Department of Human Services

Self-Sufficiency Program

Mission

To provide a safety net, family stability and a connection to careers that guide Oregonians out of poverty

Program

The Self-Sufficiency Program (SSP) provides low-income Oregonians with services to support participants' movement towards stability and prepare individuals for employment. Recognition of existing disparities provide a background from which to plan increased service equity within the programs. The programs emphasize the safety and healthy development of children, the strength of the individual and family and often serve to prevent abuse or neglect that may lead to out-of-home placement in the more expensive foster care program.

Oregonians access SSP services when they are in need and have limited alternatives. Program participants access services through a network of local offices in every county.

SSP works to achieve its mission by focusing its efforts on five foundational operating principles:

- Family engagement;
- Economic stability;
- Collective impact;
- Integrity and stewardship; and
- Professional Development

The services offered through SSP are:

- Employment Related Day Care (ERDC)
- Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP)
- Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF)
- TANF-related programs such as the Job Opportunity and Basic Skills (JOBS) program and Family Support and Connections (FS&C)
- Temporary Assistance for Domestic Violence Survivors (TA-DVS)
- Refugee Program

- Youth Services Program
- Oregon Health Plan

The current housing crisis, available and affordable child care and attainable living-wage jobs all affect SSP caseloads. Many participants are working but have lower wages or fewer hours and don't earn enough to make ends meet on their own. Poverty and disparity factors such as geography (rural/urban), education, English language proficiency, race/ethnicity, and age continue to affect the ability for families to achieve economic stability.

Services

Employment Related Day Care program (ERDC)

ERDC assists low-income families in obtaining child care so they can work and attend training or education needed to advance in their employment. The ability to go to work and not worry about child care assists parents in gaining economic stability. Parents receive a sliding subsidy amount based on income toward their child care allowing them more options in connecting to reliable, quality providers. Quality providers can help improve school readiness during the critical learning years of birth to five. By working to improve the quality of providers within disparate populations, the entire community benefits. The program has a higher rate of payment available for working families who need child care and have a child with special needs.

Providers approved by DHS meet a set of health and safety standards, attend training, submit to monitoring visits and pass required background checks before they can receive payment on behalf of the family.

Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP)

SNAP offers food assistance to low-income individuals and families to help meet their nutritional needs. Benefits to participants are 100 percent federally funded; however, the administration of the program requires a 50 percent state match. Approximately one in five Oregonians receive food assistance through SNAP.

SNAP is an important and constantly growing anti-poverty program. Recent research has shown that SNAP benefits reduce the depth and severity of poverty, and have a particularly strong effect on reducing child poverty. SNAP benefits add about $1.1 billion dollars per year to the Oregon economy including rural Oregon.

Self-Sufficiency offices across the state serve the majority of the SNAP population. Elderly persons (60 and older) plus persons with disabilities who require services are assisted by Aging and People with Disabilities (APD) Program offices and their contracted partners: Area Agencies on Aging, Disability Services Offices and Councils of Government.

Oregon is federally required to offer a limited companion employment and training program. SNAP participants may be enrolled in one of the following programs: Oregon Food Stamp Employment Transition (OFSET) program and the Able-Bodied Adults Without Dependents (ABAWD) program. More comprehensive services are provided through the 50/50 employment and training program, referred to in Oregon as SNAP Training and Employment Program (STEP).

Commodities Supplemental Food Program (CSFP)

This program provides a monthly prescribed nutritious commodity package to help meet the needs of low-income elderly persons (aged 60 or older). Food packages are distributed through local agencies and include canned fruits and vegetables, canned meat, poultry and other protein items, grain products such as pasta, as well as other foods. While CSFP food packages do not provide a complete diet, they are good sources of the nutrients typically lacking in the diets of the target population. Participants are also offered the opportunity to receive nutrition education instruction and information, often in their preferred language and with culturally appropriate recipes.

The Emergency Food Assistance Program (TEFAP)

This federal program helps supplement the diets of low-income Oregonians by providing emergency food and nutrition assistance at no cost. The amount of food Oregon receives is based on the number of unemployed persons and the number of people with incomes below the federal poverty level. The State of Oregon provides USDA commodities, as well as administrative funds, to the Oregon Food Bank (OFB) who is the State Distributing Agency. The OFB works with a cooperative network of regional food banks, partner agencies, and programs to distribute emergency food to hungry families.

Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF)

TANF is a collection of programs directed at improving the lives of very low-income Oregon families with children. It is a critical safety net program for families with children living in extreme poverty and helps families from a variety of diverse backgrounds to address their most basic needs. TANF provides eligible families with cash assistance, cultural and language specific connections to support and community resources, case management, and employment and training services.

Families typically use TANF funds to prevent homelessness and to help with other factors contributing to family instability. The goal of the program is to help families address barriers, recognize their own strengths, gain skills and access employment opportunities to become self-sufficient.

TANF-Related Programs

- Job Opportunity and Basic Skills (JOBS) program: Most adults must meet additional requirements to receive TANF services. The JOBS program provides employment, education, skill-building and family stability services to individuals of families receiving TANF assistance. Individuals participate in JOBS to gain skills necessary to join the workforce and retain employment.
- Family Support and Connections: Provides supports to prevent children in the TANF program from entering the child welfare system. Home visiting and community-based services are some of the interventions used to build on family strengths and address family functioning issues.

Temporary Assistance to Domestic Violence Survivors (TA-DVS)

Provides temporary financial assistance and support services to families with children affected by domestic violence when other resources are not available. TA-DVS is used to help vulnerable children and their parents address safety concerns and stabilize their living situation. This reduces the likelihood of the survivor returning to the abuser and can prevent life-threatening situations. Services help prevent child abuse and the need for child welfare intervention.

Refugee Program

The program serves individuals and families who fled persecution in their country of origin and were legally admitted for resettlement by the United States government. Refugees and people who have been granted asylum access the program for financial, employment-related and life skills resources to provide a sense of community for the newly arrived. The program guides refugees toward economic stability through employment as early as possible. The program serves only those persons in immigration categories approved by the Federal Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR).

Youth Services Programs

My Future - My Choice program is an age-appropriate, medically accurate, sexual health education program. This service supports community prevention efforts to help families break the generational connection to public assistance. The program expands on the historical teen pregnancy prevention program to provide education and tools for youth to resist multiple risk-taking behaviors. DHS partners with the Oregon Department of Education and the My Future - My Choice Advisory Committee to develop and implement the program.

The Runaway and Homeless Youth (RHY) program provides services and supports to young people under age 18 to 21 without shelter. The program currently administers funding to local non-profit providers across the state to provide shelter services, drop-in & outreach services, and job development & mentoring services. DH partners with a cross-system advisory group to coordinate statewide policy and planning for addressing the needs of runaway and homeless youth.

Oregon Health Plan

The Oregon Health Plan (OHP) is the state's medical assistance program, serving approximately 1.1 million Oregonians. Funded by Medicaid, Children's Health Insurance Program and state resources, OHP offers free health care for people who meet income and other requirements, including age and disability status. OHP covers physical, dental, and behavioral health care. The majority of members receive their care through regional networks called coordinated care organizations (CCOs).

SSP staff assist with linguistically appropriate services for OHP eligibility, including customer service and application processing.

Program Design and Delivery

Provides program direction, planning, reporting, implementation, training, eligibility and benefit issuance for SSP. Staff at state and local levels also coordinate closely with other DHS programs, including Child Welfare, with the goal of increasing individual and family stability.

SSP collaborates with other agencies and statewide initiatives, including the alignment and improvement of the state's workforce system. This effort is to ensure that service delivery and outcomes are improved for both employer and job seeker. Other collaborations have been built around domestic violence, housing, addictions and mental health treatment, vocational rehabilitation, health care and education. Throughout SSP, collaboration efforts include taking into consideration the community, culture and language needs of those served by the program. SSP has a strong commitment to have bilingual staff that can provide assistance directly to the families & individuals served. Additionally, work is being moved forward to better understand the communities served through enhanced Race, Ethnicity, Language & Disability data collection and analysis.

Program Overview

Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) is a critical safety net program for families with children who live in extreme poverty. TANF helps families, including more than 38,000 children, from a variety of diverse backgrounds to address their most basic needs. TANF provides eligible families with cash assistance, connections to support and community resources, case management, and employment and training services. The goal of the program is to engage families in becoming self-sufficient by helping them address challenges, gain skills, and access employment opportunities.

Program Description

TANF is a collection of programs directed at improving the lives of very low-income Oregon families with children. Our overall TANF program provides immediate cash assistance at a point when families have exhausted all other resources. We also provide employment and training services, linkages to services in the community and short-term interventions, such as support to strengthen parenting skills or the healthy development of children.

Most parents and caretaker relatives must meet additional requirements to continue receiving TANF services, such as participating in the Job Opportunity and Basic Skills (JOBS) program. These individuals participate in JOBS to gain the skills necessary to join the workforce and retain employment. A TANF family may participate in the JOBS program and access a variety of programs and services as part of the plan to move towards self-sufficiency.

To qualify for TANF, a family of three must be below 36 percent of the Federal Poverty Limit (FPL). This means the family's income cannot be more than $616 per month. Currently the maximum monthly benefit for a family of three is $506 (approximately 30 percent of FPL). There is a 60-month time limit for adults to receive TANF.

The TANF program serves a diverse population with a wide range of abilities and challenges. Over 90 percent of TANF recipients have no current earnings and about 31 percent of adults receiving TANF have at least one documented or self-disclosed disability. Approximately, 9 percent of TANF households are homeless. Culturally appropriate eligibility and case management services are provided in numerous languages on a continual basis. They include but are not limited to Spanish, Russian, Vietnamese, Somali, Bosnian, Mandarin, Arabic, Burmese, etc. In situations where the office does not have staff to provide specific language services, interpreters are available.

Approximately 38.5 percent of all children receiving TANF are 0-6 years old. In about 15 percent of TANF households, the adults receive assistance for the children but not for themselves. In these households, many have an adult who is disabled and receives Social Security benefits or a caretaker relative, such as an aunt, uncle or grandparent, who is caring for the children.

The State Family Pre-SSI/SSDI (SFPSS) Program is designed to assist TANF-eligible individuals with disabilities obtain Social Security disability benefits through the Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) programs. The program serves individuals who are not required to participate in the JOBS program. The program provides families with a cash grant, professional assistance with Social Security Administration (SSA) applications and appeals as well as case management services. Once a client is awarded SSI benefits, the department recovers a portion of the payments it made to the family during the application process from the client's initial SSI lump-sum payment. In 2017, 137 SFPSS participants were approved for SSI and from January through April 2018, 35 SFPSS participants were approved for SSI.

Program Justification and Link to Focus Areas

The TANF and Pre-SSI/SSDI cash assistance programs are key safety net programs that provide assistance to the most vulnerable of Oregonians. Without TANF cash assistance, more families would be homeless, which makes finding and maintaining employment extremely difficult. Being in a constant state of crisis can negatively impact children, including their ability to attend school and progress in learning. The program works with families to identify a pathway to self-reliance. The cash assistance, skill development and job placement help families to meet their basic needs while striving to move forward. Meeting the basic needs of families, increasing their job-readiness, or helping them receive disability benefits, promotes safer and healthier communities.

The TANF program has reinvested funds into efforts that maximize the dollars for benefits targeted at building participant progression in work related activities, identifying and building on skills and leveraging community collaborations to provide solid foundations that lead not only to employment placement but retention and advancement. A new Family Assessment Tool was developed and piloted in 2017 to assess the needs and goals of families receiving TANF. A data tracking tool was also created to identify family progression. The tool was released for use statewide as of January 2018 and is required to be offered to work-eligible adults within 90 days of TANF approval and yearly at recertification. Additional time is needed to track and accumulate data, which will be used to track family progression and more readily address the needs of TANF recipients.

Program Performance

TANF & Pre-SSI/SSDI Children, Adults and Cases -
January 2005 to January 2018

In February 2018, the TANF and Pre-SSI/SSDI programs combined served 21,664 families. These households included 38,821 children and 18,571 adults from a diverse range of abilities, cultures and communities. TANF cash assistance expenditures increased since the onset of the economic recession but are slowly decreasing as the caseload drops. In the 2017-2019 Biennium we increased from 78 percent to 93 percent of staffing need, according to the workload model, by adding more Family Coaches (case managers). We will be able to maintain 93 percent of need through the 2019-2021 biennium, even with anticipated changes in workload. The case management resources are critical for improving outcomes of engaging clients in plans to achieve self-reliance, increase family stability, maintain federal participation rates, and achieve enhanced employment placements.

Enabling Legislation/Program Authorization

The TANF program is authorized under Title IV-A of the Social Security Act, as amended by the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996 (PRWORA), and the Deficit Reduction Act of 2005. A significant portion of the TANF eligibility criteria is codified in state statute chapters 411 and 412.

Funding Streams

TANF is funded primarily through General Fund dollars and the TANF Federal block grant that requires a minimum state expenditure level, known as Maintenance of Effort (MOE). Oregon's TANF block grant is $166.8 million per year. Oregon's MOE requirement is equal to 80 percent of the state's historic expenditures or approximately $98 million per year. Expenditures counted towards MOE must not be from a federal source and must not be matched to other federal funds. Oregon generally meets MOE through a combination of eligible DHS and other agency expenditures.

Both the TANF federal block grant and MOE expenditures must be spent in a manner reasonably calculated to meet one of the four federally-mandated TANF purposes which are: 1) provide assistance to needy families; 2) end dependence of needy parents by promoting job preparation, work and marriage; 3) prevent and reduce out-of-wedlock pregnancies, and 4) encourage and maintain family formations.

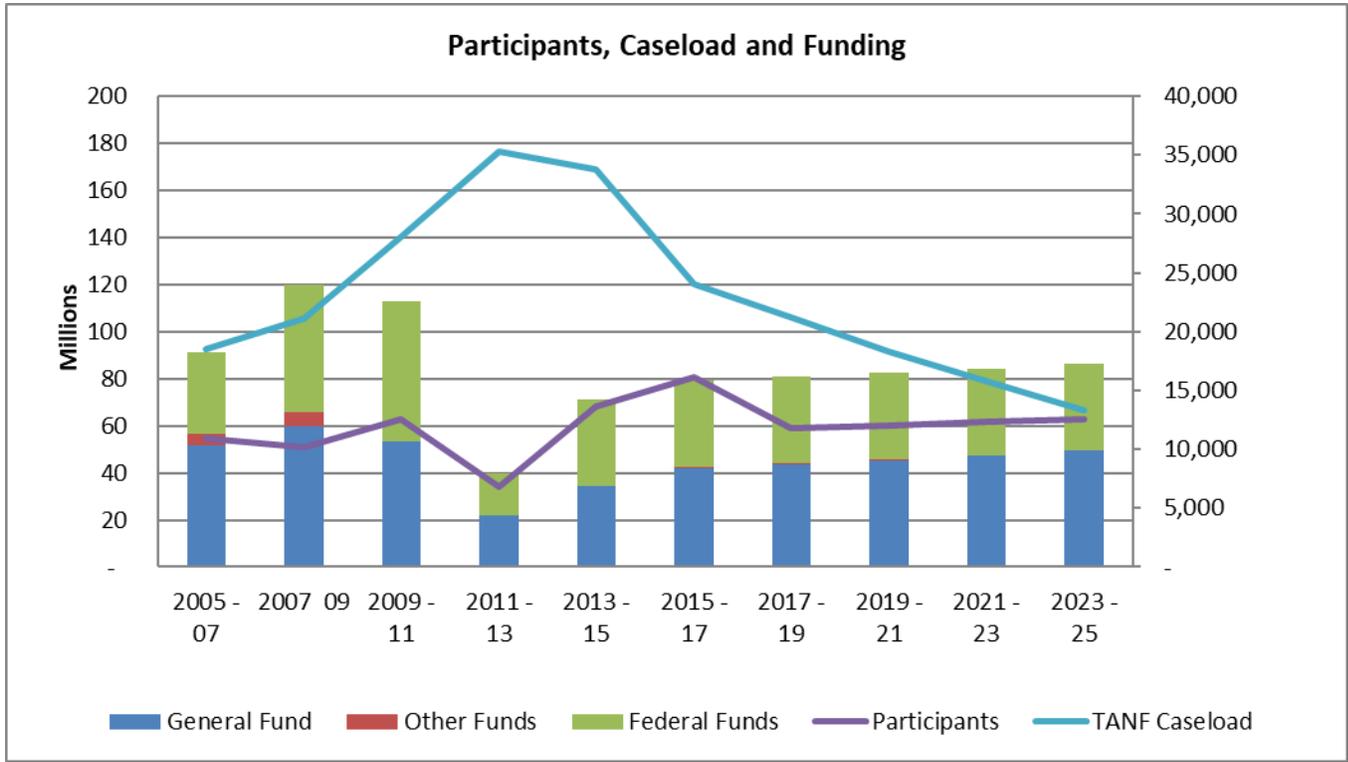

While TANF benefits for most single-parent families are funded with a split of TANF Federal block grant funds and General Fund dollars counted towards Oregon's MOE requirement, TANF benefits for two-parent families are funded solely with General Fund dollars that are not counted towards Oregon's TANF MOE requirement. In addition, the State Family Pre-SSI/SSDI (SFP) program is funded with General Fund dollars not counted towards Oregon's MOE requirement. The Department recovers a portion of SFP funds expended through client reimbursements.

