAA funding helped serve nearly 380,000 Oregonians.

Program Overview

Services and supports provided to individuals under the Older Americans Act (OAA) provide vital assistance designed to prevent or delay entry into Medicaid-funded long-term care such as In-Home or 24-hour residential services. The OAA is a Federal law that set out a national aging network structure consisting of the U.S. Administration on Aging (AoA) now part of the Administration for Community Living, State Units on Aging (DHS/Aging and People with Disabilities program), and Area Agencies on Aging (AAAs). The OAA authorizes funding and services through this network to serve older individuals in their homes and communities, through local entities. All individuals, aged 60 or older, regardless of income are eligible to receive services but the programs are targeted towards those in greatest social or economic need. A specific focus on how to better serve diverse populations of older adults across race/ethnicity, sexual orientation, gender, veteran status, and other intersecting categories are essential with the continually changing demographics of Oregon.

Program Description

Older Americans Act services are administered entirely by local Area Agencies on Aging. To qualify for OAA supported services an individual must meet the following criteria:

- Be 60 years of age or older;
- Be a caregiver of someone 60 years of age or older (or younger if the person is diagnosed with Alzheimer’s Disease or related dementia) or an older relative caring for a child 18 year of age or younger or an individual with disabilities age 18 or older;
- Be 55 or older and have an adjusted income at or below 125 percent of Federal Poverty Level for the Senior Community Service Employment Program (Title V).

Please Note: There is no income or asset/resource criteria for eligibility, except for the Senior Community Service Employment Program (Title V).

The Older Americans Act authorizes services and funding by title

Title III

Supportive Services

Provides assistance to maintain independence through assisted transportation, information and referral/assistance, in-home care, adult day care, chore services, home modification and other housing help, legal assistance, mental health outreach, and assistive devices. Title III also partially funds Oregon's Aging and Disability Resource Connection (ADRC), which provides unbiased information, referral, and options counseling for individuals (consumers, family members, caregivers) needing long-term services and supports.

Nutrition Services

In order to reduce hunger and food insecurity and promote socialization, health, and well-being the Act authorizes both home-delivered (commonly known as Meals on Wheels) and congregate (community setting, senior center, community center, etc.) meals programs. The Act also provides nutrition education and counseling.

Services Incentive Program (NSIP)

Supplements funding authorized under Title III for food used in meals served under the Older Americans Act. States receive an allocation based on the number of meals served under the OAA in the state in proportion to the total number of meals served by all states.

Preventive Health Services

Authorizes evidence-based programs that promote healthy lifestyles through physical activity, appropriate diet and nutrition and self-management of chronic health conditions.

National Family Caregiver Support Program

Provides individual and group options counseling, training, and respite care for family members and friends who are primary caregivers to seniors. This program also provides support to older relatives and raising grandchildren.

Title V

Senior Community Service Employment Program (SCSEP)

Authorizes a community service and work-based training program for older workers that provides subsidized, service-based training for low-income persons 55 or older who are unemployed and have poor employment prospects.

Participants are paid minimum wage for approximately 20 hours per week while they develop valuable skills and connections to help them find and keep jobs in their communities. Title V funding is awarded to DHS/APD from the U.S.

Department of Labor and is competitively sub-granted to a qualified job training organization.

Title VII

Elder Rights Services

Provides a focus on the physical, mental, emotional and financial well-being of older Americans. Services include pension counseling, legal assistance, and elder abuse prevention education.

Ombudsman Program

Establishes an Office of the State Long-Term Care Ombudsman program to identify, investigate, and resolve complaints made by or on behalf of residents of licensed care facilities (nursing homes, assisted living, and adult foster homes) and promote system changes that will improve the quality of life and care for residents. The allocation for this program is 100 percent passed through to the Office of the Long-Term Care Ombudsman, a separate state agency from APD.

OAA Funding

OAA funding is granted to each State Unit on Aging (DHS/APD) based on a population formula. The State Unit on Aging sub-grants Title III funds to Oregon's 17 designated Area Agencies on Aging (AAA) based on a state population formula. The AAAs work with their local communities to assess and develop a menu of services that meet the needs of older adults in their planning and service area. Subsequently, the AAA submits an Area Plan to the State describing the delivery of OAA services in their communities; this is basis for the funding agreement between the AAA and DHS/APD.

Program Justification and Link to Focus Areas

OAA program services contribute to the Safer, Healthier Communities goal. The OAA, in partnership with providers and clients, provides vital support for older adults who are at significant risk of losing their independence by providing food, job training/opportunities, social support, transportation, chronic disease self-management and fall prevention.

Annual State Program reports are submitted to the Administration on Community Living, consisting of service unit data and client demographics. Evidence-based programs supported by the preventive health services funding under Title III have provided an opportunity to demonstrate health care cost-saving based on the research supporting the programs. The Senior Community Service Employment Program tracks six performance measures each year including employment and retention. Performance standards and measures have recently been established for the Aging and Disability Resource Connections Program and will be tracked appropriately.

Program Performance

- Number of people served/items produced
OAA data reporting requires AAAs to capture identifiable unduplicated clients who receive “registered services” and an estimated number of clients receiving “non-registered services.” Registered services include personal care, home care, chore, meals, day care, case management, assisted transportation, caregiver, and nutrition counseling. Non-registered services include but are not limited to information and assistance, health promotion programs, group education, etc. The estimated number of non-registered service clients is 5-6 times that of the registered services clients (e.g. in 2017 OAA served 41,743 registered clients and an estimated 192,296 non-registered participants).
- Quality of the services provided
Program standards have been established for the major services and annual program monitoring is conducted.
- Timeliness of services provided
The Family Caregiver Support Program of the OAA is the only service area that consistently encounters wait lists.
- Cost per service unit
Varies depending on the level of community support, the OAA funding on average supports about one-third of the cost of service. Further funding comes from local governments, donations, and fundraising.

The following are selected examples of program performance for the OAA:

Enabling Legislation/Program Authorization

Federal Law: 45 CFR, Part 1321.

Funding Streams

OAA funds are 100 percent federal. The law has a required Maintenance of Effort and state match of $5 million per biennium, which is met with state funding authorized for the Oregon Project Independence Program (ORS 410.410 to 410.480). OAA funding was never intended nor does it fully fund services. Each dollar of OAA funding is leveraged with $2 of state and local funds, participant donations, and community fundraising. Additionally, the services are enhanced with the in-kind support of volunteers, donated community space and equipment, etc.

 Secondary Long-Term Focus Area:
 Program Contact: Ashley Carson Cottingham

In the 13-15 biennium, in-home agency and personal care budgets were moved from ‘other services’ to In-Home care for reporting purposes.

Program Overview

In-home services are the least restrictive service offered in Oregon’s long-term care continuum. This program funds Medicaid long-term care services to seniors and people with disabilities in their own homes for individuals who are eligible to receive the same services in a nursing facility. In 2013, Oregon added a new Medicaid, 1915(k) State Plan Option, or “K plan,” that provides additional flexibility and funds. Approximately 52.5 percent of individuals served in Oregon’s long-term care system are served in their own homes. In-home services offer an opportunity to provide differentiated care in a respectful, sensitive, and inclusive manner to Oregonians from a variety of diverse backgrounds.

Program Description

This cost-effective program enables eligible low-income seniors and people with disabilities to remain in their own homes and established communities. Individuals from culturally diverse backgrounds benefit from this program that provides enhanced independence, health, safety, and quality of life. Oregon’s model of long-term care is referred to as a social model, distinctly different from a medical model of care. Social models of care focus on client autonomy, respect, choice, and individualized care planning. Individuals are viewed holistically, with provided supports that enhance independence, dignity, and respect.

Eligibility for services is based upon a combination of financial criteria and service needs. An individual’s service needs are calculated as a “service priority level” which ranges from 1 (highest need) to 18 (lowest need). In the 2003 budget crisis, funding to serve individuals with service priority levels 14 through 18 was eliminated. These levels remain unfunded through Medicaid; however, some (not all) of the needs can be met for these individuals through Older Americans Act and Oregon Project Independence programs.

In-home supports include necessary assistance with activities of daily living (walking, transferring, eating, dressing, grooming, bathing, hygiene, toileting, and cognition) and instrumental activities of daily living (meal preparation, housekeeping, laundry, shopping, medication, and oxygen management). Assistance ranges from several hours per week to 24 hours per day. Without these supports, more than 17,000 individuals would likely receive services in a more costly nursing facility. Oregon provides a variety of in-home service options available to individuals based on preference, choice, and cost-effectiveness.

Consumer-Employed Provider Program

Individuals participating in this program receive services from hourly or live-in homecare workers. The in-home recipient is considered the employer and is empowered and responsible to hire, train, supervise, track hours worked, address performance deficiencies, and discharge providers. Homecare workers are paid a set rate established through collective bargaining, which the State pays on the individual's behalf. The Oregon Home Care Commission establishes homecare worker enrollment standards and training for homecare workers, both of which contribute to the quality of in-home services. APD is forecasted to serve more than 20,000 individuals in this program in the 2017-2019 biennium.

Independent Choices Program

This program is a 1915(j) State Plan Option and allows individuals to exercise more decision-making authority in identifying, accessing, managing, and purchasing goods and services that enhance independence, dignity, choice, and well-being. This option is popular among individuals who wish to take complete control over the planning and provision of services. In the Independent Choices Program, the cost of the established service plan is "cashed-out" and deposited into the eligible individual's dedicated Independent Choices Program checking account. The individual then pays providers directly based on a negotiated rate. Participants have the flexibility to use a portion of the funds to purchase goods that enhance their independence and are unavailable through the medical plan, such as a wheelchair lift for a vehicle or a wheelchair ramp for their home. The State performs periodic monitoring with an emphasis on safety and program integrity. APD is forecasted to serve 587 individuals in this program in the 2017-2019 biennium.

Specialized Living Services

These services are designed to serve a specific special-needs consumer base, such as those with traumatic brain injuries or other specific disabilities who would otherwise require a live-in attendant or other 24-hour care. The services are provided through contracts with qualified vendors who provide specialized, shared-attendant services to individuals living in their own homes or apartments.

APD is forecasted to serve more than 200 individuals in this program in the 2017-2019 biennium.

Cost Drivers

The major cost drivers of the in-home services program are the current number of eligible individuals, their level of needed assistance, the length of time receiving services, and the growing population of those requiring services. The population served is much different than it was 30 years ago when Oregon first received a waiver. With the advancement of medical technology and treatment options, individuals are living longer with chronic disease and significant disabilities. Another major cost driver is the provision of wages and benefits for homecare workers tied to collective bargaining. This includes set wages, paid time off, workers' compensations premiums, unemployment insurance, and other benefits.