Funding Justification, and Significant Changes to CSL:

The GB fully funds the TANF caseload forecasted for 19-21 and continues current eligibility and timelines.

Program Overview

The Job Opportunity and Basic Skills (JOBS) program is an employment and training program for individuals receiving Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) cash benefits. The goal of the program is to help adults, caretaker relatives, and minor parents in TANF families gain the skills needed to become self-sufficient through employment, training and education, as well as family stability-related services that address other obstacles to employment.

TANF serves families with children who are in deep poverty and represent an increasingly diverse population. Most parents or caretakers in these families are federally required to participate in JOBS program work activities to maintain their eligibility for cash assistance. They can face sanctions that include losing benefits, if they fail to participate. JOBS services are available in every county, provided through DHS field offices and a network of contracted providers.

For the period April 1, 2017 through March 31, 2018 the average monthly number of TANF families receiving cash assistance was 21,601. The average monthly number of individuals required to participate in JOBS activities was 12,869, which relates to 60 percent of TANF families.

Program Description

DHS family coaches work with TANF families to develop individualized case plans to achieve self-sufficiency, provide supports, and monitor progress in achieving family goals. The customized case plan outlines the JOBS activities selected and designed to help them achieve their goals. The plan also includes the support service payments to be provided, such as transportation and child care, so they can fully engage in their plan.

DHS administers the JOBS program through an extensive, statewide network of community partners that help deliver services. Partners include contracted JOBS service providers, Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) agencies, community colleges and the education community, the Oregon Employment Department, Work Source Oregon One-Stop offices, and many local and county-based organizations. Services are delivered at partner locations and some are available on-site at local DHS offices.

The JOBS program provides an array of employment and training-related services which include: job preparation, unpaid work experience, subsidized employment, job placements, vocational training and education, Life Skills, and Adult Basic Education, High School and GED services. Additional services are offered to assist families address issues that prevent them from looking for, accepting, or maintaining employment.

JOBS participants include individuals from diverse populations. Program services are designed to ensure activities are delivered with service equity, equal access, and cultural appropriateness.

JOBS also provide a Job Participation Incentive (JPI) food benefit to Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) participants with dependent children who meet the TANF federal work participation rate by working in unsubsidized employment.

Over the past decade, the program experienced several challenges in meeting the employment and training-related needs of participants. The economic struggles that started in 2008 triggered extreme program reductions implemented July 1, 2011. The JOBS program was reduced by over 50 percent, which caused severe cuts to the program's service array and eliminated approximately 75 percent of contracted staff available to serve participants. Among the limited services that remained were job search, unpaid work experience, supported work, and subsidized employment. Child care, transportation assistance and other supports continued to be available in a reduced manner.

The reduction to program services and capacity, combined with the increased caseload, low staffing levels for family coaches, and lack of jobs to transition participants into, the state was unable to meet federal regulations that require 50 percent of work-eligible adults in the TANF program participate in work preparation activities. Oregon was not compliant with the federal work participation requirement in 2007. The department submitted a Corrective Compliance Plan that outlined the steps to be taken to meet participation goals. By following the plan, working with partner agencies to employ participation strategies, and fully utilizing the family coaching resources to engage more families in the program, the state met federal participation requirements and avoided penalties starting with FFY 2008.

In the 2013-15 biennium, the budget allowed for added flexibility in contracts and support services so that families in the TANF program could have support in vocational training and education, GED completion, and life skills classes. Other services previously eliminated have since been added back including: Adult Basic Education, Life Skills classes, services that helped participants remove other obstacles to employment such as home visitor specialists, vocational nurse consultants and specialists who helped parents or caretaker relatives with criminal history or fines work with the courts on expungement. They also provided guidance to clients for talking with prospective employers during job searches about these issues.

In July 2015, with the support of the Legislature, additional expansion was implemented with the passage of HB 3535, in which projected savings from caseload reduction was reinvested back in to the TANF program resulting in strategies and policy changes to improve outcomes for families. Funding provided opportunities for community-based collaborative impact contracts that focused on family stabilization, preventing entry into TANF, promoting job retention. The program was also able to increase flexibility in support service payments and family supportive services. Additional family coaching resources helped test strategies to engage families in ways that improved outcomes in the areas of engagement in a self-sufficiency plan, improving family stability, improving federal participation rates, and increasing employment placements. These services continue to improve outcomes for TANF families in the current 2017-19 biennium.

Program Justification and Link to Focus Areas

The primary focus area of the JOBS program is to impact and actively contribute to a Thriving Oregon Economy. The JOBS program aims to reduce unemployment for participants, including underrepresented and underserved individuals, and create job-ready communities that contribute to Oregon's overall economic well-being.

There is also a direct link to a secondary focus of Healthy and Safe Communities. JOBS is an integral part of Oregon's workforce service delivery system by providing employment and training services to low-income families receiving TANF. Many of the parents or caretakers of the children in this program have limited or no work experience. The JOBS employment and training program provides activities and services focused on preparing participants to enter the workforce, help them find employment, and support them as they transition off public assistance.

TANF is a required partner under WIOA. While WIOA programs serve all Oregonians, the JOBS program provides services geared to address specific needs of TANF participants to obtain job skills and work-experience-related training, assist with connections to employment opportunities, and family stability efforts. WIOA affords the state additional opportunities to expand and maximize coordination of employment and training workforce partners at the state and local levels, establishing a continuum of services that improves outcomes for all job seekers.

Program Performance

DHS measures total employment placements reported by parents or caretaker relatives served by the JOBS program each month. Due to the economic downturn, average monthly placements in FY 2010 were 30 percent lower than in FY 2008. With gradual flexibility added to the program since July 2013, additional investments in the program starting July 2015, and improvements in the economy, job placements have increased back to levels ranging from 900 to 1,000 per month. Prior to July 2013, placements last reached these levels in December 2007. The average monthly placements for FY 2017 was 921. 22 percent of placements are at least 30 hours per week and at least $11.55 per hour (benchmark placements).

In April 2018, the statewide average wage for full or part-time wages combined was $11.44 per hour, ranging between $11.13 and $11.68. The state minimum wage ranges between $10.00 / $10.25 / $11.25, depending on the area.

The percentage of parents or caretaker relatives who exit TANF due to employment and do not return within 18 months is currently 62 percent. Future data is expected to start showing an increased percentage based on the improving economy and expanded program design.

Enabling Legislation/Program Authorization

The TANF program is authorized under Title IV-A of the Social Security Act, as amended by the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996 (PRWORA), and the Deficit Reduction Act of 2005. A significant portion of the JOBS program is codified in State statute chapters 411 and 412.

Funding Streams

The JOBS program is funded through the Federal TANF block grant and General Fund dollars that count towards the state Maintenance of Effort (MOE) requirement. Oregon's TANF block grant is $166.8 million per year. Oregon's MOE requirement is equal to 80 percent of the state's historic expenditures or approximately $98 million per year. Expenditures counted towards MOE must not have been from a Federal source and must not be matched to other Federal funds. Oregon generally meets MOE through a combination of eligible DHS and other agency expenditures. Both the TANF federal block grant and MOE expenditures must be spent in a manner reasonably calculated to meet one of four TANF purposes, which are: 1) provide assistance to needy families; 2) end dependence of needy parents by promoting job preparation, work and marriage; 3) prevent and reduce out-of-wedlock pregnancies, and 4) encourage and maintain family formations.

Funding Justification, And Significant Changes to CSL

POP 122 – Emergency Housing Assistance

The housing crisis has greatly impacted the low-income families in Oregon, making them even more vulnerable. This policy option package addresses the housing need by expanding the Department of Human Services, Self-Sufficiency Programs' ability to provide emergency housing services and supports to homeless families and families at risk of homelessness in areas where assistance is not available, including maximizing coordinated efforts with housing and community action agencies and other local partner organizations across the state. If this policy option package is not funded, homelessness and housing needs will remain unmet, reducing the ability to strengthen and stabilize the living situation of low-income families, and potentially requiring reliance on assistance programs.

An investment of $6.5M TANF FF in emergency housing will be transferred to help low-income Oregonians experiencing a housing crisis to remain safe and provide wrap-around services that support families during their period of instability. The Department of Human Services (DHS) and Oregon Housing and Community Services (OHCS) are working to align services and strategies to better serve our families and provide quality person-centered assistance. DHS and OHCS will work in collaboration on the four strategies below to begin to address the statewide housing stabilization issues facing the families we serve.

POP 127 - Vocational Training and Education Expansion

This POP expands targeted vocational training and education opportunities for families receiving Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) assistance in rural locations as and provides access to underserved TANF populations statewide. The expansion would include a comprehensive service model with eligible participants enrolling in training programs that match up with in-demand, high wage job openings, such as in the healthcare or information technology areas. Participants receive a scholarship/stipend to help augment Pell grants, with average awards estimated cost at about $2,976 per participant ($2,000 of which is a tuition stipend) plus additional support services funding for the expanded participant group; approximately 850 individuals would participate in the program over the course of the biennium, doubling the current capacity. The pilot project will be a joint effort among workforce program partners, the education communities, and the Department of Human Services.

Program Overview

The Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) is a federally funded food benefit program. SNAP provides supplemental food benefit dollars to low-income families, seniors, single adults, people with disabilities, and children to help purchase food to meet their nutritional needs. Currently, one in six Oregonians receive these benefits. Benefits to clients are 100 percent federally funded; the administration of the program requires a 50 percent state match.

Money from the program spreads quickly through the state economy. The United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) calculates that for every $5 of SNAP benefits, there is $9 of total economic activity. SNAP also has been an important and constantly growing anti-poverty program. Recent research has shown that SNAP benefits reduce the depth and severity of poverty, and have a particularly strong effect on reducing the depth and severity of child poverty.

Program Description

SNAP serves as a crucial safety net. Food benefits are intended to be a supplement to what families already provide. However, for households with little or no income, it is the primary means to feed their families. Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) within the USDA regulates SNAP. Although Federal regulations do allow a few state options, any significant variation from the regulations must be approved by FNS through a formal process.

For the last three years, even during times of high caseload growth, Oregon has been ranked as one of the top three states nationally for program participation. The participation rate is the percentage of potentially SNAP-eligible persons in the state receiving SNAP benefits. Outreach efforts along with policy and procedural changes have helped significantly increase participation in SNAP. Oregon SNAP Outreach currently partners with 15 non-profit organizations including: Partners for a Hunger Free Oregon, the Oregon Food Bank and 211info. These partners have been invaluable in helping to increase and maintain Oregon’s SNAP participation rates.

The program caseload is slowly declining as the economy continues to recover. Simplifying policies and making it easier for Oregonians to apply and meet eligibility requirements continues to support timely benefit delivery. Approximately one in six Oregonians or 16 percent of the population receive SNAP benefits. In March of 2018, a total of 645,322 Oregonians received SNAP benefits, which includes 373,734 cases (households). In March of 2018, a total of $79,302,512 SNAP benefit dollars was paid to Oregonians which are spent in clients’ local communities. According to the USDA’s Economic Research Service, 8,900 to 17,900 full-time jobs are created per $1 billion in SNAP benefits.

Program Justification and Link to Focus Areas

SNAP directly addresses the 10-Year Outcome for Healthy People by providing an important economic boost to struggling households and access to nutritious foods. According to the USDA Economic Research Service, receipt of SNAP benefits reduced the national poverty rate by almost eight percent during the recent recession. The SNAP program can also provide limited assistance with job search and links to employment resources through the Oregon Food Stamp Employment and Training (OFSET) program and the SNAP Training and Employment Program (STEP), nationally known as the SNAP 50/50 employment program.

Program Performance

The goals of the SNAP program are to ensure that benefits are delivered accurately and in a timely manner to those who are eligible for the program. It also aims to ensure those who are eligible for the program have access to program benefits. Oregon's program has enabled the state to maintain a high participation rate along with a high Federal Quality Control (QC) rate. Oregon's SNAP program has continually performed above the national average and not paid a performance penalty in ten years.

Oregon has received multiple federal bonuses because of the state's high SNAP participation rate and has also been the recipient of multiple competitive national grants. For the past five years Oregon was one of six states recognized for the timeliness of processing SNAP application and received awards with performance bonuses totaling more than $13.6 million. Oregon has consistently been among the best in the nation. The bonus award funding has been used over the years to support partner agencies, help meet the program's goals and, frequently, to shore up needs in other programs through the State General Fund.

Oregon is considered a model state by FNS in terms of program access and commitment to customer service. One example of this is Oregon's Lean process. The lean process has streamlined and standardized the eligibility process statewide to ensure that most applicants receive benefits within 48 hours of applying. The process continues to receive federal and national recognition resulting in visits from federal partners and other states to observe best practices.

The 2010 census data showed that 15.8 percent of Oregonians lived in poverty, which was slightly higher than the national average of 15.3 percent. SNAP participation in Oregon peaked in August 2012 at 445,508 cases serving 814,450 people. Benefits issued in Oregon from 2007 to 2013 have more than doubled from $487,482,626 to $1,236,125,996 respectively. This shows SNAP is an important anti-poverty program that has seen substantial growth.

Following the peak participation year of 2012, Oregon SNAP benefits have seen a decrease. However, the 2017 amount issued of $999,429,991 remains more than double the 2007 issuance. Money from the program spreads quickly through the economy. The USDA calculates that for every $5 of SNAP benefits, there is $9 of total economic activity.

Enabling Legislation/Program Authorization

SNAP is guided by federal legislation found in the "Farm Bill" authorized by The Agricultural Act of 2014 (P.L. 113-79, Feb 7, 2014). Program policy is reauthorized every five years through the Farm Bill. The Farm Bill is due for reauthorization later this year.

Funding Streams

SNAP benefits are 100 percent federally funded. Oregon is responsible for 50 percent of the administrative costs. Oregon's portion of the administrative costs for SNAP comes from the State General Fund.

Funding Justification, And Significant Changes to CSL

SNAP is funded at current service level.

Program Overview

The Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) has an Employment and Training (E&T) component. In Oregon, there are currently three different types of SNAP Employment and Training programs:

- The Oregon Food Stamp Employment and Training (OFSET) Program provides employment-related services to adult SNAP participants. The services for this program are 100 percent federally funded. There is a support services component required by the state to be provided to participants participating in OFSET services. Support services can only be funded through a 50/50 match, per the United States Department of Agriculture’s (USDA) Food and Nutrition Services (FNS). This program assists participants to gain valuable skills, training or experience that will improve employment prospects leading to self-sufficiency and a reduced reliance on SNAP benefits. OFSET services are offered in areas that are not subject to the ABAWD policy.

- The SNAP Training and Employment Program (STEP), nationally known as the SNAP 50/50 reimbursement program, provides employment-related services to SNAP participants who voluntarily choose to pursue employment and training resources. There are currently 24 contractors in Oregon who draw down federal funds with their own non-federal match to provide services in their organizations in over 80 total sites to the populations they serve. With the addition of Oregon Employment Department as a statewide provider, STEP services are available in every county. During FFY 2019, additional STEP providers will be added, including five more Community Colleges.
- Able Bodied Adults without Dependents (ABAWD) policy is a SNAP benefit time limit of three months within a three-year period for those individuals between the ages of 18-49 who do not meet exemption criteria and who do not meet the minimum requirements of 80 hours of work-related activity per month. The ABAWD policy was implemented in FFY 2016 in Washington and Multnomah Counties, due to these counties loss of the federal waiver in part due to dropping unemployment rates. In FFY 2017 the policy was expanded to include Clackamas County. During FFY 2018, the policy was additionally implemented in Benton, Lane, Marion, and Yamhill Counties. This policy is expected to expand to 6 more counties January 1st, 2019.

Civil Rights Training is required annually of all DHS staff involved in the administration of the SNAP program (which includes contracted partners and their staff) so they understand civil rights related laws, regulations, procedures, and directives. Participants are informed of their rights and responsibilities at certification, interim change and recertification, and on all DHS forms. This includes the right to receive information in an (alternate) format or language they understand. DHS follows the Americans with Disabilities Act and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act.

Contracted staff must provide services to DHS participants without regard to race, religion, national origin, sex, age, marital status, sexual orientation or disability. Contractor services must reasonably accommodate the cultural, language and other special needs of participants. Contractors that do not have individuals who speak the language contact an interpretive service for the customer and provide materials in the participants' language preferences. Participants may file a report of discrimination at any time.

Oregon’s SNAP program has a proven record of partnering with a wide variety of organizations to expand and reach underserved populations, including refugees. Through the implementation of ABAWD, agreements were modified to allow communication between the Immigrant and Refugee Community Organization (IRCO) and the ABAWD contractor to streamline and minimize potential barriers.

Oregon continues to fully develop and further expand the STEP Program as part of an ongoing investment in the Oregon economy and its communities. Oregon has been moving in the direction of building a continuum of services in partnership with key stakeholders engaged in the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA). Oregon will provide SNAP participants who are unemployed or underemployed, opportunities to lift themselves out of poverty, while strengthening the workforce system and employers will benefit from the number of individuals who are more fully trained and prepared for employment.

Program Description – OFSET, ABAWD, STEP

Oregon has 31 contracts with employment-related partners in all Oregon counties to deliver E&T components. Contractors specialize in workforce development and job placement. Components are designed to assist SNAP participants to move into employment. Typically, participants have an assessment followed by job search training and supported independent job search Contractors may ask participants to participate in a combination of components as needed. Other allowable activities include Adult Basic Education (GED), English as a Second Language (ESL), job retention activities, and short-term vocational training. Participation is limited to a maximum of eight weeks per year for OFSET, but ABAWD and STEP are ongoing programs.

The USDA FNS determines the annual allotment of E&T administrative funding for the OFSET and ABAWD Programs. FNS has a set amount of funding for all states. Each state’s share is based on a formula using, in part, the state’s SNAP mandatory participant figure. Mandatory participants are defined as those aged 18 to 59 (or age 16 and 17 if the participant is the primary person/head of household) and who do not meet a federal exemption. Federal exemptions include the following:

- Caretaker of a dependent child under age 6
- Caretaker of an incapacitated individual
- Physical or mental barriers to employment
- TANF participant
- Receipt of unemployment benefits
- Participation in alcohol or drug rehabilitation
- Eligible students enrolled at least half time
- Employed 30 hours a week at federal minimum wage.

The FNS annual allotment is the major cost driver for the OFSET and ABAWD Programs. As this number is adjusted annually, services provided by contractors are scaled back to stay within budget.

A limited amount of support service funding is available to participants. Support services are provided to pay a participants' up-front transportation expense related to independent job search efforts, such as transportation to job interviews, submitting job applications and informal, in-person job search. The majority of reimbursements are vendor payments in the form of gas vouchers and bus tickets. Contractors use the lowest cost alternative available to maximize the number of participants who may receive a support service payment.

The support service budget is funded by 50 percent General Fund and 50 percent Federal fund per FNS regulations. Since 2009, the annual Oregon support service budget has remained at $1.2 million. This figure is based on 20,000 anticipated participants using $60 in support services per participant.

The STEP Program works in partnership with community organizations that offer employment and training opportunities to participants. Each community organization provides wraparound services to compliment E&T services that increase protective factors and success rates. The E&T program is a package of services, which includes assessment, component activities, and case management. Some STEP providers also offer participant's support services. The allowable E&T components activities provided by these organizations include job search-related activities, job search training, unpaid work experience or training, short-term education such as vocational training, and job retention efforts. STEP contractors are reimbursed 50 percent for services provided to SNAP recipients under their approved agreement. STEP funding from USDA FNS currently has no cap.

SNAP E&T contractors work to leverage resources with other workforce programs. While E&T dollars cannot be utilized for participants where there is a prior resource available (for example, job preparation activities for TANF participants would be funded with Job Opportunity and Basic Skills (JOBS) TANF-funded dollars and not SNAP E&T dollars). The program does work with programs funded through TANF and WIOA to coordinate services and refer participants into services that may not be funded by E&T but could benefit the job seeker. An example of this would be a referral of a SNAP E&T participant to a WIOA funded training program or the leveraging of job openings and referrals with co-located job placement programs.

Program Justification and Link to Focus Areas

The SNAP E&T program's goal is to assist participants in gaining skills that will improve their employment prospects and reduce reliance on SNAP benefits. Participants improve job skills, which add to the diversity and strength of Oregon's workforce. Using local contractors to deliver the E&T program results in a higher quality workforce because services can be tailored to the area and local economies benefit from these expenses. The program supports the Thriving Oregon Economy focus area with the goal of long-term economic prosperity and resiliency through people-based strategies.

Program Performance

For FFY 2018, DHS projects that a total of 84,300 participants are eligible for SNAP E&T programs. However, the program anticipates it will only serve one-third of potential participants per year because of the amount of funding received.

Enabling Legislation/Program Authorization

This program is mandated by Federal legislation found in the Food and Nutrition Act of 2008, authorized by the 2008 Farm Bill. In February 2014, President Obama signed the 2014 Farm Bill (aka. the Agricultural Act of 2014). Program policy is reauthorized every five years through the Farm Bill and the next reauthorization will happen in 2019.

Funding Streams

This program is funded primarily through Federal funds, with a small amount of General Fund dollars. E&T administrative costs are 100 percent Federal funds based on a fixed formula. ABAWD pledge funds, which are 100 percent Federal funds, are specific to support individuals who are at-risk of losing SNAP benefits.

For 2018, administrative costs are estimated at $1,882,746. Oregon's portion of the ABAWD pledge funds are approximately $3,362,573. E&T participant support service costs are funded through 50 percent General Fund dollars and 50 percent Federal funds. For 2018, support service costs are $600,000 General Fund. The total SNAP E&T program budget is $6,445,319.

STEP Partner agencies use their own non-federal funds for the allowable costs of E&T components and receive 50% Federal reimbursement money. This allows Oregon to conserve limited resources while expanding the services available to SNAP E&T participants.

Funding Justification, And Significant Changes to CSL

This program is funded at the CSL level.

Program Overview – Domestic Violence

Temporary Assistance for Domestic Violence Survivors (TA-DVS) provides temporary financial assistance and support to families affected by domestic violence during crisis or emergent situations when other resources are not available. TA-DVS is used to help the domestic violence survivor and the children address their safety concerns and stabilize their living situation, thus reducing the likelihood of the survivor returning to the abuser. The most common need for TA-DVS is when the domestic violence survivor flees the abuser. Many domestic violence survivors need additional assistance to create safety and stability in order to be successful in finding and maintaining a job, all keys to becoming self-supporting without public assistance.

Program Description

TA-DVS provides up to $1,200, over a three-month period. Payments can include but are not limited to: Initial months' move-in fees, rent or utilities, moving costs, and items to help address safety. The program serves families with minor children or individuals who are pregnant, who are low-income, and meet eligibility requirements of the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) program. Family Coaches, through DHS field offices, meet with the clients to review their situation and develop a safety plan. DHS also works in partnership with local non-profit domestic violence and sexual assault advocates who assist families with additional safety planning, confidential advocacy services, emergency shelter, and other resources.

Program Justification and Link to Focus Areas

The TA-DVS program is directly linked to the Safer, Healthier Communities focus area. Futures without Violence (formerly the Family Violence Prevention Fund) indicates that about 30 percent of women receiving public assistance have experienced domestic violence. Research has shown that individuals impacted by domestic violence have more chronic health issues<sup>i</sup> including depression and post-traumatic stress, more difficulty obtaining and maintaining employment<sup>ii</sup>, and that these impacts can be mitigated by addressing safety.<sup>iii</sup> The TA-DVS program provides economic support to very low income families who are seeking services to meet basic needs while they are working towards self-sufficiency. Ensuring safety and stability helps the domestic violence survivor be more successful when they engage in job training or job search.

Program Performance

For the fiscal year ending in June 2017, the TA-DVS program served on average 1,407 cases per month. Of these 1,407 cases on average 357 received TA-DVS funds. The average payment per family was $756.54. The low number of eligible individuals accessing the funds is primarily the result of a lack of affordable housing.

Enabling Legislation/Program Authorization

Domestic violence emergency assistance also known as TA-DVS is mandated under ORS 411.117 (1) (e). Federal authorization through the TANF block grant includes use of the TANF funds to meet non-recurrent, short-term benefits to deal with specific crisis situations including domestic violence. (See 45CFR 260.31 (b))

Funding Streams

TA-DVS is funded with the Federal TANF block grant. (See 45CFRPart260)

Program Overview – Refugee Services

The Refugee Program serves individuals and families who fled persecution in their country of origin and were legally admitted for resettlement by the United States government. The program guides refugees into self-sufficiency through employment as early as possible by providing financial services, employment related services, and acculturation services, so they can become independent and contributing members of Oregon’s economy.

Program Description

The Refugee Services Program can serve only those persons in immigration categories approved by the Federal Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR): Refugees, Asylees, Cuban/Haitian entrants and parolees, Amerasians, victims of human trafficking (international) and certain family members, and Iraqi/Afghan Special Immigrant Visa holders.

Resettlement services are comprehensive. Initial resettlement and most case coordination services are delivered by non-profit resettlement agencies located in the Portland area, where the majority of refugees seek services. These services may include essential tasks such as picking up refugees at the airport, finding them a place to live and helping to furnish their home with basic necessities. There has been some expansion of resettlement outside of the tri-county area in an effort to locate available affordable housing.

DHS branch offices determine TANF and REF cash eligibility, and SNAP eligibility. OHP eligibility is determined separately. Resettlement agencies will provide direct linkage services and Life Skill sessions.

During Federal Fiscal Year (FFY) 2017, the average monthly caseload for all resettlement agencies was 359 refugee cases. Employment-related services are delivered by the Immigrant and Refugee Community Organization (IRCO) in Portland. IRCO services may include: assistance with job search, employment acculturation, pre-employment training, English language classes, citizenship, and naturalization help. During FFY 2017, these services assisted an average of 832 refugees per month. Those refugees who resettle outside the tri-county area are served through a local DHS field office.

Those served through the Refugee Program come from all over the world. During FFY 2017, Oregon's Refugee Program assisted people from 27 different countries.

Most refugees who are resettled in the U.S. speak little to no English. Limited English capacity is expected and integrated into Refugee Program services.

Program Justification and Link to Focus Areas

This program is directly linked to Safer, Healthier Communities. Refugees receive help to become safe, healthy, and independent by learning how to understand and navigate the prevalent culture, become self-sufficient through employment as early as possible and become contributing members of Oregon's economy. These services enhance the ability of arriving refugees to succeed in the U.S. and also helps them become integrated members of the community. Most services are provided for up to eight months after arrival. Employment services can extend to a maximum of 60 months after arrival. Specialized services to refugee seniors are not time limited.

Program Performance

ORR requires states to establish goals related to self-sufficiency of refugees. Two of the more significant measures are the percentage of clients who become employed and the percentage who remain employed 90 days after placement. During Federal Fiscal Year (FFY) 2017, the Refugee Program was able to help gain employment for 62 percent of the on-going caseload, with the goal being 65 percent. The retention goal of 78 percent was surpassed with 85 percent for those still employed after 90 days.

Enabling Legislation/Program Authorization

The Refugee Program is authorized and operates under the Federal Immigration and Nationality Act and the Refugee Act (8 U.S.C. 1522). The Refugee Program operates as a public assistance program under ORS 411.060, 409.010(2) (c), and 409.010(2) (h).

Funding Streams

During the initial resettlement period, the Refugee Program serves two different populations of refugees: those refugees who are eligible for Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) and those refugees who are eligible for ORR-funded services. The TANF eligible refugees receive cash assistance and services paid with TANF funding, and all other refugees are served with ORR funds, which are federal funds. (8 U.S.C. 1522)

Funding Justification, And Significant Changes to CSL

The Refugee Program made a base adjustment to remove the Cuban/Haitian Grant of (95,000).

Youth Services (My Future My Choice)

Program Overview - Youth Services

Youth Services include sexual health education, leadership and mentor programs. These services support community prevention efforts to enable Temporary Assistance for Needy (TANF) families to break the generational dependence on public assistance.

Program Description

The “My Future-My Choice” program includes age-appropriate, medically accurate sexual health education curriculum and services for sixth and seventh grade, and a high school leadership and mentor component. These services support community prevention efforts to enable TANF families in breaking the generational dependence on public assistance. The “My Future-My Choice” program expands on the historical teen pregnancy prevention program to provide education and tools for youth to resist multiple risk taking behaviors. DHS partners with the Oregon Department of Education and the My Future-My Choice Advisory Committee to develop and implement the program. During the 2016-2017 school year this curriculum was implemented in 17 counties and 25 school districts. Various school districts implement the program throughout the year; the 2017-2018 school year data will be available August 1, 2018

Program Justification and Link to Focus Areas

The “My Future-My Choice” program is directly linked to the Safer, Healthier Communities focus area. An analysis from the National Campaign to Prevent Teen Pregnancy shows that teen childbearing (ages 19 and younger) in Oregon cost taxpayers (federal, state and local) at least $88 million in 2010. Of the total 2010 teen childbearing costs in Oregon, 32 percent were Federal costs and 68 percent were state and local costs. Investing in preventing teen pregnancy reduces the risk to teen pregnancy, which can lead to a lifetime of poverty for both the teen parent and the child. The teen birth rate in Oregon declined 49 percent between 1991 and 2010. The progress Oregon has made in reducing teen childbearing saved taxpayers an estimated $116 million in 2010 alone compared to the costs they would have incurred had the rates not fallen.

Program Performance

Oregon teen pregnancy rates have consistently stayed below the national average. According to national data from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, the 2016 national rate for births to teens between the ages of 15 to 19 is 20.3 per 1,000 teen girls. In Oregon, the teen pregnancy rate among females 15 to 19 years continues to decline, from 39.25 per 1,000 in 2010 to 23.3 per 1,000 in 2016. Similarly, the teen birth rate among females 15 to 19 years declined from 28.45 per 1,000 in 2010 to 16.6 per 1,000 in 2016.

Enabling Legislation/Program Authorization

The Oregon Legislature passed HB 2509 in 2009, which requires that all schools provide comprehensive sexual health education. The My Future–My Choice curriculum complies with all requirements of this legislation for sixth and seventh grades. DHS partners with Oregon Health Authority and Oregon Department of Education to share in responsibility for collaborative efforts to increase youth sexual health education and services.

Funding Streams

The Title V Federal Abstinence Education Program grant provides annual funding of approximately $962,303 to the My Future–My Choice Program through September of 2018. DHS submits a request for funding each year and continued funding is contingent on federal budget approval.

Program Description – Runaway and Homeless Youth (RHY)

The Runaway and Homeless Youth (RHY) program provides services and supports to young people under age 18 who are unable to live in a safe environment with a relative and lack safe alternative living arrangements, as well as individuals ages 18 to 21 without shelter. The program currently administers funding to 14 local non-profit providers in 12 counties across the state to provide shelter services, drop-in & outreach services, and job development & mentoring services. DHS partners with a cross-system advisory group to coordinate statewide policy and planning for addressing the needs of runaway and homeless youth.

Program Justification and Link to Focus Areas

This program is directly linked to Safer, Healthier Communities. The Runaway and Homeless Youth Program is focused on shelter, job development skill building, mentoring provision, and drop-in center / street outreach services for Youth under the age of 21.

While the RHY program has been focused on some supports, with the primary financial investment being made on temporarily lodging runaway and homeless youth, there needs to be additional focus and long-term investment on services for youth through this program. There is a dire need to focus on providing youth with the opportunity to make decisions about their own lives, with appropriate supports in place

With the program transitioning into SSP, there are increased opportunities within the TANF and SNAP program to leverage funding to build additional services for youth, allowing them to take more of a leadership role in their lives. The goal of this additional funding would be to help homeless youth finish high school and potentially connect them to additional training and work, so they can feel like they are more able to fully participate in decision making for their future. This would be an effort to keep today's homeless youth from becoming tomorrow's homeless adults.

Program Performance

Youth homelessness in Oregon, as well as across the country, continues to grow. Oregon currently ranks near the top in the country for the rate of homeless children and youth.

Every two years, during the last ten days of January, there is a nationwide effort to count every homeless person across the country. This Point-in-time count attempts to capture both sheltered and unsheltered homeless people to provide a snapshot of homelessness in the United States. It is an important source of information about neighbors who cannot find a permanent place to call home on a given night, but they do not tell the full story of homelessness in our communities.

According to the 2017 Point-in-time estimates, the number of homeless people in Oregon increased by 6%, from 13,176 in 2015 to 13,953 in 2017. Of these numbers, 605 were unaccompanied children under the age of 18. These children are overwhelmingly living in unsheltered locations, with just 18% living in shelters and the remaining 82% on the streets, cars, or other uninhabitable places.

The 2017-2018 school year saw counts of K-12 homeless students drop for the first time since 2012, but still showcased homelessness for 21,756 youth, or 3.75% of the total school enrollment. Of those numbers, almost 3,500 are listed as unaccompanied (not in the physical custody of a parent or guardian). Counts of homeless students in high-rent districts are dropping, while many rural districts are seeing increases, as families move seeking more affordable housing.

As DHS' RHY program has budget limitations, it is only one of a variety of funding streams going towards serving homeless and runaway youth. Approximately 2,700 youth are served annually by the 14 agencies receiving state funding. The Oregon Alliance of Children’s Programs, a partner within the RHY program landscape, serves youth ~16,000 times by their membership programs – the majority of which are under age 18.