Program Justification and Link to Focus Areas

In-home services link to the Safer, Healthier Communities focus area. In the early 1980s, Oregon was the first state awarded a Medicaid 1915(c) Home and Community-Based Services waiver from the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, which allowed Oregon to serve individuals in their homes and communities. In 2013, Oregon added a new, 1915(k) State Plan Option, or "K plan," that provides additional flexibility and funds. In an independent study conducted by AARP, Oregon received an overall ranking of 4rd out of 50 states in terms of choice of settings and providers, quality of life and quality of care, and effective transitions from nursing facilities back into the community. Across the nation, Oregon continues to be a leader for serving individuals in their own homes.

The program empowers individuals to direct their own services and make choices that enhance their quality of life, live with dignity, and remain as independent as possible. Health is maintained through the provision of necessary assistance with activities of daily living and instrumental activities of daily living. Consistent provision of services, including medication management and the preparation of nutritious meals, delays or diverts an individual's entry into more costly care settings.

Program Performance

A key goal of the Department of Human Services (DHS) is that people are safe and living as independently as possible. DHS currently measures this goal based on the percentage of individuals living in their own homes in lieu of a licensed care facility, as well as the percentage of individuals who move to a less restrictive service setting. Currently, DHS is serving 87.2 percent of all recipients in home- and community-based settings. In the 2017-2019 biennium, DHS is forecast to increase this level to 88.9 percent.

Enabling Legislation/Program Authorization

Medicaid is an entitlement program that was enacted in 1965 under Title XIX of the Social Security Act. Eligible individuals have the right to receive long-term care services in a nursing facility. While states are not required to participate in Medicaid, they must follow Medicaid rules to receive federal matching funds. Oregon's Long-Term Care system operates under a variety of Medicaid options which allows long-term care services to be provided in home and community-based settings.

Funding Streams

In-home services are funded through the Medicaid program. Therefore, the federal government pays approximately 69 percent and the state pays 31 percent. There is a small amount of funding from the estates of former recipients. When a Medicaid recipient dies, DHS is required by federal law to recover money spent for the individual's care from the recipient's estate. These funds are reinvested in services for other individuals, offsetting the need for general funds.

Funding Justification and Significant Changes to CSL

This policy option package is intended to protect and secure additional access to community-based care for Medicaid long term care consumers. This package provides a 10 percent increase to adult foster home providers effective 1/1/20 and another 4 percent increase effective 7/1/20 for a total of $5 million in general funds. These increases are designed to recalibrate existing disparities to reverse the trend of lost access in the last five years. The package also adds a 5 percent increase effective 7/1/19 and a 5 percent increase effective 7/1/20 to assisted living, residential care, memory care and in-home agencies. Funding is also provided for anticipated increases in the upper payment limit for APD Program of All Inclusive Care for the Elderly programs. Finally, it has a request for surveyor positions to eliminate a backlog of inspections and to keep up with the ongoing oversight required by law - given the growth of community-based care settings.

Program Overview

Oregon Project Independence (OPI) provides preventive and in-home services and supports to a diverse population of eligible individuals to reduce the risk of out-of-home placement and promote self-determination. This program optimizes eligible individuals' personal and community support resources to prevent or delay spend down to Medicaid-funded long-term care, which could consist of in-home or other 24-hour residential services.

Program Description

Oregon Project Independence (OPI) is a state-funded program offering in-home services and related supports to a diverse population of Oregonians. DHS/APD strives to deliver in-home services in a culturally and linguistically appropriate manner. OPI provides essential services such as personal care, homecare and chore assistance, adult day care, service coordination, registered nursing (teaching/delegation of nursing tasks to caregivers), and home-delivered meals. This program complements services provided under the Older Americans Act.

Traditionally, OPI has served individuals who are 60 years of age or older are assessed as needing assistance with activities of daily living (eating, dressing/grooming, bathing/personal hygiene, mobility, elimination, and cognition) and/or instrumental activities of daily living (housekeeping, shopping, transportation, medication management and meal preparation) and are not receiving Medicaid. Also, individuals under age 60 who have been diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease or a related disorder are also eligible. The program was expanded by the 2005 Oregon Legislature to include younger adults with disabilities and recently $6 million to continue funding for a pilot program has been made available to support this expansion.

There are neither income nor resource requirements for eligibility; however, these factors are taken into consideration when assessing the individual's risk of needing Medicaid long-term care. OPI clients do not pay a charge for the service coordination services they receive. Services other than service coordination are provided at no cost to families with net incomes at or below 150 percent of the federal poverty level (FPL). Families with net incomes from 150 percent to 400 percent FPL pay a fee toward services using a sliding scale based on income.

Families with net incomes at or above 400 percent FPL pay the full cost of the services provided (other than service coordination).

In a 2012 study of selected comparable clients, OPI clients used 24 percent of the hours that Medicaid clients used. The hourly rates are the same for homecare worker services in the two programs. OPI clients used 24 percent of the billed hours compared to Medicaid. Due to budget restrictions, the OPI program has capped the number of hours available to each client. In addition to personal and home care hours, Medicaid eligibility also provides individuals with benefits for comprehensive healthcare under the Oregon Health Plan (OHP) and pays for these costs. OPI clients do not access OHP so the healthcare expenditures are $0.

Oregon Project Independence services are delivered statewide through the network of 17 designated Area Agencies on Aging (AAAs). Administrative cost efficiencies have been realized in one area of the state where neighboring AAAs collaborated to jointly secure contracted services of a single in-home care agency. Similar partnerships should be encouraged statewide.

Program Justification and Link to Focus Areas

OPI contributes to the Safer, Healthier Communities focus area and has a desired outcome to “decrease the number of older Oregonians that access Medicaid-funded long-term care.” Data reported by the Area Agencies on Aging in 2009 revealed that 63.6 percent of OPI clients had income below the FPL (33.1 percent between 100 percent and 200 percent of FPL and 3.3 percent over 200 percent of FPL). This data also revealed that fewer than 10 percent of OPI clients transitioned to Medicaid-funded services, despite the high rate of OPI clients whose income was at or below the FPL. AAAs are currently maintaining waiting lists of individuals who are eligible to be served by OPI. Annually, the “unable to serve” lists of individuals will be evaluated to determine how many of these individuals accessed Medicaid-funded services while waiting to be served by OPI.

This program empowers individuals to direct their own services and make choices that enhance their quality of life, live with dignity, and remain as independent as possible. Health is maintained through the provision of necessary assistance with activities of daily living and instrumental activities of daily living.

Program Performance

- Quality of the services provided

Personal and home-care services are delivered via licensed in-home care agencies or registered home care workers. Quality of care standards for in-home care agencies are set forth in licensing rules found in OAR Chapter 333, Division 536; compliance with licensing standards is monitored by the Health Care Licensing and Certification unit of the Public Health Division. Home Care Workers who provide services to OPI clients are required to be registered with the Home Care Commission and receive background checks and ongoing training.

- Cost per service unit

The average monthly cost of services to an OPI client is $332. This average is calculated using a combination of direct, administrative, and other costs.

Enabling Legislation/Program Authorization

OPI is authorized under Oregon law at ORS 410.410 to 410.480.

Funding Streams

OPI is comprised of majority State General Funds with a small amount of Federal match funding. Services are expanded through the utilization of program income generated from client cost sharing based on a sliding fee schedule.

OPI serves as the required Maintenance of Effort (45 CFR Sec. 1321.49) and state match (45 CFR Sec. 1321.47) to receive federal funding under the Older Americans Act. At least $5 million per biennium in state funds is needed to maintain the Maintenance of Effort and match requirements of the OAA.

Access to care was challenging when a robust private-pay market existed in the mid-2000s. An investment by the Legislative Assembly in 2008 strengthened access considerably.

Program Overview

Community-based care is considered the middle layer of Oregon’s long-term care continuum and includes a variety of 24-hour care settings and services for low-income seniors and people with physical disabilities who cannot meet their own activities of daily living. These services are part of Oregon’s nationally recognized home and community-based care system, which provides a critical, cost-effective alternative to nursing facilities.

Program Description

The State of Oregon strives to meet the needs and expectations of increasingly diverse populations, and community-based care provides a critical alternative to nursing facilities for seniors and people with disabilities who cannot meet their own daily needs.

Eligibility for long-term care services and supports is based upon a combination of financial criteria and service needs. Recipients contribute their own funds toward room and board directly to community-based care facilities, while the state pays for services consisting mostly of assistance with activities of daily living (walking, transferring, eating, dressing, grooming, bathing, hygiene, toileting, and cognition) and instrumental activities of daily living (meal preparation, housekeeping, laundry, shopping, medication, and oxygen management). Nursing facility care is a guaranteed Medicaid benefit to eligible individuals. If the state did not use alternatives to nursing facility level of care, more than 12,000 individuals would likely be receiving services in nursing facilities at more than 300 percent of the cost of community-based care services.

Community-based care includes:

- Adult foster homes, which serve five or fewer individuals in a home-like setting.
- Residential care facilities (RCF), which serve six or more individuals in a facility with private or shared rooms and common areas.
- Assisted living facilities (ALF), which serve individuals in their own apartments.

- Memory care facilities, dually licensed as either an ALF or RCF, specializes in serving individuals with dementia.
- Enhanced-care services, which serve individuals with significant limitations complicated by mental health needs. This program is jointly funded between DHS and the Oregon Health Authority.
- Program of All-Inclusive Care for the Elderly (PACE) serves more than 1,000 individuals via a fully capitated premium. The program is jointly funded with Medicare and Medicaid dollars and provides an integrated program for medical and long-term services. Participants are 55 years of age or older, generally attend adult day services, and live in a variety of settings representative of Oregon's long-term care continuum. Oregon's only PACE provider, Providence Elderplace, is responsible for providing and coordinating the full health and long-term service needs of their clients in all of these setting types.

APD competes with the private pay market for access to most community-based care. Most facilities have a mix of private pay and Medicaid residents. As the society ages and the economy strengthens, APD may lose access due to competition for open beds with the private pay market.

Adult foster homes are represented by SEIU and have collective bargaining rights. Factors such as safety and quality cannot be negotiated; however, issues such as training and service rates are mandatory subjects of bargaining.

Each community-based care setting must meet federal and state laws and regulations related to health, safety and service delivery. Mandatory services include assistance with activities of daily living, medication oversight, and social activities. Some settings that serve individuals with more complex needs may include additional services, such as nursing and behavioral supports.

Program Justification and Link to Focus Areas

Community-based care is a direct link to the Safer, Healthier Communities focus area (Oregonians are healthy and have the best possible quality of life at all ages). The program maximizes federal resources while reducing unnecessary costs in higher levels of care. With one of the lowest levels of nursing facility utilization in the country, Oregon is at the forefront of using community-based care as a core alternative to nursing facilities. With ongoing support, Oregon can meet the target of serving 90 percent of the publicly funded long-term care caseload in-home and community-based care in the next ten years (up from 86 percent).