Enabling Legislation/Program Authorization

The Oregon Legislature passed HB 3260 in 2011 and transferred all duties, functions, and powers relating to coordination and delivery of services to runaway and homeless youth and their families to the Department of Human Services. In 2013, HB 3244 assisted in extending the service age limit from 18 to 21 years of age and HB 2232 in 2015 mandated that DHS provide a report highlighting a status of the system of services and supports for Runaway and Homeless Youth (RHY) developed by DHS, and information about the committee appointed to advise and provide expertise to DHS related to the needs of Runaway and Homeless Youth in Oregon.

Funding Streams

The biennial budget for this program is $3.15M and the majority comes primarily from General Fund dollars. $600,000 FF comes from Social Services Block Grant.

Funding Justification, And Significant Changes to CSL

A transfer of the Runaway and Homeless Youth Program (RHY) to Self-Sufficiency. The transfer was implemented as runaway and homeless youth rarely entered or re-entered the foster care system. The RHY provider network’s focus is to reconnect youth with family or to connect youth and young adults with Self-Sufficiency Program services. As an independent youth or young adult, the RHY population is often eligible for Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) or other Self-Sufficiency Program benefits. Therefore, Self-Sufficiency is better situated to collaborate, support and expand the RHY network of providers.

Program Overview – Food Assistance

The Food Assistance Program help supplement the nutritional needs of elderly and other Oregonians through the provision of emergency food. The work is primarily carried out by the Oregon Food Bank and Oregon food bank network, and includes funding from both federal partners and the Oregon Hunger Response Fund.

Funding Justification, And Significant Changes to CSL

A phase-out of ($1,600,000) General Fund, to the Food Assistance Program, this additional support helped the Oregon Food Bank, through its 20 regional food banks, acquire and distribute a higher volume of food to over 950 local agencies. Additionally, Oregon Food Bank also received one-time GF for improvement in cold storage infrastructure. The funding helped the state's food bank network upgrade and expand commercial refrigerators, freezers, mobile coolers, and refrigerated trucks.

Program Overview

The Employment Related Day Care program (ERDC) helps low-income working families from a variety of cultural and linguistic backgrounds in urban and rural communities pay for quality child care. Child care helps parents stay employed and gain self-sufficiency by assisting with the consistent, stable child care parents need to remain on the job.

Program Description

ERDC provides low-income working, part-time working/student and self-employed families the same opportunity to have quality child care as other families with higher income. This helps reduce the achievement gap and end the poverty cycle. To be eligible, a family's income must be less than 185 percent of the 2018 Federal Poverty Level. For a family of three, this is $3,204 gross income per month.

The ERDC eligibility period for families is a minimum of 12 months. Parents who lose a job while on ERDC can continued on the program as they search for work. Parents also have child care coverage when they need to be on medical or pregnancy leave. The program's higher exit income limit allows for greater continuity of care and reduces the cliff affect when a family leaves the program.

Families choose their DHS approved child care provider, ERDC pays the subsidy portion directly to the provider on behalf of the family. Families pay a portion of the cost of child care, called a copayment. Copayments are based on a sliding scale and remain stable during the 12-month certification period. Families may pay additional costs when a provider charges more than the maximum rate DHS can pay. Information about ERDC subsidy or becoming a DHS provider is available in English, Spanish, Russian, Somali, Chinese and Vietnamese. DHS offers an interpretation line when a language is not available, bilingual staff at branch offices to assist families whose first language is not English and offer alternate formats.

DHS partners with several Head Start and Early Head Start Grantee programs to offer full-day, full-year contracts for ERDC families. DHS also contracts with thirty-two school districts throughout the state offering child care services to teen parents attending high school and as they transition in to the workforce

DHS collaborates with multiple partners in support of child care system activities. Contracts with 211info provide consumer education to parents, employers, care givers, and others interested in the ERDC program. 211info helps to educate parents on the importance of choosing the right caregiver. Collaboration with ELD/OCC and Child Care Resource and Referral (CCR&R) to support recruitment of new providers and training to meet provider requirements statewide. DHS also works closely with ELD/OCC on policy implementation, quality child care and the Child Care and Development Fund(CCDF) state plan.

Many ERDC families are receiving other services like SNAP or transitioning from Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF). On average in 2017, 265 families per month transitioned from TANF to ERDC. In October 2017, there were 8,658 ERDC cases and 7,615 (88 percent) were receiving food benefits through the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP).

The ERDC program operates under a caseload cap. To maintain caseload levels due to budget restrictions the program utilizes a reservation list. Families who have applied and been denied due to program capacity are added to the list when it is in use. Families are then invited to apply for ERDC as the budget allows.

The major cost drivers for the program are the number of families receiving ERDC, child care provider rates and more families accessing licensed child care. Additional cost drivers are contracted services such as Head Start and Teen Parent Program. The cost per case prior to October 1, 2015 was $558, current cost per case in May 2018 has increased to $803.

Program Justification and Link to Focus Areas

Research indicates children who receive a high quality early childhood education have better math, language and social skills as they enter school. Children who attended preschool show positive long-term effects on important adolescent and young adult outcomes, such as high school graduation, years of education completed, earnings, reduced crime and teen pregnancy<sup>1</sup>. Low-income families who do not have access to subsidy programs are faced with difficult choices when it comes to child care expenses. They may rely on an older sibling or a variety of family and friends, leading to inconsistent or unstable care. DHS supports improving safety, quality and enrichment of child care programs that support parent engagement and family stability as well as ensuring low-income families have access to a variety of child care settings.

Contracted slots can provide stable care for low-income infant, toddler and preschool children in quality programs and support teen parents access to quality child care for their children, so they can continue their education. The ERDC programs continued enhancements have increased the support for a thriving economy. In the summer of 2018 for the program will pilot a pre-pay options licensed child care centers. Participating centers will receive payment at the beginning of the month. The goal is to increase the availability of quality child care slots for families receiving subsidy.

Program Performance

In October 2017 there were 8,658 ERDC cases that served 16,323 children. The average cost per case has increased $28 from $775 in October 2017 to $803 in May 2018. As of October 2017, there were 1,691 licensed child care providers actively providing child care for DHS families across the state.

In October 2017, child care subsidy payments were issued for 12,486 children through the ERDC program. Of those children, 72.3 percent were enrolled in licensed care. An additional 4.2 percent of children were in care with providers who are exempt from OCC licensing. Participation in licensed care is generally highest among preschool aged children at 79.1 percent. Infant and toddler participation (ages zero to three) is slightly lower at 78.5 percent followed by school aged (six through seventeen) at 61.2 percent.

The number of children and families the department serves in this program is based on available funding. The program is currently capped at 8,300 through legislative action.

Enabling Legislation/Program Authorization:

ORS 409.010(2) (c), 411.141 and 418.485 provide statutory authority to DHS for administration of the ERDC program.

Child Care and Development Fund (CCDF) grants are administered by the Department of Health and Human Services, Administration for Children and Families Office of Child Care. They are authorized by the Child Care and Development Block Grant (CCDBG); 45 CFR Part 98 and 99. On November 19, 2014, president Obama signed into law the CCDBG Act of 2014 (P.L. 113-186), which reauthorized the program for the first time since 1996. The Department of Education (ODE), Early Learning Division, and Office of Child Care<sup>2</sup> is designated as the lead agency in Oregon to administer these funds. CCDF funding is transferred from ODE to DHS.

This Policy Option Package would enhance ERDC through increased rates that were bargained in December of 2018 to begin January 1, 2019. The $10.7 million investment is due to increases in available federal funds. It is anticipated that FFY 2019 will continue the level of funding from FFY 2018 which added significant dollars to the grant. If the Federal investment continues into FFY 2020 additional limitation may be requested at that point.

Because the program is not funded to serve all eligible clients, the ERDC caseload must be managed by using a reservation list. The reservation list means families cannot access child care when it is critical for them to gain or keep employment, children are then being left home alone, parents are forced to use a patchwork of unstable or unsafe child care or leaving their employment

Other changes:

In addition, ERDC rate increases bargained for 2017-19 were funded 21 months of the 24 months in 2017-19 budget. A phase-in of ($721,983) was needed to fund the additional 3 months for SEIU and AFSCME Provider Rates for the entire 2019-21 biennium.

There was a phase-out of ($750,000), from the special purpose appropriation, for one-time training costs for SEIU and AFSCME child care providers. The funding was a pass-through to the Early Learning Division (ELD) within the Oregon Department of Education; ELD used the dollars to expand existing contracts with Portland State University.

Program Overview

Family Support and Connections (FS&C) is a child abuse and neglect prevention program that provides a wide array of services including home visits, resource brokering and parenting classes. These families primarily are eligible for the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) program, which is a safety net program that provides cash assistance to parents.

Program Description

FS&C is a component of the continuum of community supports to prevent child abuse and neglect. This program focuses on TANF families who may be at risk for involvement with the child welfare and foster care systems. DHS collaborates with numerous local and state, informal and formal prevention services, and activities to meet families' needs. Program staff work within the existing community structure to coordinate referrals and deliver direct services where gaps or needs exist for a family.

Services are designed to increase parental protective factors and decrease the risk factors of child abuse and neglect. This program provides home visiting services in all 36 counties and works collaboratively with Self Sufficiency and Child Welfare program staff, contracted staff and other community partners.

FS&C also provides services and supports for families supporting them move towards greater independence while promoting the health and well-being of all family members. The service array focuses on immediate crisis needs of families but also provides prevention and early intervention services to help families avoid reaching a crisis.

Because a diverse population is served through the program, FS&C providers are asked to design their program in a culturally appropriate way to best meet the needs of the families served. This is achieved, in part, by hiring staff who reflect the demographics of the local community. Local FS&C Steering Committees give guidance and direction on how services are provided to ensure community linkages are established. The local steering committees are also required to have membership representative of the cultural diversity in the district they serve. The steering committees also include representatives from local agencies working with minority and special needs populations, and faith-based organizations.

The program provides short-term interventions including home visits, family strength needs assessments, advocacy for services in the community, supports to strengthen parenting, coping and other skills to support the healthy development of children, individualized interventions and joint outcome-based case planning. The services are community-based and tailored to meet a family's needs. FS&C advocates support the family by working with them to identify risks and strengths. Together they tackle issues before there is irreversible damage, reducing the incidence of child abuse and neglect.

The major cost drivers are the number of families in need of child abuse and neglect prevention services as well as the number of contracted staff needed to provide the preventative interventions. The program has a small budget which does not accommodate the actual need. Current service level is only approaching 50% of demonstrated need in Oregon communities.

Program Justification and Link to Focus Areas

This program focuses on building safer, healthier communities by promoting its goal of increasing child safety and contributing to family stability. By achieving this goal, the program helps to reduce or prevent TANF children from entering the child welfare and foster care system. Children who enter foster care are more likely to struggle with school, experience homelessness and unemployment, and may become part of the juvenile and adult corrections system. Most TANF families served through FS&C have significant needs that include needing help with parenting, housing or other stabilization services. TANF is an important part of the service array, providing cash assistance, case management, and employment and training services to families with children living in extreme poverty.

Program Performance

The primary performance measure is the percentage of children entering foster care who received TANF 60 days prior to foster care entry. The display below shows the percentage of children entering foster care who had received TANF has been increasing.

There continues to be a high percentage and disproportionate number of African-American children who received TANF prior to entering foster care. The TANF program and FS&C is aligning with Child Welfare, and other family stability efforts such as the Oregon Parenting Education Collaborative (funding for parenting hubs and Evidence Based Curricula delivery), Maternal, Infant, and Early Childhood Home Visiting program (MIECHV), Head Start, Early Head Start and Relief Nurseries. The SPRF funding has increased local service provision availability in communities specific to this population. Applicants had to demonstrate in their request that the community demographics were included and plans to implement programs equitably.

Enabling Legislation/Program Authorization

Title II of the Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Act (CAPTA), as amended by P.L. 111-320, authorizes grant funds to be released to the states and names the program Community-Based Grants for the Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect (CBCAP). The grant requires a 20 percent match of State General Funds.

The TANF program is authorized under Title IV-A of the Social Security Act, as amended by the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996 (PRWORA), and the Deficit Reduction Act of 2005.

Funding Streams

The FS&C program is funded with a blend of TANF Federal Funds, CBCAP grant funds and State General Fund dollars. The CBCAP grant awards additional leveraged funds each year based on a formula giving credit for the previous year’s contribution of state General Fund dollars. In addition, individual contracted programs in the DHS districts add leveraged funds on the local level from agency donations, grants and fundraising.

Primary Long-Term Focus Area: Accurate Medicaid determinations
Secondary Long-Term Focus Area: Timely benefit issuance
Program Contact: Sam Osborn, Derek Muir

Program Overview

The Oregon Health Plan (OHP) is Oregon’s Medicaid program. It provides health care coverage for an estimated 1.1 million low-income Oregonians from all walks of life. This includes working families, children, pregnant women, single adults and seniors. In 2018, OHP eligibility staff and regional outreach coordinators completed a transition from Oregon Health Authority (OHA) to the Department of Human Services (DHS), Self-Sufficiency Programs (SSP). In addition, Senate Bill 558 was signed into law, which increased access to OHP for undocumented children under 18 through the Cover All Kids Program. SSP manages the processing center, Cover All Kids and the community partners program. The goal for DHS’ component of OHP is to provide excellent customer service and have same day/next day eligibility determinations so Oregonians have timely benefit issuance.

The dramatic increase in this budget is due to the roll-up of position costs as the processing center was moved to DHS part way through 2017-19. This budget adds the remaining months of funding that was in OHA and has been now moved to DHS.

Program Description

OHP Processing Center & Outreach Staff: OHP staff responds to client inquiries about their applications and coverage. They are OHP's primary ambassadors, providing clients' primary resource by telephone. Customers typically call for information about their application status, benefits and care coordination. They also call to make changes in their personal information that may affect their eligibility. The Regional Outreach Coordinators serve our community partners, the trained in-person application assisters located around the state.

Subject Matter Experts: OHP includes several teams with detailed eligibility expertise. Factors that can affect eligibility include Medicare, pregnancy, children's medical, tribal members, corrections, and much more. This unit handles eligibility determinations, renewals, requests for additional information, demographic changes, case closures and other eligibility-related tasks and issues.

Business Information Systems: Business Information Systems includes business-related functions and expenditures for information technology. Its functions include Medicaid Management Information System (MMIS), the Oregon Eligibility (ONE) system, COMPASS, Special Projects and Business Systems Training. In 2015, OHA began a phased-in approach to launch the ONE system for Medicaid eligibility and enrollment. The 2017-19 Legislatively Adopted Budget includes funding for system enhancements to ensure it achieves its goal of automating and streamlining the eligibility and enrollment process for OHP applicants and caseload specialists. As of April 1, 2018, this funding was transitioned to DHS and is being used for the ongoing development of the new Integrated Eligibility (IE) project.

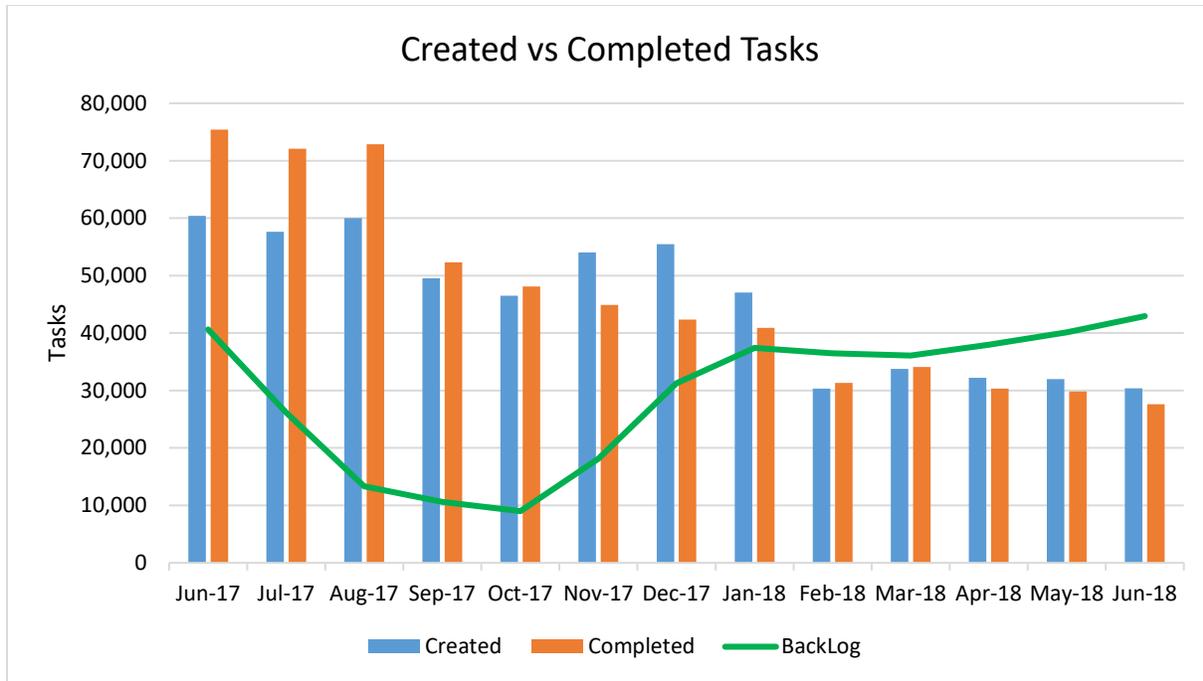

The Waiver: The OHP Medicaid demonstration is often referred to as the OHP “waiver” because it is an agreement with the federal government to waive specific regulations to allow Oregon to administer a state-designed Medicaid program. The OHP budget is largely driven by the demonstration agreement, which required the state to hold OHP per-member-per-month health care expenditures to no more than 3.4 percent annual growth during the 2015-2017 biennium. During the five years of Oregon’s initial demonstration, the federal government invested $1.9 billion in additional Federal Funds (approximately $380 million in the 2015-2017 biennium) to support Oregon’s health care system transformation by allowing the state to receive Medicaid match on expenditures not traditionally allowed for matching funds under a Designated State Health Programs (DSHP) provision.

The state’s application to extend the OHP Medicaid demonstration an additional five years was approved by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services on January 12, 2017. Based on the success and program savings to both the state and federal government, Oregon is requesting continued additional federal investment to support and further Oregon’s health care system transformation. With that continued support, the state also is proposing to hold annual per-member-month expenditures to 3.4 percent.

Current Budget Forecasting: The OHP budget is currently based on caseload forecasts and cost estimates projected for the coming two years. Because of the size of the budget, even the slightest variance from the original caseload forecast can result in a significant budget shortfall or savings. The caseload forecast used for the 2017-2019 OHP budget is especially risky because of data issues associated with transitioning to a new eligibility system while catching up on re-determining eligibility during the transition. Capitation rates for coordinated care organizations are also a significant budget driver. The agency does not set the capitation rates. For each calendar year, an independent actuary certifies the capitation rates and the federal government approves for actuarial soundness according to federal managed care regulations.

Funding Justification, And Significant Changes to CSL

OHP is currently operating at approved staffing levels. Current staffing is insufficient in addressing the increasing backlog and hindering Oregonians from getting access to the health care they need.

In the summer of 2017 (June to July), SSP helped OHA with processing to get OHP current with renewals and some RFI (pending work). This allowed OHP get caught up while SSP workers focused on the 115,000 redeterminations backlog.

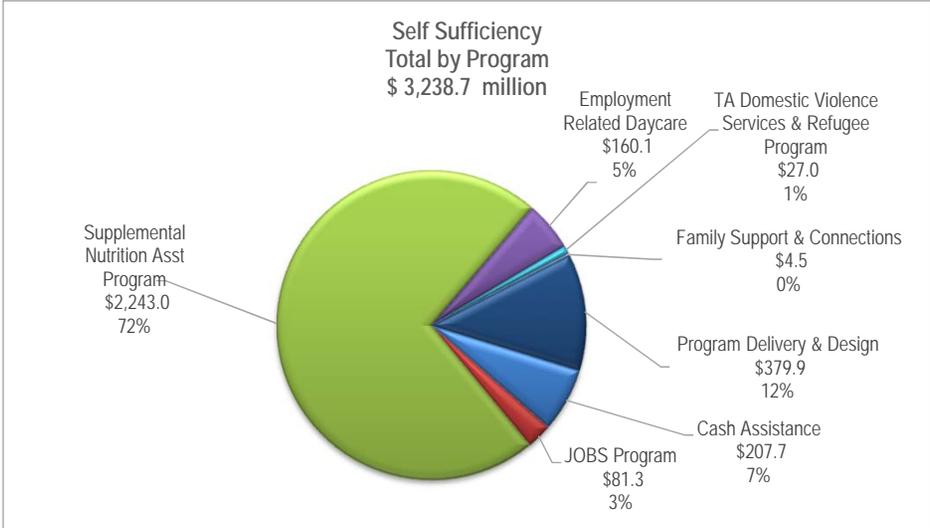

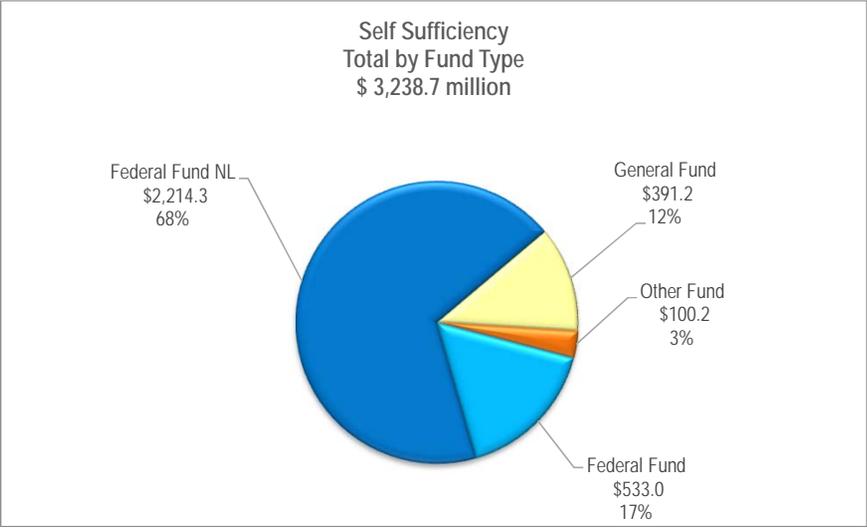

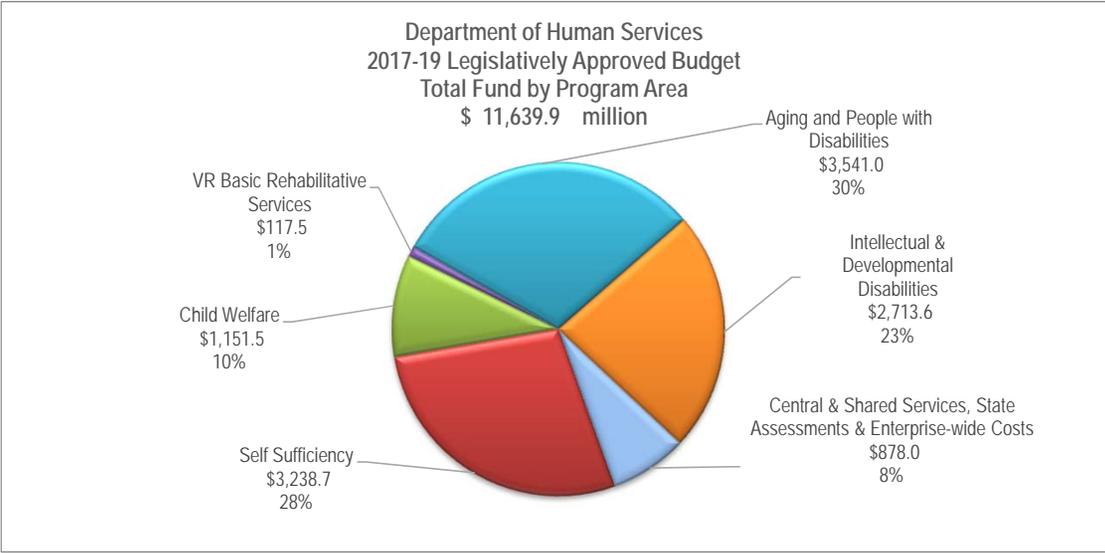

On September 1, 2017, when DHS took control of operations from OHA, the PH Tech contract ended; PH Tech was fielding some OHP calls from their call center.

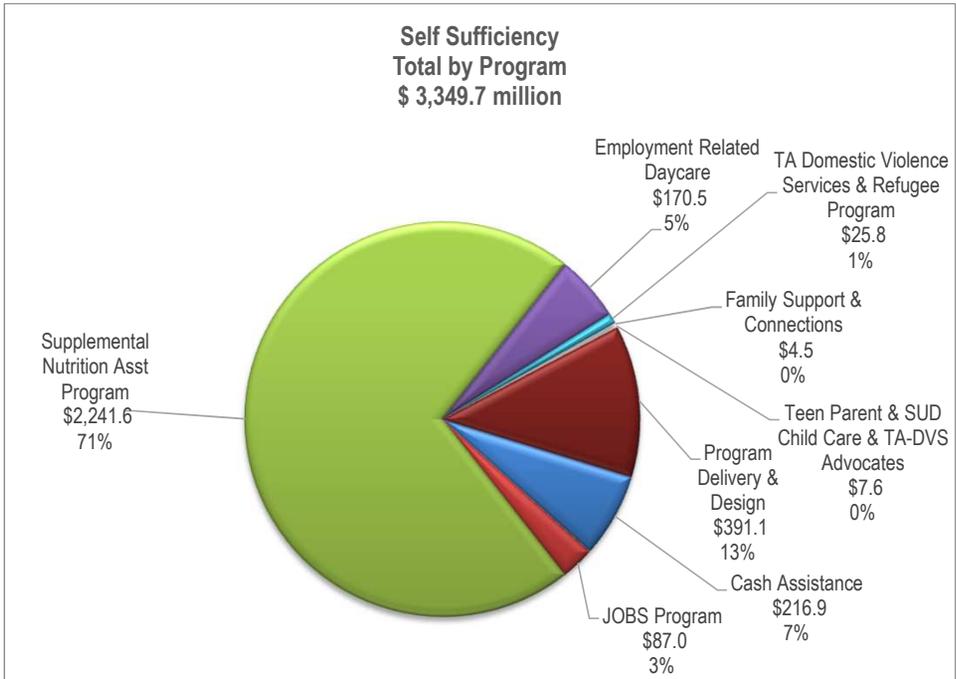

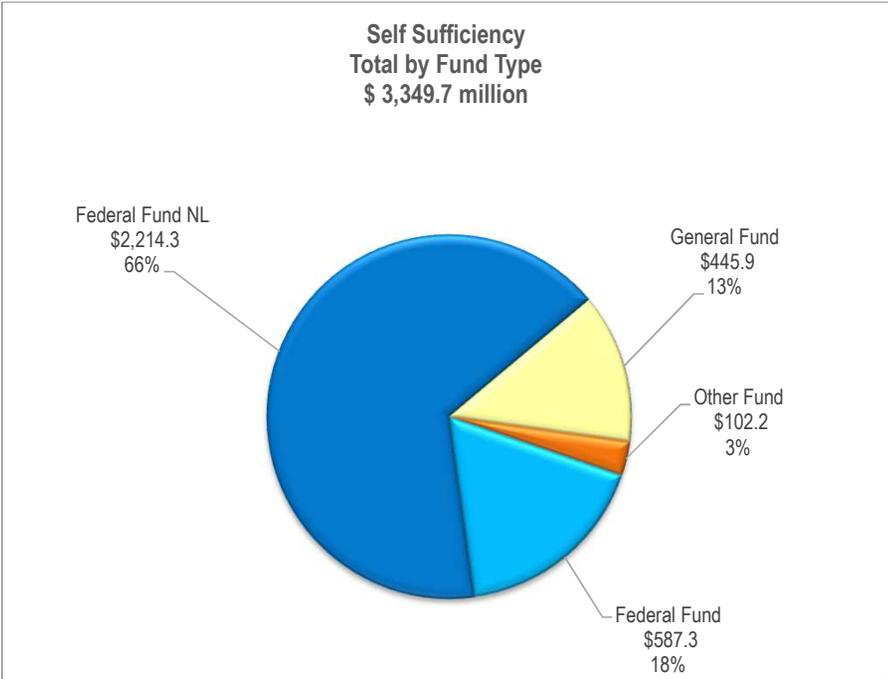

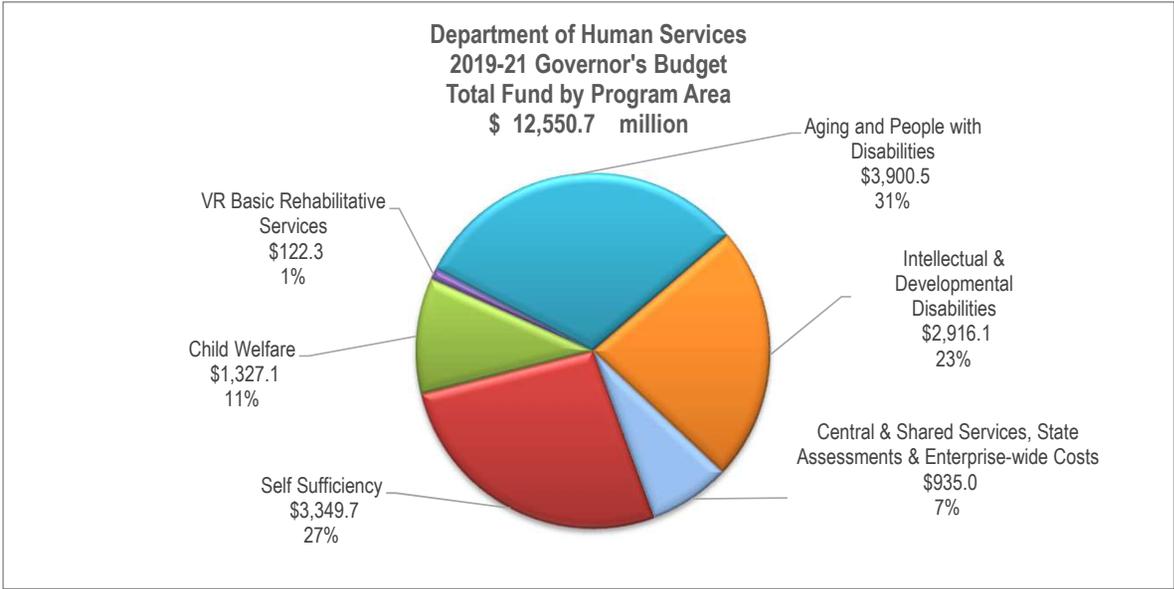

DHS also ended the CHAVES contract effective December 1, 2017, which assisted with processing non-eligibility tasks and fielded incoming calls and call outs. And, from September 2017 - December 2017, over 100 GALT temporary workers ended.

In mid-December during open enrollment, the Family Care CCO decided to close its doors. OHP increased the number of staff on the phones to assist with call volumes, which removed them from processing applications, to help Oregonians with the transition to a new CCO.

Self-Sufficiency Programs conducted an RPI in mid-November 2017, which demonstrated that, of the over 200 eligibility processing staff, only a small percentage could complete the eligibility process from start to finish. To rectify this, training was implemented. Over a period of six months, (January – June 2018) staff were trained to complete the eligibility process from cradle to grave. However, during this time, they were no longer doing calls or application processing, which meant there was less staff available to handle the incoming volume of work.

Today, SSP is opening additional call centers in rural Oregon that are focusing on OHP work. These centers, located in Baker City, La Grande and Enterprise, are in various stages of hiring, training and opening, will add additional staff to process OHP applications and assist customers by phone, while, at the same time, increasing job opportunities for residents in Oregon's rural areas.

Department of Human Services

Child Welfare Program

Mission

Every child and family are empowered to live independent, safe and healthy lives.

Vision

Every child and family have a safe, culturally/linguistically, appropriate and positive environment in which to live and develop.

Action

Promote exceptional, culturally and linguistically appropriate and equitable service by embracing opportunity for growth and providing innovation, resources and support to our staff.

Goals

Safe and equitable reduction in the number of children experiencing foster care.

- Safety: Protect children from abuse and neglect, keeping them safely at home whenever possible and appropriate
- Permanency: Find safe, permanent and culturally stable homes for children in care
- Well-Being: Ensure children in foster care are well cared for, remain connected to family, siblings, community and support networks, and receive appropriate and equitable services
- Service Equity: Provide culturally appropriate, equal access and equitable treatment for all children served by the Department. This meets the cultural and linguistic needs of children in care including being served by staff with those capacities as well.
- Quality Assurance/Continuous Quality Improvement: Continue an integrated practice of quality assurance and continuous quality improvement for defining, measuring, and improving equitable outcomes for Oregon's children and families

Program

Child Welfare Programs serve children and families when children are subject to abuse and neglect. Trained and diverse child welfare staff respond to reports of child abuse and neglect, and if a child cannot be safe at home, a foster care placement is made. The primary goal is to keep children safe, while providing equitable services to support timely and safe return to their families. Whenever possible, services are provided to prevent out-of-home placements.

The program areas within Child Welfare are:

- Safety
- Well-Being
- Permanency
- Program Design & Delivery
- Federal Policy, Planning & Resources

Individuals We Serve

Children served in Federal Fiscal Year (FFY) 2017:

- 11,645 children spent at least one day in foster care
- 80,683 reports of abuse and neglect were received
- 43,976 reports were referred for investigation
- 7,063 reports were founded for abuse or neglect involving 11,077 victims
- 45.1 percent of the victims were younger than 6 years old
- Of the total children served in foster care, 69.3% were White, 13.2% were Hispanic, 7.1% were American Indian or Alaska Native, 6.9% were Black or African American, 1.9% did not have race recorded, and 1.6% were Asian or Pacific Islander

Child Safety

The Child Safety program provides protective and social services to children and families when allegations of child abuse or neglect are reported. Specially trained workers conduct comprehensive safety assessments and make determinations about child safety, the presence of abuse, if services would benefit a family or whether safety intervention is required due to the presence of safety threats. With very few exceptions, a child abuse report begins with a call to a child abuse hotline. Trained Social Service Specialists screen reports and collect key information. If the report meets criteria to be assigned for an in-person investigation, the family's information is given to a trained Child Protective Services (CPS) worker who will conduct a comprehensive safety assessment.