Program Performance

A key goal of the Department of Human Services (DHS) is that people are safe and living as independently as possible. DHS currently measures this goal based on the percentage of individuals living in their own homes in lieu of a licensed care facility, as well as the percentage of individuals who move to a less restrictive service settings such as community-based care. As of May 2018, DHS served 11,823 individuals in community-based care, compared to 4,350 in nursing facilities.

Community-based care service plans have been proven to be a cost-effective alternative to nursing facility care. Costs range by facility type and assessed need of the individual. The monthly average cost by setting is:

- AFHs: $3,023
- RCFs: $1,699
- RCFs (Specialized, including Memory Care): $4,620
- ALFs: $2,525

The cost of similar services provided in a nursing facility exceeds $9,000 per month.

Enabling Legislation/Program Authorization

Community-based care is operated under a variety of Medicaid home and community-based services. The newest mechanism is the 1915(k) State Plan Option or, “K plan.” The state provides services that substitute for nursing facility services, the mandated benefit for Medicaid eligible individuals under Title XIX of the Social Security Act. Additionally, ORS 410 and ORS 443 provide statutory policy and structure to the services offered.

Funding Streams

Community-based care services are funded through the Medicaid program. Therefore, the federal government pays approximately 69 percent and the state pays 31 percent. There is a small amount of funding from the estates of former recipients. When a Medicaid recipient dies, the state is required by federal law to recover money spent for the individual’s care from the recipient’s estate. These funds are reinvested in services for other individuals, offsetting the need for general funds.

This policy option package is intended to protect and secure additional access to community-based care for Medicaid long term care consumers. This package provides a 10 percent increase to adult foster home providers effective 1/1/20 and another 4 percent increase effective 7/1/20 for a total of $5 million in general funds. These increases are designed to recalibrate existing disparities to reverse the trend of lost access in the last five years. The package also adds a 5 percent increase effective 7/1/19 and a 5 percent increase effective 7/1/20 to assisted living, residential care, memory care and in-home agencies. Funding is also provided for anticipated increases in the upper payment limit for APD Program of All Inclusive Care for the Elderly programs. State general fund investments decreased with the passage of the provider tax. Caseload has shifted toward an overall downward trend as more and more individuals choose to receive long-term care services in a home or community-based setting.

Program Overview

Nursing facility services are the institutional option available in Oregon’s long-term care continuum, which also consists of in-home and community-based care. Nursing facilities are generally considered the most restrictive setting of the three options offered; however, this program is important for individuals with the highest levels of acuity and is a mandated federal benefit under the Medicaid program. Nursing facility level of care is the guaranteed benefit (entitlement) by federal law.

Program Description

Nursing facilities are most appropriate for people with high acuity needs requiring 24-hour medical oversight and a protective/structured setting. They offer short-term care for individuals who need rehabilitation or 24-hour nursing. They may be appropriate for a limited number of individuals who need long-term care due to permanent health problems too complex or serious for in-home or community-based care settings.

Nursing facility rates cover basic, complex, pediatric, enhanced care, and post-hospital extended care. Services will vary in nursing care facilities, but generally consist of the following:

- Medical treatment prescribed by a doctor;
- Physical, speech, and occupational therapy;
- Assistance with personal care activities such as eating, walking, bathing, and using the toilet (custodial care);
- Social services.

Oregon currently has 136 licensed nursing facilities with 11,031 licensed beds, a decrease in both since the 2017 Legislative Session. These facilities have approximately 2.61 million annual resident days, of which nearly 61 percent are Medicaid clients. The majority of residents were admitted directly from acute care hospitals with a very small percentage from home. In 2015, the average length of stay for nursing facility residents is 133 days with a median of 23. Approximately 82 percent of all nursing facility residents stayed less than 3 months. Over 80 percent of nursing facility residents are aged 65 and older.

| Payer | Long-Term Care – Nursing Facility |
|--------------|------------------------------------------|
| Medicare     | 17%                                      |
| Medicaid     | 61%                                      |
| Private Pay  | 22%                                      |

The main cost drivers are low census in nursing facilities, the length of stay in a nursing facility, and the steady increase in the daily reimbursement rate. The nursing facility reimbursement rate is tied to the provider assessment statute. The current nursing facility reimbursement rate is $312.94 per resident per day, and the provider assessment rate is $24.46. In the 2019-2021 biennium, the provider assessment is expected to account for approximately $136.8 million of $3.3 billion in expenditures.

Program Justification and Link to Focus Areas

Nursing facility services link to the Safer, Healthier Communities focus area. Though nursing facility level of care is a guaranteed benefit, Oregon has been the national leader in creating cost-effective alternatives that meet people’s needs in their homes and other community settings, such as assisted living facilities, in-home care, retirement communities, residential care, and adult foster homes. Oregon continues to work closely with individuals and their families to offer the full array of community-based services. The new State Plan Authority approved by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services in July 2013 provides Medicaid-funded resources to assist individuals in transitioning from nursing facilities. Oregon strives to provide quality services in a linguistically and culturally competent manner.

Nursing facilities are an important service in our continuum, meeting the needs of some individuals with higher acuity levels; however, DHS still believes there are opportunities to decrease its usage. Oregon continues to highlight, strengthen, and encourage the use of community-based care facilities instead of nursing facilities. DHS has established a goal of decreasing the percentage of long-term care recipients utilizing nursing facility services to 10 percent by 2020. As of May 2018, the percentage of long term care recipients utilizing nursing facilities services is 12.4 percent.

Program Performance

Nursing facilities are heavily regulated by the federal government and are licensed and routinely monitored by the state. The state establishes requirements for nursing facilities that promote quality of care and maximization of personal choice and independence for residents.

DHS remains diligent in diverting and relocating people who receive Medicaid-funded long-term care services from nursing facilities into home or community settings. One way performance is measured in this program is by the occupancy percentage of nursing facilities. Oregon has the lowest occupancy in the nation at 64 percent compared with the national average of 82 percent.

Enabling Legislation/Program Authorization

Medicaid is an entitlement program that was enacted in 1965 under Title XIX of the Social Security Act. While states are not required to participate in Medicaid, in order to receive federal matching funds states must follow the Medicaid rules. Oregon's long-term care system operates under Medicaid state plan authority. All clients qualify for nursing facility care have the choice of receiving care in other settings such as in-home or in community-based care settings.

Oregon's nursing facility reimbursement rate and accompanying provider assessment authorization is promulgated in ORS 409.736. The 2013 Legislative Assembly reauthorized the provider assessment through 2020.

Funding Streams

Nursing facility services are funded through the Medicaid program; therefore, the federal government pays approximately 64 percent with the remaining 36 percent being split between state general funds and provider taxes. In the 2017-2019 biennium, provider taxes from nursing facilities are expected to total $127.6 million. There is $27.2 million in biennial funding from the estates of former recipients. When a Medicaid recipient dies, the state is required by federal law to recover expenditures for the individual's care from the recipient's estate. These funds are reinvested in services for other individuals, offsetting the need for general funds.

Costs for 2009-2011 and 2011-2013 are higher due to the transfer of the funding for Medicare Part A and Medicare Part B buy-in programs from the Oregon Health Authority (OHA) to Aging and People with Disabilities (APD). These funding sources were transferred back to OHA in 2013-2015, but APD continues to administer the programs.

Program Overview

The other services category was previously dominated by federally mandated programs, such as the Medicare Buy-in and the Medicare Part D low-income subsidy programs, which help low-income Medicare beneficiaries meet their cost sharing requirements. This cost-effective investment ensures that Medicare remains in a first-payer position, thereby reducing or eliminating costs to the State's Medicaid health programs (Oregon Health Plan). Other services also include programs that support individuals living as independently as possible in the community. For example, home-delivered meals provide a critical support to many individuals who otherwise may not be able to remain independent in their own home.

Program Description

As stated above, the majority of funding in other services was previously dedicated to the Medicare Buy-in programs that support low-income individuals in accessing their federal Medicare benefits. Federal law requires states to provide payments for Medicare beneficiaries who meet specific income guidelines. APD helps consumers access this benefit. Medicare beneficiaries include individuals aged 65 or older and people with disabilities who have been receiving Social Security Disability payments for at least two years. The passage of the Medicare Improvements for Patients and Providers Act (MIPPA) of 2008 expanded the asset allowance and eliminated the estate recovery component of Medicare Savings Programs. These changes eliminated many of the barriers to the Medicare buy-in programs for a significant number of Oregonians.

Oregon is expected to serve more than 150,000 seniors and people with disabilities in the following programs:

- State Medicare buy-in: By purchasing Medicare Part B (which has a federally required premium) for individuals eligible for both Medicare and Medicaid (dual-eligibles), the Medicaid program pays for medical services (such as physician, radiology and laboratory services) only after Medicare has paid as primary payer.
- Medicare savings programs: Clients in these programs receive federally mandated assistance with their Medicare Part B premiums. Specified low-income Medicare beneficiaries and qualified individuals are those individuals who have income between 100 percent and 135 percent of the federal poverty level.

- Qualified Medicare Beneficiaries: Beneficiaries receive state assistance for the costs associated with the Medicare hospital benefit, Part A, and physician services, Part B, that would otherwise be required of them, including premiums, deductibles and co-payments. These clients have income equal to or less than 100 percent of the federal poverty level.
- Medicare Part D: Medicare Part D is the Medicare pharmacy benefit. All clients in the Medicare buy-in programs receive assistance from CMS with their Medicare Part D premiums and co-insurance amounts. Oregon pays a per-person monthly premium to Medicare for eligible clients.

APD works to provide services that support individuals in their own home. These supports reduce reliance on nursing facilities and licensed community-based care while simultaneously improving quality of life and saving taxpayers' money. These programs provide supplemental services as needed to in-home clients and are not tracked as a separate caseload. These programs include:

- Medicaid Adult Day Services: Adult day services provide supervision for adults with functional or cognitive impairments who cannot be left alone for significant periods of times. Services may be provided for half or full days in stand-alone centers, hospitals, senior centers, and licensed care facilities.
- Medicaid Home-Delivered Meals: Home-delivered meals are provided for Medicaid eligible clients receiving in-home services who are homebound and unable to go to the congregate meal sites, such as senior centers, for meals. These programs generally provide a daily hot mid-day meal and often frozen meals for days of the week beyond the provider's delivery schedule.
- Cash payments: APD makes special-needs payments to reduce the need for more expensive long-term care payments and to allow a client to retain independence and mobility in a safe environment. Special needs payments may be used for such things as adapting a home's stairs into a ramp or repairing a broken furnace. Clients can also receive cash payments to help pay Medicare Part D prescription drug copays, payments for non-medical transportation, and a one-time emergency payment for an unexpected loss (such as stolen cash, a car repair or a broken appliance). The budget supporting these payments meets the federal requirement for APD's maintenance of effort (MOE).

Program Justification and Link to Focus Areas

Other services are targeted supports that help Oregonians remain in the least restrictive setting possible. The Department strives to provide services in a respectful, culturally and linguistically appropriate manner. These services tie to Strategy 1 on changing how health care is delivered in Oregon by supporting efforts to increase home- and community-based care to 90 percent of the total Medicaid long-term care caseload. The Safer, Healthier Communities focus area also envisions an integrated system that these community supports will help realize.

These services allow individuals to receive services at the right time and in the right place. They maximize expenditures by using the federal portion of Medicaid funding to provide person-centered services when the person needs them. It ties directly to the desired outcome of Ensuring Financial Stability for the Long-Term Care Service Systems and Supports.

Other Services complement and enhance in-home service plans, contributing to overall cost-effectiveness and the sustainability of the plan. Other services not only have a positive impact on consumers, but also their natural support system (relatives/friends/neighbors), preventing burnout and the need for higher cost services.

Program Performance

In an independent study conducted by AARP, Oregon received an overall ranking of 4th out of 50 states in terms of choice of settings and providers, quality of life, quality of care, and effective transitions from nursing facilities back into the community. With approximately 54 percent of the Medicaid caseload served in their own homes, Oregon continues to rank in the highest percentile.

Enabling Legislation/Program Authorization

Services in this category are operated under both the Medicaid state plan options, including the "K plan" and Oregon's Home and Community Based Care 1915(c) waiver. The state provides services that "waive" against nursing facility services, the mandated entitlement for Medicaid eligible individuals under Title XIX of the Social Security Act. Additionally, ORS 410 and ORS 443 provide statutory policy and structure to the services offered.

Funding Streams

Other services are mostly funded through the Medicaid program; therefore, the federal government pays approximately 69 percent and the state pays 31 percent. There is a small amount of funding that is state general fund only, which serves to meet the state's maintenance of effort requirements. Finally, there is a small amount of funding from the estates of former recipients. When a Medicaid recipient dies, the state is required by federal law to recover money spent for the individual's care from the recipient's estate. These funds are reinvested in services for other individuals, offsetting the need for general funds.

APD is seeing tremendous growth in the individuals it serves with relatively flat staffing levels. The increase from 2015-2017 is driven by the reintegration of licensing staff into the APD program.

Program Overview

The Aging and People with Disabilities (APD) program delivery system provides services and supports to Oregonians over the age of 65 and to adults with physical disabilities. The population is a diverse cross-section of Oregonians that requires supports that take into account race, ethnicity and language; lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender (LGBT) older adults; homeless seniors; older adult immigrants; and many other populations that qualify for services. Design and Delivery includes staff who design and provide technical assistance for Oregon’s long-term care system as well as the staff and partners who directly provide services in over 50 offices located throughout the state.

Program Description

The APD program delivery system provides respectful and inclusive services and eligibility determinations to over 160,000 Oregonians. Some of the services accessed by individuals include:

- Medical assistance (Oregon Health Plan and Medicare premium assistance)
- Disability determinations
- Supplemental nutrition assistance

This caseload is growing rapidly and is served by eligibility staff only; case management services are not provided to individuals accessing only the services above. Approximately 35,000 of the 160,000 individuals APD serves access long-term care services and supports. For these individuals, case management services are provided, which generally consists of assessment, choices counseling, service plan development, and monitoring. Additionally, local offices have memorandums of understanding (MOUs) with local Coordinated Care Organizations. These MOUs focus on joint accountability for coordinating care for individuals accessing long-term care services. State and Area Agency on Aging (AAA) case managers will be the front line in ensuring effective care coordination occurs for individuals served by APD's long-term care system.

Local staff also license adult foster homes, including those that do not participate in Medicaid. Local staff provide adult protective services, consisting of investigations of abuse and neglect against seniors and people with disabilities.

APD has historically earned local service delivery staff through a caseload ratio model (e.g. one eligibility worker for every 500 cases). For the 13-15 biennium, the Legislature authorized the transition to the workload model. This model differs from the caseload ratio model in that it measures time required to perform tasks and captures work performed for individuals who are never found eligible. However, the model has fallen out of date recently and needs an overhaul.

The delivery system is comprised of both state staff and AAA staff located in communities throughout Oregon. Under ORS 410.270, AAAs have the right to elect to deliver Medicaid services locally. Currently, four AAAs have elected this option. These four AAAs (Multnomah County, Northwest Senior and Disability Services, Oregon Cascades West Council of Government, and Lane Council of Governments) serve the most populous areas of Oregon. With the exception of Washington and Clackamas counties, state staff serves areas with lower population densities.

The Oregon Home Care Commission (HCC) is also included in the Design and Delivery Program Area. Under Oregon's constitution, the HCC is responsible for ensuring the quality of home care services for seniors and people with disabilities. The Commission maintains a web-site of home care workers that can be accessed by all Oregonians, including those not served by Medicaid. Training is provided to both consumers and home care workers in a variety of areas addressing safety and quality. The efforts of the HCC are critical to the successful delivery of long-term care services to Oregonians.

APD's Design and Delivery area also includes the staff that design and administer services centrally. Some of the major services provided include:

- Negotiating system design with federal partners
- Developing program policy and maintaining administrative rules
- Paying providers
- Executing contracts
- Negotiating and implementing collective bargaining agreements
- Maintaining provider rates

Program Justification and Link to Focus Areas

There is a direct link between this program and the goal of Safer, Healthier Communities. The APD Delivery system supports individuals living in their communities in settings of their choice, whether in their own home, a community-based care facility or a nursing facility. Partnerships between local law enforcement, local court systems, and local advocates are critical to ensuring the senior and disability populations are protected from neglect and abuse.

Enabling Legislation/Program Authorization

Oregon Revised Statutes 410.070 charges the agency with primary responsibility for the planning, coordination, development, and evaluation of policy, programs and services for older adults and people with disabilities in Oregon. Area Agencies on Aging have universal responsibilities as articulated in ORS 410.210. Additionally, ORS 410.270 authorizes Area Agencies on Aging to perform services locally that would otherwise be administered by state staff if they elect to do so.

POP 121

This policy option package is intended to protect and secure additional access to community-based care for Medicaid long term care consumers. This package provides a 10 percent increase to adult foster home providers effective 1/1/20 and another 4 percent increase effective 7/1/20 for a total of $5 million in general funds. These increases are designed to recalibrate existing disparities to reverse the trend of lost access in the last five years. The package also adds a 5 percent increase effective 7/1/19 and a 5 percent increase effective 7/1/20 to assisted living, residential care, memory care and in-home agencies. Funding is also provided for anticipated increases in the upper payment limit for APD Program of All Inclusive Care for the Elderly programs. Finally, it has a request for surveyor positions to eliminate a backlog of inspections and to keep up with the ongoing oversight required by law - given the growth of community-based care settings.

Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities Services Program

Mission

The Department of Human Services Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities (I/DD) Services program provides support across the lifespan to Oregonians. ODDS, stakeholders, and the developmental disabilities community come together to provide services, supports, and advocacy to empower Oregonians with intellectual and developmental disabilities to live full lives in their communities.

Vision

People and families access quality supports that are simple to use and responsive to their strengths, needs and choices, while they live and thrive as valued members of their community.

Program

The I/DD program fulfills its mission and carries out its responsibilities while adhering to the following values:

- Choice, self-determination and person-centered practices
- Children and families together
- Health, safety and respect
- Community inclusion and community living
- Strong relationships
- Service equity and access

We have worked with a diverse group of stakeholders representing all areas of the I/DD service delivery system to develop a strategic plan that will guide our work for the next biennium and beyond. The Mission, Vision and Goals included here reflect that effort and the plan itself.

As a result of the state's adoption of the Affordable Care Act's Community First Choice Option (or K Plan), an increased number of children and adults with I/DD are able to access Medicaid-funded, community-based services to meet their needs, instead of having to meet crisis eligibility in order to access appropriate support.

We seek to achieve the following strategic goals:

- Create a system that is sustainable, easy to use, with effective communication and equitable access.
- Honor and support people to make their own choices about who they want to be and what they want to do in their life.
- Support equal opportunity for living options and meaningful employment in an integrated community setting.
- Provide families the amount and type of supports they need to raise their children at home, or when necessary, in another family home within their community.
- Support health and safety while people live rich, full lives.

People We Serve

The I/DD program serves people with intellectual disabilities (IQ 75 or below) or developmental disabilities such as autism, Down syndrome and cerebral palsy. These disabilities are lifelong and have a significant impact on the person's ability to function independently. Some people with I/DD may also have significant medical or mental health needs. Most people with I/DD meet Medicaid financial eligibility requirements.

Community First Choice Option Services

Historically, the I/DD service system was comprised of three basic components. There were two separate program service areas — Support Services and Comprehensive Services. The third major component was program design and delivery. While program design and delivery remain the same, Support and Comprehensive Services are now primarily offered through the Community First Choice Option (CFCO).

Under CFCO, eligible persons must receive a functional needs assessment that informs the planning process. They also participate in a person-centered planning process that focuses on the person's strengths, community engagement, personal goals and outcomes. That planning process results in an annual plan, the Individual Support Plan (ISP), that documents the services the person will access in order to meet their goals. Together, the functional needs assessment and ISP inform the amount and/or rate for services that are available to the person.

Program Services

I/DD offers a broad array of services to optimize choice and offer an array of cost-effective services based on functional need. Importantly, implementation of CFCO expanded access to children with I/DD and eliminated the hard cap that had been in place for adults who receive in-home services. Since implementation of CFCO, Oregon has increased the number of children with I/DD who receive services and adults no longer have to be in crisis to receive 24-hour supports in an out-of-home setting.

The shift to CFCO required that most I/DD services be categorized as attendant care. This shift has been challenging for the system because people with I/DD, their families, providers and advocates were more familiar with Oregon's important history of self-directed and strengths-based support system. A new strategic plan that upholds this commitment and sets out steps to reorient the system is now underway. This strategic planning process resulted in a firm understanding that the person, their family and the goals they want to achieve remain at the core of our system. This process also commits the agency to develop a Service Equity Plan to reach out to underserved populations and to the removal of barriers to access, providing services by staff with the appropriate cultural and linguistic capacities.

ODDS has also converted its Comprehensive and Support Services Waivers into a Children's Waiver and an Adults' Waiver as part of its work to reorient the I/DD system to focus on person-centered planning. The new waivers will apply to all settings, simplify and streamline the federal authorities under which I/DD services are provided, and allow the I/DD system to tailor services to children and adults in the future.

Attendant Care

Attendant care provides support for people to perform activities of daily living and instrumental activities of daily living (ADL/IADL). With CFCO, this is the primary service available to people with I/DD. Most Support and Comprehensive Services are considered attendant care services and are generally categorized based on the setting where the person lives.