The Child Safety program also provides coordination for the following areas:

CIRT (Critical Incident Response Team) Coordination

The CIRT coordination team provides culturally and linguistically appropriate multi- disciplinary services used to study child fatality cases by gathering a group of individuals representing child welfare and other agencies to review child fatalities and seek to identify internal and external systemic issues and generate recommendations for what can be learned, changed or corrected that might reduce future tragic outcomes.

CSEC (Commercial Sexual Exploitation of Children)- Coordination Out of home care investigations

The CSEC coordination provides culturally and linguistically appropriate multi-disciplinary services by connecting child welfare staff to resources including National Center for Missing & Exploited Children, LEA, FBI and other community agencies to partner in helping youth that are being sexual exploited get off the street, have safe shelter and offer intensive wrap services to help with their physical and emotional needs.

Addiction Recovery Teams (ART Teams)

These teams provide coordinated, culturally and linguistically appropriate multi-disciplinary services to substance-abusing family members whose issues are identified through a comprehensive safety assessment.

Domestic Violence/Sexual Assault

DHS makes grants available to domestic violence and sexual assault service providers throughout Oregon. These providers offer crisis lines, crisis response, emergency shelter and other related services to survivors of sexual assault, survivors of domestic violence, and their children, in a culturally and linguistically appropriate manner.

Strengthening, Preserving and Reunifying Families (SPRF)

The Strengthening Preserving and Reunifying Families law (ORS 418.575-418.598) allows funding for an array of services for families through collaboration between DHS and local community partners. The Department has developed outcome-based contracts for services to specifically address the needs of children and families who come to the attention of child welfare through a screened in report of abuse or neglect. These outcome-based contracts are foundational for an overall ability to report on results associated with SPRF services and funding.

In-Home Safety and Reunification Services (ISRS)

This program provides culturally appropriate intensive, short term services to families with children who can remain safely in their homes, and to children and families who are safely reunited. ISRS provides a combination of safety and strengths-based services that lead to lasting safety changes within the family. These services are time limited and are complemented by SPRF services for families in need of longer term or more intensive services.

System of Care (SOC)

System of Care funds support Oregon's most vulnerable children by providing local child welfare offices with the flexibility to purchase specific services to meet a family's needs to assure the safety, permanency and well-being of their child(ren) in culturally and linguistically appropriate ways. Services are identified and planned for through family engagement and involvement in case planning. Whenever possible, shared funding of custom-designed services is achieved through collaboration with community partners.

Well-Being

Foster Care

Foster Care services include Relative Care, Family Foster Care and professional level of care such as Shelter Care and Behavioral Rehabilitation Services provided in therapeutic home or residential settings, through contracted Child Caring Agencies (CCAs). The foster care system operates 24 hours per day, seven days per week to accept and care for children who cannot remain safely at home. Oregon's goal aligns with the federal requirement of placing a child in the least restrictive, most appropriate setting that meets the child's individual needs when the child cannot safely be cared for by his or her parent(s).

This program focuses on the well-being of children while they are in foster care and is responsible for recruitment, certification, training, and providing support to retain foster care families (both general applicants and relative caregivers).

Families are trained by agency staff and through contracted experts. They participate in, and must pass, a Structured Analysis Family Evaluation (SAFE) home study, designed to evaluate a family's suitability and readiness to meet the needs of children that enter the child welfare system. They must also pass a criminal background check, reference checks, and a review of Oregon's abuse registry which includes all prior abuse reports received on children and adults. In addition to the above, this program provides recruiting, contracting, training, support and monitoring of all contracted child caring agencies.

DHS partners with community members, Tribes, local and national foster care organizations, provider organizations, youth led organizations and organizations representing diverse cultural perspectives to deliver services throughout the state.

DHS works in collaboration with multiple state and local government agencies such as the Oregon Health Authority, Oregon Department of Education, local law enforcement, Tribes, community programs, schools, the faith community and volunteer programs to identify and develop a local array of culturally and linguistically appropriate services. The Well-Being program is responsible for the overall well-being of children in DHS care by addressing behavioral, emotional and social functioning, meeting core educational needs, assuring appropriate physical, dental and mental health care, and maintaining safe family and community connections.

Youth Transition Services

The Independent Living Program (ILP) serves current and former foster youth up to age 21. Services include assistance with developing life skills - including money management and budgeting - communication, and social skills, establishing community connections and healthy supportive relationships, assistance with informed decision-making, parenting, health, education support, housing, and job readiness. A primary focus is to develop transition plans to ensure high school completion and a successful transition to post-secondary education or employment at a level that allows self-sufficiency. Housing support options are available to eligible youth through the federal Chafee housing and independent living subsidy programs.

Youth Transition Services also include services for Homeless and Runaway Youth. The Department has a dedicated Homeless Runaway Youth program coordinator responsible for leading a quarterly advisory committee, contracting with and otherwise supporting statewide services those youth.

Health and Wellness Services

DHS puts a high priority on assuring that children in out-of-home care receive appropriate medical, dental and mental health care. In addition to appointments and screenings required when a child enters foster care, children are assessed by a contracted nurse shortly after entering care to address any immediate health needs and provide support to the child and foster parents for any health related or medication issues the child may have. Our field nurses provide medication management services, case consultation, medical care coordination, nursing delegation, foster parent teaching and training and other nursing services. The Health and Wellness team provides resources, support and case consultation to staff and provides resources for foster parents who care for medically fragile children. In addition, annual psychotropic medication reviews are completed by a Nurse Consultant for all children in care currently prescribed psychotropic medications. Medical Assistance Resource Coordinators (MARC)s provide assistance with access to care issues and help coordinate services with Coordinated Care Organizations (CCO) throughout the state to ensure the health, mental health and dental needs of children in foster care are being met.

Permanency

DHS' first goal always is to safely and successfully reunify children with their parent(s). Unfortunately, this is not always possible and when it is ultimately determined that a child is unable to safely reunify with his or her parent(s), DHS helps find a permanent family through adoption or guardianship. Once children are placed with a permanent adoptive or guardian family, the Permanency program continues to provide services and supports up to age 18 to help meet the special needs and challenges children who have been abused and neglected can experience. These efforts include taking into consideration the cultural and linguistic needs of the minor.

DHS is also responsible for the coordinating the Voluntary Adoption Search and Registry Program for Oregon's public and private adoptions. This registry may also include adoptions for children with relatives living in other countries pursuant to The Hague Convention and the Intercountry Adoption Act.

Title IV-E Waiver Demonstration Project

Oregon's Title IV-E Waiver project is titled Leveraging Intensive Family Engagement (LIFE). LIFE is a locally developed, values-based intervention focused on addressing gaps and challenges to reduce the time to permanency for high risk children. LIFE has four key features:

- Family Finding: identify and engage a broad network of family support and placement resources
- Case Planning Meetings (CPMs): case planning and monitoring support informed by child and family voice
- Peer Parent Mentors: help parents engage in CPMs and services to assist them in navigating the child welfare/service systems
- Collaborative team planning between service providers, DHS, and the family involved with the case

The goal of the LIFE project is to safely and equitably reduce the number of children who might otherwise remain in care for three years or longer. Eligible children and their siblings are identified shortly after removal based on key indicators. Then the Family Engagement Facilitator begins intensive work with the caseworker, child, parents, and family to develop a plan of reunification, adoption, or guardianship in a timely manner.

Program Design & Delivery

Oregon has a state-run, county-administered child welfare program. Staff in the central office support field staff through policy and rule development, assuring compliance with federal and state regulations, quality monitoring, technical assistance, evaluation and program analysis, developing consistent business processes and standards, and identifying best practices. Other services provided include consulting, coaching, training and continuous quality improvement aimed at improving outcomes for Oregon's children and families.

Managers and supervisors in local child welfare offices provide clinical supervision of direct service staff. Whenever possible, Child Welfare staff coordinate service delivery with staff from our Self-Sufficiency offices to support family stability and prevent entry/re-entry into the child welfare system. In addition, child welfare staff coordinate with other child and family serving systems including Housing, Oregon Health Authority, Oregon Department of Education, county-based health and support services, and others.

Child Welfare employees provide direct services in local offices. For a list, see: <http://www.oregon.gov/DHS/children/child-abuse/Pages/Reporting-Numbers.aspx>

Indian Child Welfare Act (ICWA)

Native American children are currently over-represented in Oregon's child welfare system. Compliance with the Indian Child Welfare Act is a Federal mandate. DHS has Tribal Liaisons in the child welfare field offices to enhance relationships with Tribal governments and to work with Tribal children and families to reduce disparities, improve compliance with the Act, and improve outcomes for Tribal families.

Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children (ICPC)

The ICPC is statute which governs the movement of children across state lines. All fifty states plus the District of Columbia and the U.S. Virgin Islands are member of the ICPC. The ICPC covers Oregon DHS children being placed in other states, and children in the custody of other state public child welfare agencies being placed into Oregon, as well as private adoption and residential treatment placements that cross state lines. The ICPC applies to approximately five percent of all child welfare cases nationwide.

The Oregon ICPC program includes a team of Central Office staff who provide training and case consultation to DHS field staff, attorneys and members of the public. The program also includes a team of regionally-based workers who complete home studies on Oregon residents for possible placement of children from other states.

OR-Kids

OR-Kids is the statewide automated child welfare information system with more than 3,600 system users across the state and across agencies. OR-Kids is also a Criminal Justice Information System. This system provides reports to internal and external partners, including Child Welfare Case workers, DHS' Office of Financial Services, the Administration of Children and Families, and Human Resources.

OR-Kids contains case records on all children and families served by Child Welfare, and issues payments to service providers. Required federal reports are submitted via the OR-Kids system to draw down federal reimbursement for eligible services. The OR-Kids program staff monitor access for all system users across the state and partner agencies to assure privacy and access policies are being followed.

Ad-hoc queries are run to ensure data quality and to operate a data-informed organization. The program also runs queries to identify system issues and resolve system end user problems as case work is completed. The program supports every area of Child Welfare and is the system of record for Child Welfare work.

Federal Policy, Planning & Resources (FPPR)

This program is responsible for ensuring Child Welfare remains in compliance with federal program standards to maximize continued federal financial support for the Child Welfare programs and services described above. In addition, FPPR is responsible for submitting all required federal reporting and responding to related inquiries. The primary goal of FPPR is to maximize the use of federal funds while assuring all funds are used solely for allowable purposes.

Primary Long-Term Focus Area: Safer, Healthier Communities

Secondary Long-Term Focus Area:

Program Contact: Tami Kane-Suleiman, Child Safety Manager

Note: Neglect and Threat of Harm of Neglect are the primary abuse categories driving the increase in Child Welfare caseloads, currently representing over 80 percent of all founded abuse.

Program Overview

This program provides protective and social services to children and families when allegations of child abuse or neglect are reported. Specially trained workers conduct comprehensive safety assessments and make determinations about the following: child safety, the presence of abuse, if services would benefit a family or whether safety intervention is required due to the presence of safety threats. Services are delivered through DHS staff or contracts that require linguistically and culturally appropriate service provision. They are delivered in a manner that is designed to keep children safely with their parents, whenever possible, and to quickly and safely reunite children with their parents when they have been removed.

Program Description

The Child Safety Program currently consists of two Child Safety Program Managers (one recently added due to growth of Child Safety Unit, increased span of supervision, new legislation impacting program and increased workload), one Assistant Manager, 7 Child Protective Services Program Coordinators (DV, D&A, rule writing, implementation, training, and curriculum development, etc.) and 13 Child Safety Consultants who provide consultation, coaching, training and support to caseworkers, supervisors, and Program and District managers on the safety model practice, Oregon Administrative Rules and statutes. The Child Safety Consultants are housed in the child welfare field offices around the state and provide consultation and support to all 16 districts in Oregon. Child Welfare’s Alcohol and Drug Services Coordinator and Domestic & Sexual Violence Fund Coordinator are also located within the Child Safety Program. Domestic violence and sexual assault (DVSA) shelter and service programs are funded by the Oregon Department of Human Services (DHS) to help people in Oregon be safe, healthy and independent.

The Child Safety Program is responsible for administering Child Protective Services in the state, including but not limited to the following:

- Initiating the Critical Incident Response Team process when child deaths occur and responsible for compliance with SB819 passed in 2017.
- Commercial Sexual Exploitation of Children; provides statewide consultation and technical assistance on child welfare cases where children are or at risk of being sexually trafficked.
- Administration of Oregon Administrative Rules for Daycare Facility/home investigations.

- Administration of Oregon Administrative Rules for Child Welfare certified foster home investigations.
- Administration of Central Office Founded Disposition Committee and Employee Founded Disposition Committee
- Administration of Screening and Assessment Oregon Administrative Rules.
- Continuous Quality Improvement including ongoing case fidelity reviews in all 16 districts followed by creation of Action Plans to make improvements to practice in screening and assessments.
- Administration of Sensitive Issue Review Committee and review assignments and branch debriefs.
- CARA (Comprehensive Addiction and Recovery Act) development and implementation

In the summer of 2017 due to the passing of legislation (SB942), Differential Response was essentially ended in Oregon. The Differential Response unit consultants have remained in the Child Safety Unit and have become an integral part of the team of child safety consultants housed throughout the state. The new legislation passed in July of 2017 requires DHS to make specific findings on all child abuse investigations. As a result of the legislation, all assessments must have a disposition of “founded”, “unfounded” or “cannot be determined” unless five criteria are met: (1) The child welfare workload model for the Department of Human Services is staffed at 95 percent or greater; (2) A centralized, statewide child abuse hotline has been established and in operation for at least six consecutive months; (3) The department has completed investigations within timelines mandated by law and rule at least 90 percent of the time for at least six consecutive months; (4) The department has conducted in-person contacts with children who are the subject of reports of child abuse, as mandated by law and rule, in at least 90 percent of the reports of child abuse for at least six consecutive months; (5) The re-abuse rate for children in this state is below the national average.

Currently, CPS staff in field offices respond to and assess allegations of child abuse and neglect and are usually the first contact for families with the child welfare system. The CPS staff also respond to assess allegations in Daycare Facilities and foster homes certified by Child Welfare, Office of Intellectual & Developmental Disabilities, and Oregon Youth Authority. CPS staff work closely with law enforcement agencies and other members of multidisciplinary teams in each county to assess child abuse reports.

Generally, the Child Safety Program is the program area where children enter the State foster care system. Foster care is a temporary service, designed to keep children safe while we work to manage safety threats and enhance the parents' protective capacities. We work with families to make sure that children are only removed when they cannot safely remain at home. When children are placed in care, which can only be done with court approval, we place urgency on ensuring that children get home quickly and connect to family or other relatives whenever possible. Child abuse investigations are not voluntary. They are inherently intrusive and can be traumatic to families. Oregon's Safety Model is a family engagement model that requires Child Welfare staff to work and partner with families and children to gain a comprehensive understanding of the family functioning. Historically Oregon's CPS assessments were incident based and solely focused on the allegations. With adoption of the Safety Model, Child Welfare staff must assess the allegation but also determine if family behaviors, conditions or circumstance are making children unsafe. Oregon's Safety Model consists of sixteen universal safety threats that are analyzed from the safety-related information gathered by CPS Staff during the comprehensive safety assessment.

The Child Safety Program can best be described in three sections: Screening, Assessment and In-Home services.

Screening

Screening is the front door of the service delivery system that, with few exceptions, begins with a child abuse report at a child abuse hotline. Trained staff screened 80,683 child abuse reports from across the State in 2017. For each call CPS receives, the process begins with screening. Every report is handled by a CPS-trained worker who will make an initial determination of whether a report meets the guidelines that require DHS to conduct an assessment of the family.

Reports fall into one of four categories:

- Information only
- Referral to other services
- Not a situation that is child abuse or neglect
- Possible child abuse or neglect

Those reports categorized as possible abuse are further analyzed to determine whether an immediate response is needed. If the report meets the criteria to be assigned for an in-person investigation, the family's information is given to a DHS Child Protective Services (CPS) trained worker who will conduct a comprehensive safety assessment of the family in a respectful and sensitive manner.

In the 2016 legislative session, SB1515 passed in Oregon. This new law increased responsibilities for all child welfare staff throughout the State, including hotline screeners.