Services that now fall under attendant care include:

- In-home supports for children and adults
- Children’s intensive in-home services
- 24-hour services:
  - Group home for children and adults
  - Adult and child foster care
  - Supported living (adults only)
- Day supports
- Stabilization and Crisis Unit (SACU)

In-home supports for children and adults

These services are designed to provide ADL/IADL supports in the home or in the community. Children that receive these supports live with family, and adults live either with family or in their own home. In-home services are provided to a majority of individuals served by the I/DD program. As a result of the expanded accessibility to these services, I/DD anticipates a continued increase in the use of this service over the 2019–21 biennium. However, based on an analysis that compared Oregon with other states that also serve everyone that meets the state’s I/DD eligibility requirements, we expect the growth in the number of children coming into services to begin to slow during the 2019-21 biennium.

When families are supported to provide the core care that also meets linguistic and cultural standards of service, even people with the most significant needs have active and engaged lives in their community. Without in-home services, many individuals would require much more expensive out-of-home services such as group or foster homes.

Persons who remain in their own home or with their family and have changes in support needs can access interim or short-term services. Interim services may include increased attendant care, behavior consultation or technical assistance to determine if an intervention will assist in maintaining the current placement. Depending on the change in support needs, environmental modifications may also increase the individual’s likelihood of remaining at home.

For both children and adults, in-home services are provided by Personal Support Workers (PSWs) or certified provider agency Direct Support Professionals (DSPs).

Personal Support Workers are directly hired by the person or their employer representative. Direct Support Professionals are employees of private organizations that contract with the state to provide services.

Children's Intensive In-Home Services (CIIS)

These services consist of three model waiver programs which provide intensive supports in the family home. One of these programs is for children with intensive behavioral issues who, without supports, would require specialized out-of-home services. The second program is for children with medical conditions who, without supports, would require nursing home services. The third program is for children with intense medical needs. These children are dependent on life support technology such as ventilators that, without these in-home services, would require a hospital setting. With the implementation of the Community First Choice Option, children who do not have the intensive needs described above may now be able to access in-home support services through their local Community Developmental Disabilities Programs (CDDP) upon completion of a needs assessment and an Individualized Support Plan (ISP).

24-Hour Services

These services are for children and adults who can no longer remain at home or adults who choose to receive services in a 24-hour setting. Under CFCO, these services are also categorized as attendant care. These services are primarily 24-hour supports, usually provided in settings outside the family home through group home, supported living or foster care providers.

These important services provide an alternative to institutional care. Community-based care, as opposed to institutional care, remains a less restrictive and more cost-effective program. In this setting diverse recruitment and the ability to provide linguistically and culturally appropriate services are fundamental to removing barriers to service access. Group home and supported living services are provided by private organizations that contract with the state. Adult foster care providers are represented by the Service Employees International Union (SEIU). Child foster care providers are private providers licensed through either Child Welfare or the local Developmental Disabilities office.

People usually receive 24-hour services when they are unable to stay at home on their own or with their family. This may be due to a person's needs or the caregiver's ability to continue providing services.

Children with disabilities enter 24-hour comprehensive services as a voluntary placement because the intensive needs of the child cannot be met in the family home or may be involuntary through child welfare action. Child Welfare programs maintain responsibility for the court relationship, but I/DD provides the specific disability-related care.

Day Services

Day services are available for people who are over 18 and out of school. Many adults receiving 24-hour services also receive ancillary day services. These services are available for about 20–25 hours a week for out-of-home activities, including employment-related activities. Adults receiving in-home supports are also able to receive day services as part of their attendant care. Day support activities that fall under the category of attendant care are provided through CFCO and provide supports promoting integration, independence, and participation in the person’s community.

Transportation

Non-medical transportation is also provided to help persons with I/DD in in-home and 24-hour services when public transportation is not available, or not feasible, to help them participate in employment or other services.

Stabilization and Crisis Unit (SACU)

SACU is a 24-hour service provided under the CFCO. SACU provides a safety net for Oregon’s most vulnerable, intensive, medically and behaviorally challenged people with I/DD. SACU provides services when no other community-based option is available for a person. This includes persons with I/DD coming out of the Oregon State Hospital, corrections systems, and from crisis situations where counties and private providers cannot meet the needs of the person to ensure health and safety. SACU focuses on supporting people in community-based settings and enabling them to return to less intensive service levels as quickly as possible.

SACU provides 24-hour residential and day supports to people with I/DD from across the state who have significant medical or behavioral needs. The services are provided in licensed five-bed group homes.

SACU started in 1987 when Oregon began moving all persons with developmental disabilities living at the state institution (Fairview Training Center and Eastern Oregon Training Center) to private providers. There were a small number of people with complex medical or behavioral needs who could not yet be supported by private providers.

From the first homes that were opened by SACU to today, the profile of the people served has changed. As private agencies increase their skills to meet challenging needs and agree to provide services, the person who needs a safety net has changed. In the past, the numbers of people with intensive behaviors often had a diagnosis of autism. Today, intensive behaviors are more related to co-occurring mental health diagnosis and/or personality disorders.

Ancillary Services

In addition, people with I/DD served through I/DD are able to access vital ancillary services. Examples of these services include:

- Behavioral consultation
- Assistive devices
- Assistive technology
- Long-term care community nursing
- Environmental modifications
- Specialized nursing

Case Management

These services are provided through certified entities called Support Service Brokerages or through Community Developmental Disabilities Programs (CDDPs). CDDPs support children and adults while Brokerages support adults in in-home settings.

CDDPs are responsible for eligibility determination and redeterminations, protective service investigations and foster care licensing and reviews. After eligibility is established through the CDDP, adults who live in in-home settings can choose to be served by the CDDP or a Brokerage.

A functional needs assessment is administered to determine the person's level of need and the amount or rate of services that will be available. The Services Coordinator (SC) or Personal Agent (PA) then works with the person, family and others important in the person's life to complete an individual support plan (ISP) and a career development plan (CDP). They then work with the person to identify necessary supports required to meet the needs identified through the assessment and the goals identified in the ISP/CDP.

Employment First Policy

This policy states that employment in fully integrated work settings will be the first and priority option explored in service planning for all working-age and transition-age persons with I/DD. This policy is based on the general philosophy that persons with developmental disabilities have the ability, with the right supports, to be productive and contributing members of their communities through work. This philosophy also recognizes intrinsic and financial benefits of paid work to the persons with disabilities and their families. To support the policy and philosophy of fully integrated work settings, since July 1, 2015 the department no longer funds services for new people to enter sheltered workshops. Employment services are also provided consistent with the provisions and expectations of Executive Order 15-01, "Providing Employment Services to Individuals with Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities," reissued in January 2015.

Employment Services

These services have been strengthened and improved as part of the important Employment First initiative. I/DD has restructured employment services to encourage integrated, competitively paid employment for people with I/DD. Employment services are no longer bundled with attendant care services, they have been broken out into discrete services to support people as they learn about, find and maintain employment. Employment services are not offered through the CFCO, they remain available through the Medicaid waiver.

Employment services include:

- Employment path
- Job discovery
- Job development
- Job coaching
- Small-group supported employment

Family Support Services

These services are available to any family with a child with I/DD and under the age of 18 that is not eligible for Medicaid. The program offers minimal support services with the most common request being for respite care.

All children in this program have case managers through their county CDDP and state-funded services are allocated based on need. Most children are also in school programs and the case manager coordinates between school and home. Family support services can be more cost effective by allowing the family to support the child with a small amount of funding, without accessing Medicaid.

Family-to-Family Networks

These family-driven networks provide training, information, referral and general support with families providing support among one another. Just having another family to connect with or problem solve with is often what it takes to be supported in the family home.

Program Design and Delivery

Staff and services support the administration of I/DD programs through a central office providing strategic planning, program funding, policy development, general oversight, and technical support to community services and support and leadership for various advisory councils.

The structure for service delivery and design includes a central program administration office within DHS and contracted services with Community Developmental Disabilities Programs (CDDP) and Brokerages. Contracted CDDPs, usually operated by county government, are responsible for service eligibility determination, program enrollment, case management, and abuse investigations. Brokerages provide case management services, including assessment and service planning for adults in-home.

Quality Improvement

In 2017 the I/DD program created a Quality Improvement unit. This unit is responsible for coordinating quality assurance and quality improvement activities for I/DD services. This includes performing regular quality reviews of Brokerages and Community Developmental Disabilities Programs, overseeing Licensing activities, coordinating with Abuse Investigator Specialists (AIS) and Office of Training, Investigations and Safety (OTIS), establishing quality metrics for I/DD, collecting and analyzing data to measure overall system performance and to inform policy decisions.

Brokerages and Community Developmental Disabilities Programs (CDDP) field reviews

The I/DD Quality Assurance unit conducts field reviews on a two-year cycle in each CDDP and Brokerage. The reviews are focused on ensuring Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) Assurances are met through performance measures approved by CMS. The reviews assist I/DD in identifying program specific strengths and areas requiring improvement allowing for focused training and technical assistance. The reviews assist with identifying individual issues needing to be corrected as well as allow for analyzing common trends across the state that may suggest a need for system changes, improvements, best practices and training.

I/DD Licensing Unit

The Intellectual/Developmental Disabilities (I/DD) Licensing Unit oversees a statewide program responsible for licensing and the quality of care in programs serving persons with I/DD, including the licensing of adult foster homes and 24-hour residential facilities. It oversees, and is responsible for, the Medicaid-agency certification of agencies and the endorsement of 24-hour residential programs, supported living programs, and employment programs. It also certifies Support Service Brokerages and Child Foster Homes throughout the state. Through licensing and certification the DD licensing team ensures that providers of services comply with requirements for federal and state reimbursement. The I/DD Licensing team conducts complaint investigations and determines necessary corrective action up to and including civil penalties or revocation of a license or certificate.

History — Future Trends

Oregon is recognized nationally as an innovative leader in developing community-based services for persons with I/DD. Oregon is one of the few states that have no state or privately operated institutional level services specifically for people with developmental disabilities. In fact, the majority of persons with developmental disabilities in Oregon are served in their own home or their family's home.

This results from two decades of work to aggressively “re-balance” the developmental disabilities system by moving from an institutional model with expensive, one-size-fits-all approach to a self-directed, family involved, individually focused, culturally appropriate, and less expensive approach to service. People with I/DD and their families report a high level of satisfaction through increased control over services, the ability to more fully integrate in their home communities and the benefits of home community life.

Nationally, and in Oregon, the number of people with developmental disability-related needs is growing. There also is an increase in the number of people who need services that have co-occurring mental health needs or are coming to us from the corrections system. To reach underserved or underrepresented communities, more consistent and deliberate efforts are needed to build a diverse work force capable of delivering linguistic and culturally targeted services. However, to further advance the inclusion of people with I/DD in their communities of choice, and to serve the increasing number of people with I/DD accessing services, efforts to ensure the long-term sustainability of the system must continue.

Program Services – Caseload and Funding

Note: Effective 2013-2015, K Plan increased enrollment as well as lifted spending caps.

Program Overview

Oregon home- and community-based services for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities are provided under several Medicaid authorities including Community First Choice Option (CFCO), also known as K Plan; and five 1915(c) waiver programs. ODDS also operate a small Family Support Services program funded by state general funds providing limited flexible supports for individuals and families.

Currently, ODDS home- and community-based services support more than 27,000 adults and children with intellectual and developmental disabilities to live their lives in their communities. About 12,000 of them receive services in their own of family homes.

Program Description

Oregon home- and community-based services for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities are provided under several Medicaid authorities including Community First Choice Option (CFCO), also known as K Plan; and five 1915(c) waiver programs. Supports provided under K Plan are services such as attendant services that support individuals in accomplishing activities of daily living and instrumental activities of daily living (ADL/IADL), relief care, behavioral support services, transportation, environmental modifications, and assistive technology and devices.

Adult and Children Waivers provide services such as case management, employment services, and other ancillary services (direct nursing services, specialized medical supplies, environmental safety and vehicle modifications, and family training). Services through the Children's Waiver are provided to children in all settings, including family homes, group homes, foster care through County Developmental Disabilities Programs (CDDPs). Services through Adult Waiver are provided to adults, age 18 and older. Adults receiving service through CDDPs may reside in all settings including their own homes, family homes, supportive living, group homes, and foster care. Adults served through Support Services Brokerages receive services in their own or family home. Individuals receiving services through either waiver can access all K Plan services. Under CFCO, an individual can elect to live in any setting of their choice, but it may impact whether they receive case management support through CDDP or Brokerage.

Of the 27,159 individuals enrolled in services (June 2018 Variance Report), 3,033 live in 24-hour group homes, 3,289 in foster homes, 690 in supported living. 11,644 individuals, who receive I/DD services in addition to case management, reside in their own or family homes. 7,617 of the adults served at home receive case management support through Support Services Brokerages; 11,236 adults living in all settings receive case management through CDDP system. In-home support services average approximately $2,195 per month per individual while out-of-home services average approximately $6,727 per month.

For both children and adults, the direct care services are provided through Personal Support Workers (PSWs), provider agencies, behavior consultants, and respite providers. Personal Support Workers were provided collective bargaining rights in 2010 through HB 3618.

Employment services

ODDS currently offer supported employment services, such as job development, job coaching, supported small-group employment, discovery, and Employment Path. Discovery and Employment Path help individuals explore and learn skills to help them gain competitive integrated employment. These services are currently provided through the Comprehensive and Support Services Waivers.

People who are employed in the community have the highest level of integration and have stronger social networks. The more people with developmental disabilities can achieve paid employment, the less dependence there is on public resources and the greater the state's flexibility in designing future services that respond to the need of this population.

Oregon has been very successful in developing community-based care to move away from institutions as a model of care. Individuals with developmental disabilities fully engaging with their communities brings positive outcomes while being fiscally beneficial. Based on new federal requirements, community employment services will be the only employment services to receive federal funding as of March 2019.

Model Waivers

ODDS administer three Model Waivers through the Children's Intensive In-Home Services (CIIS) unit: Medically Involved Children's Waiver, Medically Fragile Model Waiver, and Behavioral Model Waiver for children. Currently, these waivers serve about 388 kids. Children receiving service through Model Waivers are also able to access K Plan services. These services are substantially the same as individuals served through the Comprehensive and Support Services Waivers, including attendant services, relief care, behavioral support services, environmental modifications, and assistive technology and devices.

Family Support Program

Limited supports for children are offered by ODDS through the Family Support Program and are available to any family of a child under age 18. The program is funded by general fund and offers flexible supports with the most common request being for attendant care and respite services. On average, during 2017-19 biennium, the program served 33 families per month at an average monthly cost of about $34. Surveys tell us this support is of immense value to families. All children in these programs have case managers through their county Community Developmental Disabilities Program (CDDP).

Family-to-Family Networks

ODDS also provide $1.24 million in funding to the Oregon Consortium of Family Networks (OCFN) with support and technical assistance through Oregon Council on Developmental Disabilities (OCDD). OCFN collaborates with community partners and others to help families have an empowered vision of a full life for themselves and their children. They facilitate opportunities for families to support each other in accessing the information they need, navigating the many systems they encounter, and helping local community resources increase capacity to include and welcome families experiencing disability. OCFN believes that supporting families in this way will improve their quality of life and support greater sustainability of the formal support system over the long term.

Program Justification and Link to Focus Areas

ODDS service and supports for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities link to the Safer, Healthier Communities area through its focus on individuals with intellectual/developmental disabilities (I/DD) to ensure they are healthy and have the best possible quality of life in their communities among families and friends and are working or attending school to achieve their greatest potential. Additionally, ODDS continuously work to ensure that services are provided in a linguistically and culturally competent manner.

When compared to the entire Medicaid population, adults in the Medicaid-funded home- and community-based services with I/DD are uniquely more reliant on the service system to make lifestyle changes and to adequately access health care. Funding I/DD programs to support the necessary lifestyle choices that reliably and consistently follow through with medical recommendations will result in significant cost savings to the state's medical programs. Families and case managers are critical to help with health care coordination in the communication and implementation of treatment.

I/DD services are critical to the financial stability of a family and to the person with intellectual/developmental disabilities. With supports, families are not forced to decide between working and supporting their family member. It is also important that working-age adults with developmental disabilities are supported to work. Oregon has implemented an Employment First policy. This prioritizes individuals in actively engaging in developing work skills and defining work interests, pursuing job development or being employed in the community, and receiving support to maintain employment.

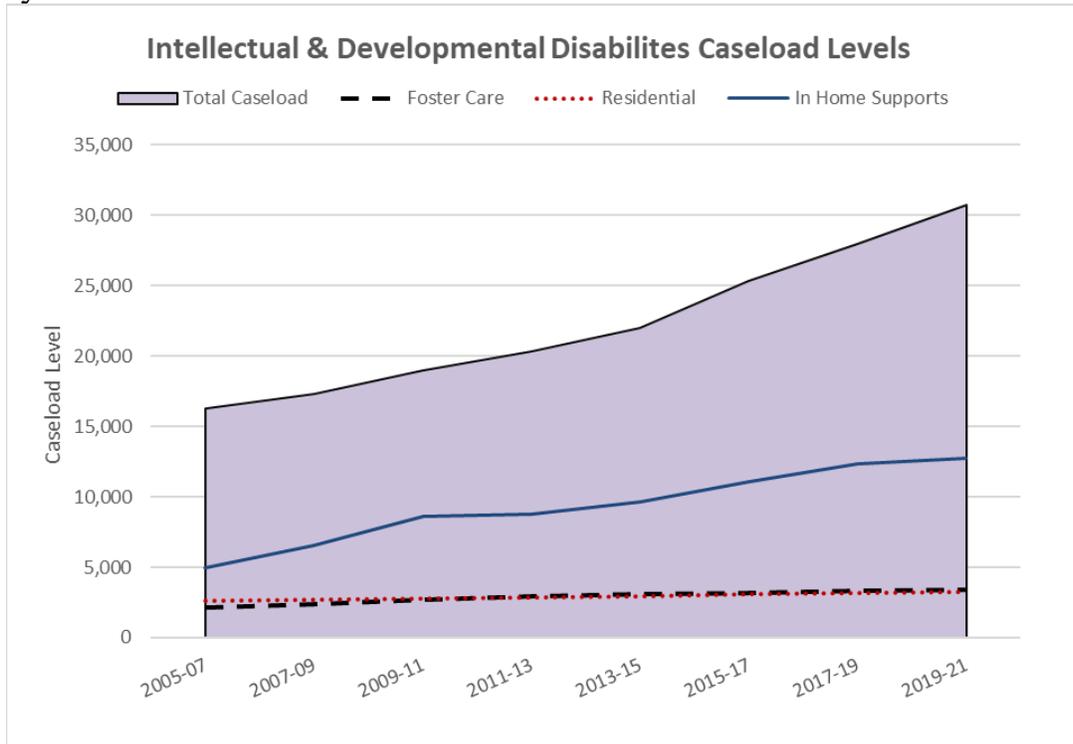

Executive Order 15-01 (which supersedes and replaces Executive Order 13-04 (issued in April 2013)) directs state agencies to take numerous steps that will advance the State's Employment First policy in Oregon. The goal of this Order is to further improve Oregon's system of designing and delivering employment services to those with intellectual and developmental disabilities in achieving integrated employment, including a significant reduction over time of state support of sheltered work and an increase in investment in employment services. The Order covers the time of July 1, 2014 through July 1, 2022 and specifies certain benchmarks and metrics to be achieved each year.

Individuals with intellectual/developmental disabilities who are employed may provide additional resources for their family unit. In addition to being happier and healthier, individuals with I/DD who are employed broaden their network of supports, contributing to the Thriving Oregon Economy focus area.

The success of having people live with families for as long as they can is dependent on the families themselves being supported. In the 2015-2017 budget, funding was provided to the Office Developmental Disabilities Services for a total of eight Family-to-Family Networks. These are family-directed organizations that provide education, resource connections, and personal outreach and support to families experiencing similar needs.

Program Performance

Supporting individuals to live at home or live on their own is the most desirable outcome for people with I/DD and is most cost effective for the state. The number of people supported at home has been the largest area of growth in the I/DD system.

Spring 2018 Forecast

Enabling Legislation/Program Authorization

Oregon Revised Statutes 427.005, 427.007, and 430.610 through 430.695 enable the provision of family support for children with developmental disabilities.

Oregon Revised Statutes 427.410 enables the provision of Support Services for adults through Support Services Brokerages.

At the federal level, in addition to all applicable Medicaid statutes and regulations, services must comply with the Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990 and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. Compliance with these federal laws is subject to the U.S. Supreme Court's Olmstead Decision of 1999 and the U.S. Department of Justice's interpretation of that decision as it relates to the ADA and Rehabilitation Act. The Olmstead ruling applies.

Funding Streams

The services are designed and approved using a Medicaid 1915c Home and Community-Based Waivers, and primarily, the Community First Choice Option in the Medicaid State Plan. The program funding match rate is 63 percent Federal funds and 37 percent State General Funds for waiver services and 69 percent Federal funds and 31 percent State General Funds for State Plan services.