The law demanded changes in the way DHS regulated Child Caring Agencies (CCA) and responded to reports of abuse or neglect to ensure children are safe, their needs are met and they are well cared for. To promote transparency and leadership accountability, the law also required all Department staff to notify the Director or designated staff when there is suspected child abuse or neglect in a CCA. Notifications to external stakeholders are required when there is suspected child abuse or neglect in a CCA, and the law makes both failure to report suspected child abuse or neglect, as well as failure to take action on suspected child abuse or neglect, a crime. The definition of child abuse was also expanded under SB1515 requiring new training development and provision to all Child Welfare staff. In 2017, adjustments to SB1515 were made including some expanded requirements in SB 1515 that were previously limited to child-caring agencies (CCA) to other substitute care settings, in particular DHS-certified foster homes and developmental disabilities (DD) residential facilities (commonly referred to as DD foster homes and DD group homes.) The expanded definition includes things like involuntary seclusion, sexual contact between a provider and child, and financial exploitation. This new law is expected to result in an increase in reports to the child abuse hotline and an increase in the number of assessments assigned for a comprehensive safety assessment regarding DHS certified foster homes and developmental disabilities residential facilities.

Assessment

Of all reports of child abuse or neglect, approximately 43,976 cases per year were referred for investigation in 2017. As part of the comprehensive safety assessment, the DHS CPS worker gathers comprehensive safety related information in the following categories: Extent of the maltreatment, circumstances surrounding the abuse, adult functioning, child functioning, parenting practices and disciplinary practices. Cultural and linguistic considerations are also factored into the process.

This important safety related information is used to determine overall child safety. If children are determined to be safe at the conclusion of the comprehensive safety assessment, the case is closed. If children are determined to be unsafe, safety planning occurs with either an in-home or out of home plan. The case will open and the family will transition to a Permanency case worker once the CPS assessment concludes. The comprehensive safety assessment may take up to 60 days to complete based on the required elements of the safety model and CPS Assessment Rules.

In-Home Safety and Reunification Services (ISRS)

The ability to keep children safely at home is in large part dependent on the services that can be wrapped around the family to support them while safety concerns are addressed. Services are available to families during the course of child abuse assessments when child safety issues are present. Services are designed to ensure a safe environment for children without removing them from their parent or caregiver. If circumstances require a child be removed from their parent or caregiver, these services provide necessary support to the family so the child can be safely reunited with their family. These services are specifically intended to help families remove barriers to managing identified safety threats with the goals of prevention of foster care placement by maintaining a child safely in the home with a parent or returning a child home to a parent.

These services support crucial child welfare initiatives to increase the number of children who can remain safely at home after a safety threat is identified, and decrease the length of time a child spends in foster care if removal is required. By contracting with a wide variety of providers, ISRS also allows for a culturally and linguistically specific approach in an effort to reduce the disproportionate placement of children of color in foster care.

With better data points to measure children served in-home, 2017 showed a significant 22.1 percent increase to 8,229 children served, up from 6,737 served the prior year (2016). The increase of children served during the past FFY is believed to be associated with efforts to ensure that safety management and services are more accurately documented within CPS assessments. This is significant because, for the first time in many years, Oregon has a number that may more accurately represent the volume of work completed in the first 60 to 90 days of a case to manage safety of children in a way that prevents placement and long-term involvement with families.

Legislation in 2011 created Strengthening, Preserving, and Reunifying Families programs and identified them as another primary program to serve families involved in the child welfare system. The goal of these programs is to foster collaborations between state and community programs and resources, as well as help children remain safely with their families. This must occur through partnerships and collaborations with State and community programs and resources that will stabilize the family in their time of need, work with the family to develop goals for family preservation services, family reunification services and empower the family to make changes which may alleviate the need for an out-of-home placement.

These programs are potentially an enhancement to ISRS services, and are delivered through contracts with community providers. Parents and families benefit from DHS and communities working together to provide stronger up-front services and use voluntary engagement in solutions, services, and supports to achieve more successful resolution of issues.

An additional anticipated outcome will be the safe and equitable reduction of children in the foster care system by increasing the number of African American and Native American children remaining home with their families by providing culturally relevant and linguistically specific whenever available.

A key necessary partner for program success is the Department of Justice (DOJ) Attorney General’s Office, which provides legal representation to DHS for all children under its jurisdiction. Oregon is moving toward full representation by DOJ, which also files and litigates termination of parental rights cases. In some counties, the District Attorney's office continues to provide legal services representing the State, from the petition until jurisdiction. The state is being phased in for full DOJ representation.

Program Justification and Link to Focus Areas

There is a direct link between the Child Safety Program and the Healthy and Safe Communities focus area, in that Oregonians will be safe where they live, work and play. Each year, thousands of Oregon families come through the child welfare system due to allegations of child abuse or neglect.

The services are designed to strengthen families and to prevent further child abuse and neglect. We provide support to prevent the unnecessary removal of children from families, and promote the reunification of families where appropriate. Drug and alcohol abuse, together with domestic violence, are the two major family stressors contributing to children entering foster care in Oregon. By supporting families early with services designed to keep children safely with their parents, costly foster care placements are avoided. The average monthly cost per child in foster care is approximately $2,320.

Without the services and interventions that are provided to parents and their children, there are costs that will be felt at a later date in the Healthy and Safe Communities and other focus areas. For example, often it is the risk of having their children placed in foster care that motivates parents who are deep into drug or alcohol addiction to seek treatment and maintain sobriety. Not only does seeking treatment and maintaining sobriety help keep their children in their home, but it also allows parents to take the steps needed to be self-sufficient, reducing costs and supporting A Thriving Oregon Economy. It decreases the likelihood that these parents will engage in illegal activities and any resulting criminal proceedings or incarceration, reducing future costs to the Healthy and Safe Communities area.

Similarly, helping a family deal with their domestic violence issues so that the children and non-offending parent can live without fear and further violence reduces long-term costs that are associated with the child's education performance (A Seamless System of Education) and the child's and non-offending parent's health and well-being (Healthy and Safe Communities). Being able to provide In-Home and Reunification Services reduces the costs of foster care.

Program Performance

The Child Safety Program measures its performance in three primary categories:

- First contact: As a way to measure how well DHS assures initial child safety, the timeliness of first contact is measured for those reports of child abuse and neglect that are assigned for in-person investigation. In 2017, timeliness of first contact increased to 76.8 percent from 68.3 percent the previous year (2016). The Department's Program Improvement Plan will focus on this measurement for even higher improvement.
- Assessment: DHS measures the comprehensiveness of the CPS assessment, the level of services that were provided and the appropriateness of safety planning for the child by monitoring whether the child experienced repeat maltreatment within 12 months of a prior abuse. The time period for this measure recently changed from 6 months to 12 months.
- Re-abuse By expanding the timeframe from 6 months to 12 months, the actual rate has also increased. Currently the department is above the national standard of 9.1% for this measurement at 11.0%. Cases involving domestic violence and substance abuse have been identified as themes for re-abuse across the state. The Department's Program Improvement Plan will focus on this measurement and activities to decrease re-abuse in Oregon.

Enabling Legislation/Program Authorization

ORS 419B.020 is the statute that mandates the Department and Law Enforcement to conduct investigations upon receipt of reports of child abuse or neglect.

The Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Act (CAPTA) is one of the key pieces of legislation that guides child protection. CAPTA, in its original inception, was signed into law in 1974 (P.L. 93-247). It has been reauthorized in on multiple occasions since then with multiple amendments that have strengthened and refined the scope of the law.

ORS 418.575 through 418.598, Strengthening, Preserving and Reunifying Families legislation, was passed during the 2011 legislative session. The Indian Child Welfare Act (ICWA) also applies.

Funding Streams

Funding for this program area comes from a combination of sources that are dedicated and do not require a match, as well as leveraged funds which are matched. The following list is inclusive of each of the funding sources:

- Social Services Block Grant (SSBG) accounts for 14 percent of the child safety budget
- Title IV-B part 1 makes up 5 percent
- Title IV-B part 2 makes up 15 percent
- Family Violence makes up 6 percent
- Other Funds make up 9 percent.
- General Fund makes up 52 percent

Note the Title IV-E Waiver has been discontinued for all states, so is no longer a funding source for Safety.

Funding Justification and Significant Changes to CSL

There is one Revenue Shortfall in this program area due to the discontinuation of the IV-E Waiver Federal Program.

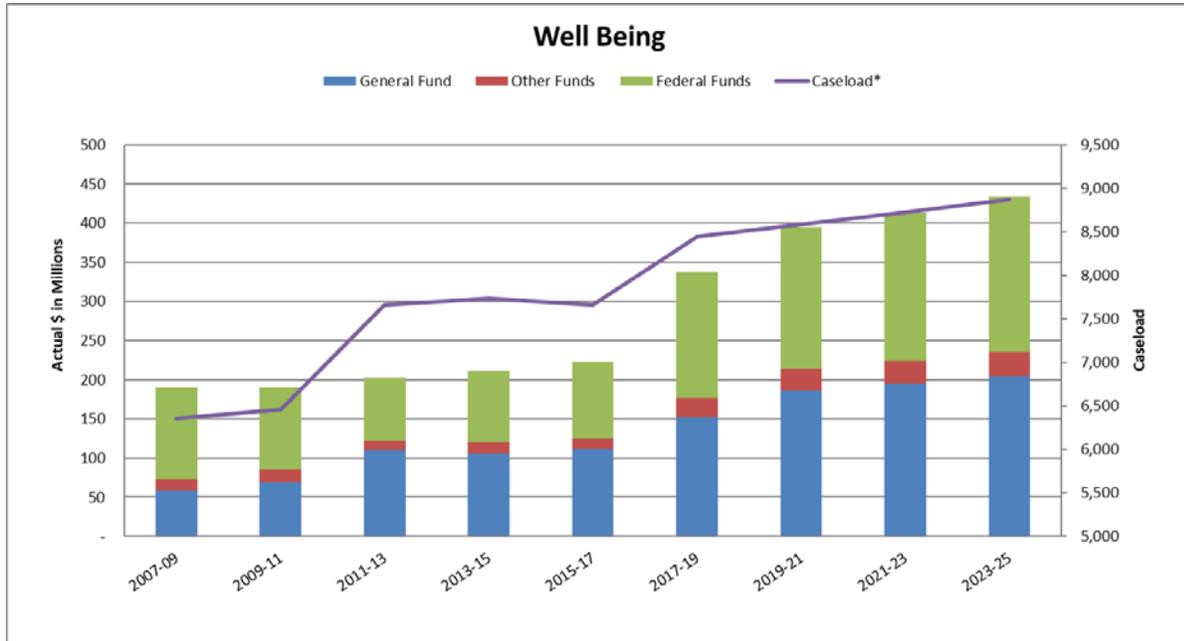

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |             |                |                |

Department of Human Services: Well Being

Primary Long-Term Focus Area: Safer, Healthier Communities

Secondary Long-Term Focus Area:

Program Contact: Greg Westbrook, Interim Foster Care Manager
 Sara Fox, Interim Treatment Services Manager

Note: On average, in 19-21 the caseload is projected to be 8,586 children in substitute care on any given day in Oregon.

Program Overview

The Child Well-Being Program, including the Foster Care and Youth Transitions Program, and the Treatment Services Program, is designed to function as a critical safety net for children with immediate safety needs for their basic care, as well as provide support and services to youth in foster care. DHS is responsible for accepting and caring for children who cannot remain safely with their parents per ORS 418.015. These children are dependent, neglected, and may be mentally or physically disabled, and are placed in the legal custody of DHS by a court. Under limited circumstances and for a short time, a family may place a child in State custody on a voluntary basis. However, most of the children served in foster care are there involuntarily, with court intervention, as a result of abuse or neglect they experienced in their family home.

Program Description

The Foster Care services program operates 24 hours a day, seven days a week to accept and care for children and youth who cannot remain safely in their family homes. The children and youth range in age from birth to 21 years old. A total of 11,645 children spent at least one day in foster care in federal fiscal year 2017. The vast majority of these children and youth (92.6%) reside in family foster home settings. There are approximately 4,200 Oregon families who have stepped forward to be a foster parent or relative caregiver for children needing placement. Approximately 48% of these certified families are relatives or friends known to the child's family who become certified to care for the children.

DHS partners with community members and organizations representing diverse community and cultural perspectives to deliver foster care services to children and youth across the State. The agency has federal and state mandates to provide efforts to reunify children to their parents. Just over 56 percent of children entering care returned home to a parent in FFY 2017. There are approximately 30 licensed private child placing agencies in Oregon who are caring for children and youth, most often because the child or youth has a significant behavior or mental health need. Approximately 311 children are placed with Licensed Child Caring Agencies to provide a higher level of therapeutic care.

The Child Well-Being program also responds to the overall well-being of the child or youth in care. Well-being is identified as caring for and attending to the child's behavioral, emotional, educational, health and social functioning. This is best identified through meeting the core educational needs, physical, dental, and mental health needs, needs for family, and community connections.

To be successful in meeting the needs of the children and youth for their safety and well-being, we support current programs while expanding the available service array. DHS works in collaboration with multiple state and local governmental agencies such as the Oregon Health Authority, Oregon Youth Authority, Oregon Department of Education, and local law enforcement in addition to a significant number of community programs, schools, business and faith communities, and volunteer programs. The Department continues to focus on safely and equitably reducing the number of children that enter the foster care system and providing for the care and well-being of children who enter the system. Children who must enter the foster care system often have greater needs than those who can remain at home. The ability of staff to meet the needs of these children and adequately support the foster families caring for them is directly related to staffing levels in the program.

The average monthly cost per child in foster care is approximately $2,320. There are multiple cost drivers to this program area including the number of children entering the substitute care system due to abuse or neglect, and the number of children who remain in the substitute care system due to their inability to be reunified with family or successfully transitioned to an adoptive family. A significant cost driver is the increased cost of living within the community and daily expenses for providing food, clothing, shelter, education or other support services for children and youths. As an example, foster parents caring for a 10-year-old child are currently reimbursed at a rate of $24.09 per day. This is intended to cover the cost of providing food, clothing, shelter, school supplies, and the cost to participate in activities, etc. Often the additional costs for the child are paid for by the foster parent, which remains a barrier for many families and the private child caring agencies across the state. After a 10% reduction in the reimbursement rates in 2011, they were increased in 2018.

Efficiencies to improve outcomes include a reinvestment in local community services to strengthen families, to reduce the need for foster care. In addition, for children who are in foster care, increased attention on the need for educational supports and school placement continuity, increased access and continuity of comprehensive health care (physical, mental and dental health), and increased financial and structural support for foster families and private agencies who care for the children and youth.

The Well-Being program is also responsible for the certification and support of foster families and relative caregivers who care for children in the Department's custody. This includes recruitment, assessment, retention, training, and support. Training of these families is conducted both by agency staff and through contracted providers. Families participate in a Structured Analysis Family

Evaluation (SAFE) home study assessment, designed to evaluate a family's readiness to meet the needs of children that enter the system.

Program Justification and Link to Focus Areas

The Child Well-Being Program is an integral part of the State's Plan to achieve a Safer, Healthier Community for the residents of Oregon. As a state policy, Child Well-Being programs are necessary to ensure safety for children if and when they are unable to remain safely with their families. Reliance on the foster care system over the years has reached a capacity that is no longer sustainable in Oregon. The financial support for this system has not kept up with growing costs, which has negatively impacted the ability for potential foster families to step forward to provide family foster care.

Ongoing research indicates that, if substantive preventive services can be immediately put into place, many children can safely remain at home, which reduces the need for children to be placed into the foster care system. Re-directing resources away from the removal of children from families and increasing the capacity of families who currently have children in the substitute care system by investing in upfront and in-home services within communities will pay far greater dividends to Oregon in meeting the outcomes identified in the state's plan.

Program Performance

Program performance is measured in the following ways:

- The number of children entering foster care (4,065) during FFY 2017 increased by 6.7 percent from the FFY 2016 level. The number of children leaving foster care has decreased by 3.9 percent in the same time-frame.
- 56 percent (56.5) of children who left foster care were reunified with their families.
- Median months to exit foster care is 18.6 months,
- The numbers of foster families in 9/30/2017 was 4,262 families. This is an increase of 388 from 9/30/2015.

Enabling Legislation/Program Authorization

There are a number of Federal acts that are centered on the care for children through substitute care programs. Some of the more prominent Federal acts and Federal regulations are noted below.

- Adoption Assistance and Child Welfare Act P.L. 96-272. To establish a program of adoption assistance, strengthen the program of foster care assistance for needy and dependent children, and improve the child welfare, social services, and aid to families with dependent children programs. Requires states to ensure and the courts to determine that reasonable efforts continue to be made on behalf of each individual child to mitigate the need for continued foster care.
- Indian Child Welfare Act (ICWA) PL 95-60. To establish standards for the placement of Indian children in foster and adoptive homes and to prevent the breakup of Indian families.
- Adoption and Safe Family Act PL 105-89. To promote the adoption of children in foster care by placing limitations and timelines.
- Fostering Connection to Success and Increasing Adoption Act PL 110-35. To support and connect relative caregivers and improve outcomes for children in foster care.

Title IV-E, The Federal Foster Care Program, helps to provide safe and stable out-of-home care for children until the children are safely returned home, placed permanently with adoptive families or placed in other planned arrangements for permanency. Title IV-B provides grants to states and Indian tribes for programs directed toward the goal of keeping families together. They include preventive interventions so that, if possible, children will not have to be removed from their homes. Finally, the Social Security Act contains the primary sources of federal funds available to States for child welfare, foster care and adoption activities.