There are inadequate resources to serve children who experience an intellectual or developmental disability with significant support needs. This has led to a crisis that is widely recognized and is being discussed and considered in a number of forums. The result is that children with significant, cross-system needs are placed in inappropriate or inadequate settings. This includes children with I/DD under DHS care who are placed in hotels, and children who have languished in hospital emergency departments, state hospital, or highly restrictive environments. Many of these children are living in the family home, with families barely managing to support these extremely high-needs children.

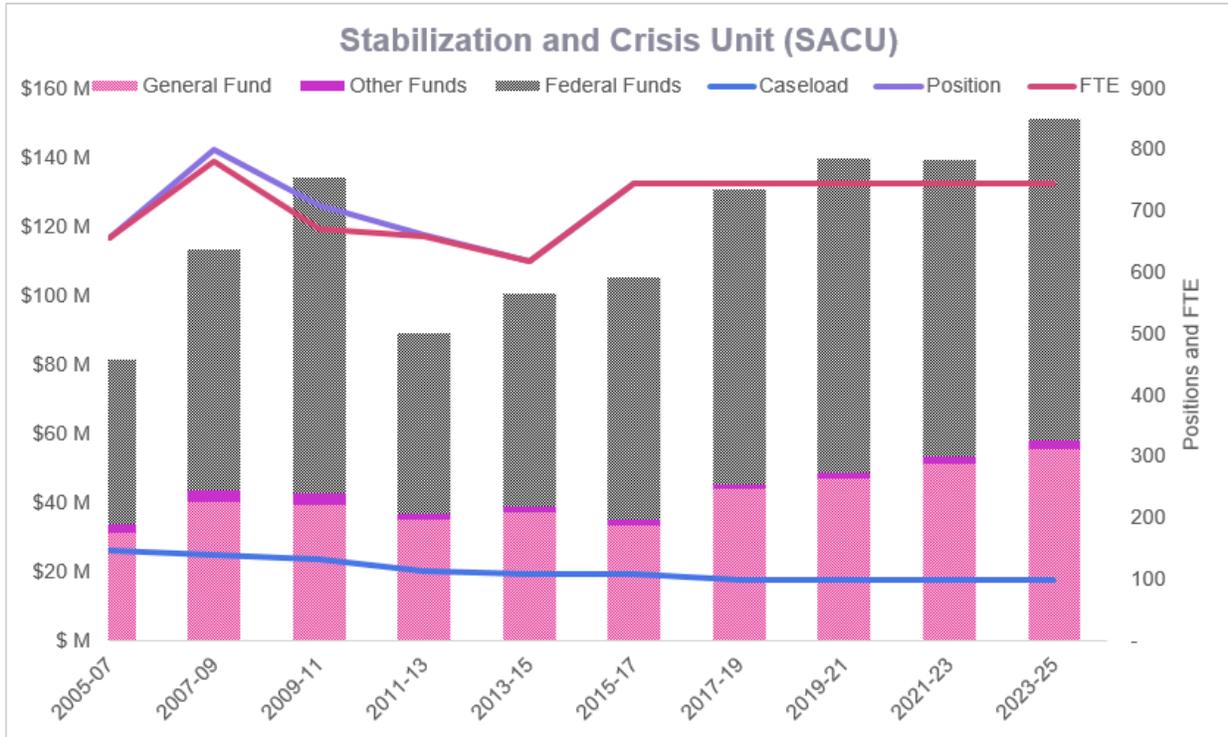

ODDS is proposing to address the lack of resources by a) creating a new foster care service level, "enhanced foster care", that will increase residential capacity by allowing children and youth to step down from more restrictive group home settings (similar to 'proctor care' that ended several years ago), and b) appropriately expanding residential group home capacity, and c) expanding the capacity in the waiver programs that support children with intensive medical needs in their family homes.

Reductions taken for 2019-2021 GB:

- The budget proposes expending the remaining balance of $6 million general fund in the Fairview Housing Trust Funds.
- The budget proposes a reduction of $2 million general fund to Employment services for lower than anticipated usage of Job Coaching hours.

Program Overview

The Stabilization and Crisis Unit (SACU) provides a safety net for Oregon’s most vulnerable, intensive, behaviorally and medically challenged individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities. This includes people with developmental disabilities coming out of crisis situations, including hospitals, correctional systems, and private providers who cannot meet the needs of the individual to ensure their health and safety. Almost all individuals served by SACU present with dual diagnosis of mental health and I/DD issues. This program is an integral part of the overall intellectual/developmental disabilities continuum of services. SACU focuses on supporting people in community-based settings and preparing them to return to less intensive service levels once stabilized.

Program Description

SACU provides 24-hour residential services to individuals with intellectual/developmental disabilities who have significant behavioral, mental health/medical care needs. The services are provided in licensed 5-bed group homes located across six counties from the Portland metropolitan area south to Eugene.

As individuals enter SACU, staff work with each person to modify behaviors and increase individual skills. Many of the individuals supported have frequent and intense behaviors and staff may provide physical interventions as trained through the Oregon Intervention System (OIS). All individuals have focused behavioral protocols that require frequent staff training and a high level of data collection and review. The program utilized a person-centered approach and complies with all state and federal regulations.

There is an active referral list of adults and children waiting to enter SACU. Before entry into SACU, individuals are first referred by the CDDP to community-based providers across the state but when they are denied or terminated from a current provider program, they move to a SACU placement. Nearly all individuals served have co-morbid (co-occurring) disorders of mental illness and intellectual/developmental disability and mental illness. The acuity level of challenging behaviors requires intensive 24-hour supervision and behavioral support services to ensure the safety to themselves and the community. Challenging behaviors range from aggression toward people or property including self-injurious behaviors. SACU also supports up to 10 individuals with medically fragile conditions that require 24-hour nursing care and support services.

More than 50 percent of these individuals have a history of criminal charges and/or current or pending legal sanctions. The convictions range from such crimes as assault, criminal mischief, theft, harassment, public indecency, possession, rape, sex abuse, and murder. A number have legal sanctions as a result such as parole, probation, Psychiatric Security Review Board (PRSB), or are registered sex offenders. Some are civilly committed as they have been found to be a danger to themselves or others. The majority of individuals referred to SACU have an identified need for a secured facility due to their risk of flight and/or offensive behavior. In addition, a large percentage of individuals require facilities where housing modifications are implemented to avoid injury to self and others.

SACU serves 79 adults who need acute stabilization and crisis services. These individuals have been identified due to extreme behavioral and psychiatric needs that have not been successfully provided in the community.

SACU has 10 beds available for children (up to 18 years old) who are in acute crisis situations and require stabilization. These children come from a variety of settings including the family home, foster care, 24-hour group home care, and institutional care. As of 2018, SACU is in the process of converting one five bed home from an adult home to a children's home in the Portland Area, increasing the total number of children's beds to 15 overall.

SACU serves up to 10 individuals in specialized medical facilities due to their fragile medical conditions and I/DD needs.

In all the homes, SACU staff provides services that ensure health and safety needs are met and that the individual has the ability to participate in the community. As the goal of the program is to have the individual live in the most independent, least restrictive community setting, it is important to ensure the individual can be supported in the same type of setting.

All of the individuals in SACU qualify for Medicaid, currently use the Oregon Health Plan and are served by Coordinated Care Organizations, to meet their medical needs. Since there are high medical, behavioral and mental health needs, the program treatment plans are critical for individual stabilization and coordination of health services.

From the initial homes established in 1987 through today, the profile of the individuals served by SACU has dramatically changed. As private agencies increase their skills to meet challenging needs and are able to provide services, the individual who needs safety net services has changed. In 2000, SACU had six homes serving 30 people with high medical needs. Today these medical homes serve only up to 10 individuals. These individuals now receive care in community and nursing facilities.

In the past, the numbers of people with intensive behaviors were people who had a diagnosis of autism. Today, intensive behaviors are related to co-occurring mental health diagnosis and/or criminal convictions.

With the 2015-2017 budget, SACU completely transformed the organizational structure to increase efficiencies and lower injuries and overtime. The agency formed seven island structures within the existing three regions and created a staffing float pool, which allows for more flexibility in direct care staffing. SACU also created the Crisis Outreach Assessment Team (COAT), a rapid-response team that responds to an individual's crisis as it is occurring. COAT also completes mental health assessments allowing SACU to better support the individuals served. In addition, SACU contracted with a national consultant, Benchmark, to review SACU as a whole and make recommendations for improved services as well as individual and staff safety.

Program Justification and Link to Focus Areas

SACU links to the Safer, Healthier Communities focus area. SACU helps individuals with intellectual/developmental disabilities be healthy and have the best possible quality of life by helping them live in their communities and to work or attend school to achieve their potential. Stabilization and training are provided for adults and children who have entered the program in crisis. SACU helps individuals transition back into community settings with support from their families, caregivers, or private providers.

Individuals enrolled generally have no other alternatives for a residential placement. They are in crisis due to a family breakdown; discharge from a hospital, psychiatric or correctional setting, or discharge from a private provider who can no longer support them due to the intensity of their behavioral or medical needs. SACU provides a critical alternative to assist the person to return to a healthy and productive life through a high quality residential program, including community-based housing, appropriate nutritional and medical care, and interventions.

In addition, the safety net provided by SACU allows for targeted, community-based support to individuals in crisis or with otherwise unmet intensive needs, individuals receive the services they need for the time they need them, and are then assisted to transition back to families or private providers.

Program Performance

Staff ratios are quite high; at minimum all require a 1:1 staffing level. Many require a greater staffing level while in the community. The goal is to stabilize behaviors and health issues in a residential setting so that transition to a private provider is successful. Average length of stay for SACU adults overall (in both medical and behavioral beds) is 5.8 years which is down slightly from previous years.

SACU is focusing on placement of these long-term individuals in private care. These types of individuals, who can now be served by private providers due to improvements in community service skills and capacity, are no longer prioritized for this program.

SACU continues to build strong data tracking, including clinical data (individuals' incidents, medication errors, safety records, restraints, and a number of other elements), staffing data (ratios, overtime), and programmatic data (admissions, transfers, exits, length of stay). SACU uses this data to make programmatic changes.

Enabling Legislation/Program Authorization

Virtually all individuals served by SACU are funded through Medicaid Home and Community-Based Waivers and the 1915(k) Medicaid State Plan. The individuals served by SACU would be entitled to nursing home or intermediate care facilities for persons with Mental Retardation (ICF/MR) institutional services. Oregon no longer uses institutional care but the service would be required if we could not meet the need in the community.

Other federal laws and rulings that impact services delivered through SACU are the Americans with Disabilities Act and the Supreme Court Ruling on Olmstead, which generally require individuals to be served in least restrictive, non-institutional settings. Oregon commitment statutes in ORS 427 also require the State to provide care and custody to a person who presents harm to themselves or others, and SACU's status as the safety net is integral to accomplishing this.

Additional statutes that guide the delivery and program are found in ORS 412, 430, 409 and 410. The Oregon Administrative Rules (OARs) that govern the operations of SACU require that individuals be supported in the community and in pursuit of educational and vocational activities.

At the Federal level, in addition to all applicable Medicaid statutes and regulations, services must comply with the Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990 and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. Compliance with these Federal laws is subject to the U.S. Supreme Court’s Olmstead Decision of 1999 and the U.S. Department of Justice’s interpretation of that decision as it relates to the ADA and Rehabilitation Act. The Olmstead ruling is relevant to SACU in that it requires all services allowed in the waiver, including SACU, are ones that create inclusion in the community equitably across the state.

Funding Streams

The services are designed and approved using a Medicaid 1915(c) Home and Community-Based Waiver and a 1915(k) Medicaid State Plan which provides a Federal match to the program’s General Funds. The program funding match rate is 63 percent Federal funds and 37 percent state general funds for waiver services and 69 percent Federal funds and 31 percent state general funds for 1915(k) State Plan services. Based on their income level, some individuals also pay an other funds contribution toward their room and board costs.

The FMAP rates were reduced for the next biennium resulting in an increased need of $1,381,482 GF and an equal reduction of FF.

The Governor’s budget proposed reductions are as follows:

- eliminate most inflation for Supplies and Services
- 5% Vacancy savings in GF
- 5.95% reduction for Attorney General services
- reduction for DAS service and assigned vehicle charges
- phase out the two Eliot Homes beginning in January 2020.

Department of Human Services: Employment First Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities Services

Primary Outcome Area: Thriving Oregon Economy
 Secondary Outcome Area: Safer Healthier Communities

Program Overview

Employment First is a nationwide initiative which helps individuals with I/DD reach and maintain competitive integrated employment by ensuring that employment is the first and priority option in each state. Research has shown that people who are employed in the community have the highest level of integration and have stronger social networks. The more people with developmental disabilities that achieve paid employment, the less dependence there is on public resources and the greater the state’s flexibility in designing future services that respond to the need of this population. For these reasons and many more, in 2008 Oregon was an early adopter of the Employment First initiative. Employment First is both a national initiative and a state policy. In Oregon, Employment First includes the Office of Developmental Disabilities Services (ODDS), Vocational Rehabilitation (VR), and the Oregon

Department of Education (ODE). Employment First is working to increase employment opportunities for individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities (I/DD). New federal regulations, as well as the Lane v. Brown settlement agreement, place even greater emphasis on the state’s need to provide community-based employment services to people with I/DD. The state is also working to help providers that current provide facility-based services (also known as sheltered workshops) to transform their services to community-based.

Program Description

Employment First is based on the general philosophy that individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities have the ability to be productive and contributing members of their communities through work. This philosophy also recognizes intrinsic and financial benefits of paid work to the individuals with disabilities and their families. This improved economic self-sufficiency has shown to also reduce reliance on government services. Oregon has been very successful in developing community-based care to move away from institutions as a model of care. Having individuals with developmental disabilities fully engaged in their communities is highly desirable as an outcome and fiscally efficient. The Employment First initiative is designed to ensure that employment supports are provided in the community.

All people with developmental disabilities who are eligible to receive services through either the Comprehensive or Support Services waiver and the Community First Choice (K Plan) may choose to receive residential support through in-home services, foster care, group homes, or supported living services, as well as employment and/or day services. Employment supports include:

- Employment Path services — individuals learn employment skills
- Supported Small Group services — supports for individuals to work in the community with up to seven other individuals who have disabilities and make minimum wage or better

- Job coaching —support to work independently in a community-based job making minimum wage or better
- Discovery — a time-limited service designed to help an individual learn more about their employment strengths and potential job interests

The Employment First policy states that work in integrated jobs is the first and priority option in planning employment services for working-age adults and youth. Services should be planned using person-centered practices that identify an individual’s talents, skills, and interests. This information can then help inform employment options and career opportunities.

In 2014, CMS issued additional guidance regarding their Home and Community Based Services (HCBS) regulation requiring that employment supports be community-based by March 2019. Further, DHS reached a settlement in the Lane v. Brown case in January 2016 which requires that ODDS, VR, and ODE work together to ensure that individuals who are currently in a sheltered workshop (or who have been in a sheltered workshop as of 2012) or transitioning out of high school with I/DD receive supported employment services to help them obtain competitive integrated employment. Additionally, the Rehabilitation Act was amended formally as of June 30, 2016 via the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act, which requires competitive integrated employment as the outcome to be considered a successful placement through VR.

These federal and state changes, as well as implementing Employment First policies, require some fundamental systems transformation. Many providers need support to change business practices to support individuals in jobs throughout their communities. It is also critical for business partners to embrace the benefits of hiring people with developmental disabilities. Employment First partners with the Oregon Council on Developmental Disabilities and other stakeholder and advocacy organizations to develop policies and communications that strengthen employment outcomes.

As part of the department’s strategic planning to integrate those with developmental disabilities into their communities, as well as new federal regulations which require that all employment supports be community-based, efforts are being made to move away from the sheltered workshop model in favor of jobs in the community. For people with developmental disabilities, the goal is that their time in career exploration and hours working in the community will increase and time spent in sheltered workshops decreases. This goal aligns with federal regulations, as well as the Lane v. Brown settlement agreement.

Program Justification and Link to Focus Areas

Employment First links to the Thriving Oregon Economy focus area. Individuals with developmental disabilities are healthier, safer, and happiest when they are engaged in meaningful work. Individuals are more likely to be able to live with their family longer when they have their own daily schedule that is similar to working parents. As with all other citizens, for individuals with I/DD, employment has many positive impacts. These impacts include increasing self-worth, building relationships, and access to community resources. Employment improves economic well-being as well as physical and mental health. Employment supports are key in moving people with developmental disabilities away from 24-hour support services, which results in less public funds being spent.

Employment First also links to other economic development strategies to increase workforce diversity while meeting business needs in ways that result in jobs and prosperity for all Oregonians.

Program Performance

Employment trends have been tracked since 2007. Since Employment First began in 2008, there has been growth in community employment. Additionally, according to the March 2017 Employment Outcomes System (EOS), 1,111 people received individual supported employment services. This is an increase of 270 people working in individual supported employment services from March 2016 and 575 people more than who were working in March 2015. From July 2016 to July 2017 (SFY 2017), Vocational Rehabilitation (VR) had 476 closures that led to competitive integrated employment for those people also receiving ODDS services. The average number of VR case closures that led to competitive integrated employment has more than doubled, from 22 closures per month in 2011 to 48 per month in 2015. Based on a March 2016 EOS count, there were less than 800 people in ODDS services working in a sheltered setting, a decrease of over 660 individuals from the March 2016 count.

Employment First and its partners have reached the goals outlined in the 2015-2017 Bid ensuring that by 2016, no transition age youth may enter a sheltered workshop when leaving school as there were no new entries into a sheltered workshop setting allowed by Oregon Administrative Rule as of 7-1-2015. As stated above, the census and hours of individuals in a sheltered workshop setting have been reduced while the census of individuals in supported employment has increased.

For more details regarding process, please visit our bi-annual data reports:
<http://www.oregon.gov/DHS/EMPLOYMENT/EMPLOYMENT-FIRST/Pages/data-reports.aspx>

Employment First Goals:

By June 30, 2022, based on the Lane v. Brown Settlement, Employment First (through ODDS and Vocational Rehabilitation) must place 1,115 individuals currently or recently in a sheltered workshop in competitive integrated employment; and

By June 30, 2022, based on the Lane v. Brown Settlement and Executive Order 15-01, Employment First must provide supported employment services to 4,600 transition age youth or individuals currently or recently in a sheltered workshop. This is required by the Lane v. Brown Settlement Agreement and DHS along with ODE is progressing toward system change to ensure these outcomes are reached.

Enabling Legislation/Program Authorization

The provisions of employment-related services for individuals with developmental disabilities are in ORS 430.610, .650, and .670. The enabling statutes are in ORS 409.050 and ORS 410.070.

At the federal level, in addition to all applicable Medicaid statutes and regulations such as the Home and Community Based Services regulation and Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act mentioned above, services must comply with the Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990. Compliance with these federal laws are subject to the U.S. Supreme Court's Olmstead Decision of 1999 and the U.S. Department of Justice's interpretation of that decision as it relates to the ADA and Rehabilitation Act. ADA and Olmstead are relevant to Employment First since the program must assure statewide access in the least restrictive environment.

As of January 2016, the Lane vs. Brown case has been formally settled and Oregon via DHS and ODE are mandated to effectively implement policies to achieve the required outcomes of the Settlement Agreement, which is mandated under federal jurisdiction.

Funding Streams

All funding for Employment First through ODDS is matched through the Medicaid 1915(c) Home and Community-Based Waiver. When a person is getting job development from Vocational Rehabilitation (VR), OVR Title 1 case service funding is used.

Funding Justification and Significant Changes to CSL

Reductions taken for 2019-2021 GB:

- Reduction of $2 million GF/ $6 million TF was taken because of less direct contact time for job coaching services.

Program Overview The Office of Developmental Disabilities Services (ODDS) manages a lifespan program that provides support and funding to children and adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities (I/DD) to live fully engaged lives in their communities. Oregon has stopped using institutional models to care for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities and has focused all efforts on people living in their community. Programs are provided in the community in the person’s own home, family home or in a foster care, group home or in supported living programs. Design and Delivery provides administrative and operational support to these programs.

Program Description

There are over 26,000 Oregonians with I/DD receiving case management and other supports through the ODDS program. Since implementation of Community First Choice Option (CFCO), also known as K Plan, in July 2013, the Oregon I/DD service delivery system has undergone significant changes. Due to CFCO implementation, ODDS now can provide services to all eligible children, while in the past families with children with I/DD had to reach crisis before being able to access services and supports. Additionally, the K Plan has expanded in-home services for adults as well, lifting budget caps previously imposed on the amount of services adults with I/DD were able to access in their own or family homes. Under CFCO, the amount of in-home services is determined based on functional needs assessment. As a result of these changes, the number of individuals served within I/DD system has significantly increased. During this biennium, since July 2015, over 2,300 new individuals enrolled into the I/DD service delivery system increasing total population by 9.7 percent. The trend is expected to continue into the 2019-21 biennium, with enrollment of children starting to level off.

The structure for service delivery and design includes a central program administration office, Children Intensive In-Home Services (CIIS) unit, and contracted services with Community Developmental Disabilities Programs (CDDP) and Support Service Brokerages (Brokerages). Additionally, the ODDS central office provides strategic planning, program funding, policy development, provider licensure and certification, general oversight, and technical support to community services. Contracted county Community Developmental Disability Programs (CDDPs) are responsible for eligibility determination, program enrollment, case management, abuse investigation, and quality assurance.