Oregon Revised Statutes that specify which children are involved in the Substitute Care Program can be found under ORS 418.015 Custody and Care of Needy Children by Department and ORS 418.312 When Transfer of Custody Not Required; Voluntary Placement Agreement; Review of Children Placed in Certain Institutions.

Funding Streams

There is a combination of funding sources in the Well-Being Programs. Leveraged Federal funds include:

- Title IV-E, 20 percent;
- Medicaid, 10 percent;
- Independent Living, 2 percent;
- TANF, 9 percent;
- Chafee, 1 percent;

Social Services Block Grant Federal Funds, 3 percent;
 Title IV-B, 1 percent;

Other Funds Applicable Child Saving Fund, 2 percent;
 Other Funds Child Trust, 5 percent;
 General Fund, 48 percent.

Funding Justification and Significant Changes to CSL

There is one Revenue Shortfall in this program area due to the discontinuation of the IV-E Waiver Federal Program.

| SAFETY – The State of Oregon has operated successful Title IV-E programs under an approved waiver since 1997. During this time, projects have been funded under the waiver that resulted in measurable improvements and positive outcomes for children and their families. The Title IV-E waiver program has been discontinued by Administration for Children and Families, affecting the funding available for the Leveraging Intensive Family Engagement (LIFE) program. The LIFE program has shown positive outcomes for families including shortened time to permanency for children predicted to stay three or more years in foster care, increased reunification, accelerated progress on case goals, strengthened relationships between DHS and families, families and youth feeling heard, and DHS staff feeling supported in partnering with families. The LIFE Program has served over 500 families in 17-19. With no additional funding, no families will receive these services. |             |               |             |

There are multiple investments in the Governor’s Budget, in addition to the regular essential packages that are part of the normal budget build process.

PACKAGE DESCRIPTION

This package provides additional funding to strengthening therapeutic foster care support children and youth in need of time-limited substitute care within their community. The expectation is that this should be a collaboration between OHA/DHS in consultation with System of care Executive Council to:

- Develop a system of professional foster care networks that are coupled with in-home services and supports as outlined above.
  - Components of this model should include:
    - Specialized recruitment of skilled, culturally appropriate foster parents.
    - Paid training for foster providers.
    - Monthly maintenance payments for parents who are attending training, providing respite or other supports to other foster homes, and maintaining capacity.
    - Limits on the number of children in a Therapeutic Foster Home, according to evidence-based models, and in consideration of the circumstances of the child, his/her family (e.g., siblings also in foster care) and the foster family.
    - Ability to maintain youth in the Therapeutic Foster Home until a child is either safely reunified with their family or a stable, permanent placement is identified
- Explore development of foster communities to provide mutual support, e.g. The Mockingbird Model.

| This is new program for sex education for foster youth, using a model that will build capacity to DHS Children’s Welfare program across the state to deliver sexual health education to foster youth ages 12 to 21 years old. This is in response to Oregon Foster Youth Connections’ policy recommendation that all foster youth and their caseworkers receive comprehensive, trauma informed and inclusive sexual health education and know how to access health care services. |                            |                      |                    |                  |            |

| PACKAGE DESCRIPTIONSAFETY: Funds will allow for increased training for relative and non-relative foster care providers to assure the safety of children in their care. The Department must establish a core set of trainings that are available in multiple languages and alternate formats. Trainings must be trauma-informed, linguistically appropriate, culturally responsive, and must support cultural agility. These trainings will be readily available within each District each year. |                                                              |                         |                        |                |          | limited to 16 – 20-year-olds).

- Increasing the comprehensiveness, linguistic appropriateness, and cultural agility of services and supports.
- Adding a Young Adult Transitions Navigator to help guide youth through difficult circumstances.
- Developing transitional housing for young adults.

Reductions:

- Transfer of the Runaway and Homeless Youth Program (RHY) to Self-Sufficiency. The transfer was implemented as runaway and homeless youth rarely entered or re-entered the foster care system. The RHY provider network's focus is to reconnect youth with family or to connect youth and young adults with Self-Sufficiency Program services. As an independent youth or young adult, the RHY population is often eligible for Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) or other Self-Sufficiency Program benefits. Therefore, Self-Sufficiency is better situated to collaborate, support and expand the RHY network of providers.
- The Enhanced Supervision budget was reduced as the expenditures have moved to the Regular Foster Care budget and that budget's Cost Per Case already reflects the Enhanced Supervision costs.

Program Overview

Children in foster care receive assistance through the Child Permanency and Post-Adoption/Guardianship Support Programs. DHS helps foster children achieve legal permanency through reunification, adoption or guardianship. If children achieve legal permanency through adoption or guardianship, this program continues providing support to the families to meet the special needs and lifelong challenges of children who have been abused and neglected.

Program Description

The first and primary permanent plan for all children who enter the foster care system is reunification with a parent. Reunification services are delivered through the efforts of field staff with consultation, support, training, and technical assistance from central office consultation staff. Only after it is determined that a child in foster care is unable to be safely reunited with a parent, will the alternate plans of adoption or guardianship be implemented.

Adoption and guardianship services are delivered through the joint efforts of field and central office staff. When children are unable to return to their parents' custody, the Department's efforts are directed to finding a permanent family so the children can leave the foster care system. Research shows that children who turn 18 and age out of the foster care system have poor outcomes compared to children who are raised in a permanent home. The process of preparing children for adoption or guardianship, searching for an appropriate family, transitioning the children, and monitoring the placement until the adoption or guardianship is finalized is work that is carried out by field staff. The process of ensuring the completeness of the file for adoption or guardianship, supporting the field in determining which children are not able to return to their parents, finalizing the adoption, and supporting families after the adoption or guardianship is carried out by central office staff.

During the last biennium, DHS completed 1,630 adoptions and 655 guardianships. Most children adopted or placed in guardianships through Oregon's foster care system are eligible for ongoing financial support and medical coverage. Overall, approximately 12,000 families receive ongoing adoption and guardianship financial support to meet children's special needs. We also provide administrative oversight in all private, international, and independent adoptions, and operate a Search and Registry Program, which is mandated by law. This adds program responsibility for an additional 700-900 children who are adopted privately or independently each year in Oregon.

DHS works closely with the Department of Justice (DOJ), which provides legal representation for DHS caseworkers. DOJ also represents DHS in termination of parental rights cases and in guardianship petitions. Other key partners include county District Attorneys, private mediators and attorneys, private adoption and recruitment agencies, the Child Protective Services and Foster Care programs of DHS, and the Division of Medical Assistance Programs at the Oregon Health Authority.

Primary cost drivers for the Permanency and Adoption/Guardianship Assistance Programs include the legal costs of representation throughout the case, freeing and placing children for adoption or filing for legal guardianships and the number of eligible children for adoption and guardianship subsidies. Based on their history of abuse and trauma, almost 100 percent of the children adopted annually from the child welfare system are considered special needs children and eligible for an adoption subsidy. Families for approximately 95 percent of the eligible children choose to receive some monetary adoption assistance to assist in meeting these children's special needs. Children entering into legal guardianships have the same history of abuse and trauma and are also eligible for subsidies. Most families accept the monetary support and medical coverage to meet the ongoing special needs of their guardian children.

Program Justification and Link to Focus Areas

The Child Permanency and Adoption/Guardianship Support Programs are designed to impact the safe and equitable reduction of children in foster care, which promotes Healthy and Safe Communities. Children in foster care and their parents and foster parents need targeted, family-focused, timely, and culturally responsive services in order to achieve reunification. Those who cannot safely be reunified with their biological parents need safe and appropriate alternate forms of permanency. Evidence shows that children who do not have permanency experience issues in the future such as lack of education, unemployment, homelessness, and incarceration at much higher rates than the general population. Specifically, former foster children who age out have high rates of mental illness with over half having clinically diagnosed mental health problems, including depression and Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder. These former foster children have a greater chance of coming into contact with the corrections community, experiencing early parenting, and/or using the services provided by the Oregon Health Authority and the Addictions and Mental Health program. The safety and stability that come with a permanent home help mitigate the risk of poor future outcomes for those who were abused and placed into foster care as children.

The Education and Economy focus areas may also be impacted if children cannot find permanency through adoption and guardianship. Grown former foster children who age-out tend to complete high school at a rate comparable to the general population. However, more of the high school completion is done via a GED versus a high school diploma, which is known to lead to lower wage jobs. Further, completion of post-secondary education is low for this group, affecting the lifelong earnings and living standards of these former foster children. The low educational achievement and mental health issues result in many of the former foster children who age-out living at or below the poverty level and requiring more public assistance. A 2005 study shows that one-third of the former foster children who aged out lived in poverty and one-third had no health insurance. The rate at which these foster children used Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF) was five times higher than the general population.

Other non-monetary post-adoption and guardianship services are also important in assisting families in providing care for children who often enter adoption and guardianship with significant special needs. Children who have experienced significant abuse and neglect will be challenged to address their history as they move through different developmental stages. Ongoing support of the families who are parenting these children is essential to preserve the placements. Post-adoption and guardianship services include information and referral, consultation in response to imminent and current family crises, in-home family therapy, support groups, training, and a lending library. Each year, approximately 1,400 to 1,600 contacts are made to the post-adoption services program for help. Some of these contacts are for reported crises or disruption-related issues. Children who disrupt from adoption or guardianship re-enter the foster care or residential treatment system at a significant cost to the state.

Program Performance

Program performance is measured in a number of ways and data is consistently used to evaluate effectiveness. Currently the Child Permanency program is focusing on some specific performance measures and designing its program activities to impact these areas. They include early placement with relatives and siblings, reducing the median months for children to exit the foster care system to reunification, adoption and guardianship, and improving the number of legally free children who are adopted in less than 12 months.

CM.08 Initial Placements With Relatives (of those entering care)

Percent of children entering foster care who were placed with relatives upon removal, over time

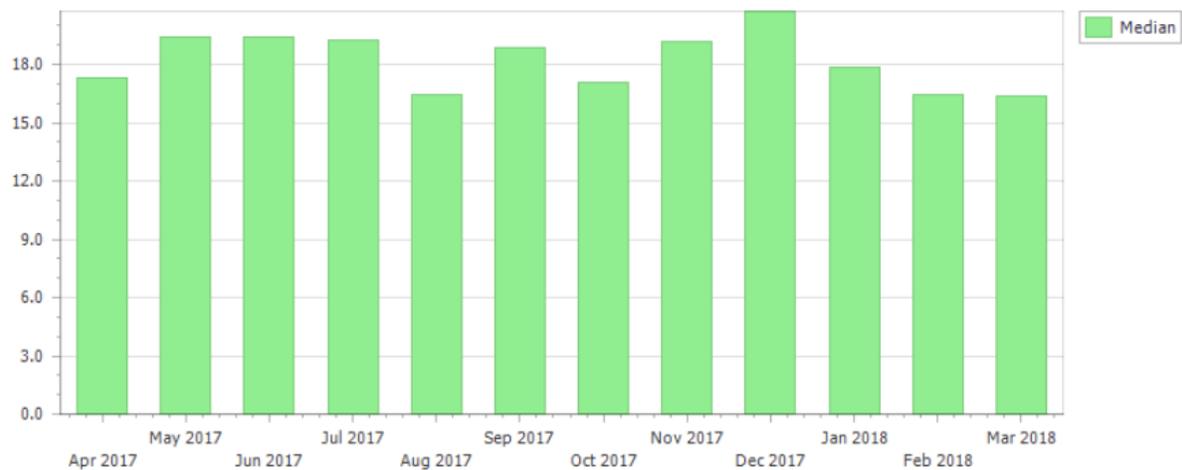

Report Time Period: April 1, 2017 - March 31, 2018

CM.15 Median Length of Stay at Foster Care Exit

Of children discharged, the median number of months to discharge (median is middle score where half were more and half less), over time

Report Time Period: April 1, 2017 - March 31, 2018

PA.12 Adopted in less than 12 months of TPR (of those TPR 12 months ago)

Percent of children that became legally free for adoption (TPR) 12 months ago who were discharged to a finalized adoption in less than 12 months of becoming legally free (TPR).

Report Time Period: April 1, 2017 - March 31, 2018

Oregon is doing well with initial placements with relatives, but the other measures show that the Department has work to do in getting children out of the foster care system in a timely manner, and in timely matching children to the family who can best meet their long-term needs for safety, well-being, and permanency.

Enabling Legislation/Program Authorization

The following Federal and State laws mandate the operation of permanency planning for children in the foster care system:

- Public Law 96-272 Adoption Assistance and Child Welfare Act of 1980 which established the program of adoption assistance and introduced the requirement to make reasonable efforts to keep children out of foster care
- Public Law 105-89 The Adoption and Safe Families Act which set federal time lines for moving children out of foster care
- Social Security Act, Section 473 which mandates the payment of adoption assistance for eligible children
- Social Security Act, Section 473 which allows non-mandatory payment of guardianship assistance for eligible children
- Oregon Revised Statute 418.330 which provides state funded guardianship assistance
- The Indian Child Welfare Act (ICWA)
- ORS 419A and 419B which provide a series of requirements for services to children in the foster care system

- ORS 109.309 which mandates the Department of Human Services to provide administrative services for independent adoptions and to operate a state Search and Registry program

Funding Streams

A combination of General and Federal Title IV-E funds the adoption and guardianship subsidy programs. Title XIX Medicaid funds the provision of medical coverage for children in adoptions and guardianship subsidies. A combination of General Fund and Title IV-B funds support programs such as recruitment and retention of foster and adoptive homes, post-adoption support and services and training. Leveraged Federal funds include:

Title IV-E, 49 percent;
Medicaid, 1 percent;

Other Funds Applicable Child Saving Fund, 2 percent;
Other Funds Child Trust, 1 percent;
General Fund, 47 percent.

Funding Justification and Significant Changes to CSL

The change between CSL and 19-21 GB are due to the essential packages that are part of the normal budget build process.

Program Overview

This program represents the overarching structure that supports the safety of children throughout Oregon who are subjected to abuse or neglect. As of June 1, 2018, there are 1,556 legislatively approved child welfare caseworker positions allocated to child welfare across Oregon. There is a scheduled rollout to have all positions hired by January/February 2019. In FFY 2017 caseworkers responded to 43,976 reports of abuse and neglect, and a total of 11,645 children spent at least one day in some type of foster care, such as family foster care (relative and non-relative), professional treatment programs, psychiatric residential treatment programs, pre-adoptive placement, specialized placement for children with I/DD, or independent living. The program also finalized 673 adoptions in FFY 2017, creating a permanent home for children that could not safely return to their parents. This statewide structure is administered from the DHS central office in Salem and supports field-based staff in 16 Districts, through supervision, technical assistance and support, developing and implementing policies and procedures, providing evaluation services and analysis, training, federal claiming and reporting, case management system support, and quality assurance/continuous quality improvement of program areas in Child Welfare.

The staffing investment in 2017-2019 brought the Child Welfare caseworkers to approximately 86.7 percent of the workload model, assuming all positions are filled. These staff are critical to the integrity of the Oregon Safety Model, our child welfare practice model for safety assessment and safety management.

Program Description

The Office of Child Welfare Programs provides the personnel necessary to support the entire array of Child Welfare programs and services, which includes screening and evaluation of calls reporting abuse and neglect, assessment of families and determination of child safety, case management for all open child welfare cases, assessment, recruiting and retention of foster families and residential treatment providers, visitation for children with their parents and family while experiencing out-of-home care, court preparation and review, transition planning for children over 14 years of age, permanency planning, and case management services through completion of a permanency plan. The program also provides clinical supervision and training to direct service staff, critical to building worker competencies including reinforcing professional social work ethics and values, self-reflection and critical thinking skills, casework practice through a trauma informed and culturally appropriate lens, mentoring and coaching to develop professional skills, and supporting the worker through casework decision-making and crises.

This is partially achieved through lower staff-to-supervisor ratios as recommended by the Child Welfare League of America (CWLA). Oregon has adopted the Oregon Safety Model to evaluate and ensure safety throughout the life of a case. This model requires safety assessment and safety management at all stages of case management, from screening through case closure.

Child Welfare design and delivery coordinates with Self Sufficiency design and delivery to support family stability and prevent entry into the child welfare system for common clients. In addition, Child Welfare partners with other child and family serving systems including Oregon Housing Authorities, Oregon Health Authority, Oregon Department of Education, Oregon Youth Authority, community and faith based organizations, etc., to coordinate services whenever possible. The Office of Child Welfare Programs also negotiates and manages contracts with numerous community service providers and individuals, to provide families and children the individualized services they need to be successful. This program continues to focus efforts on eliminating disparities and ensuring equitable outcomes for families and children. Currently, Native American and African American children are disproportionately represented in Oregon's foster care system.

Major cost drivers for the personnel need are: Program mandates (Federal and State); the number of reports received alleging abuse or neglect; family stress factors which affect abuse risk and case complexity (substance abuse, unemployment, mental or physical health issues, criminal history, domestic violence, etc.); personnel turnover (training/travel costs); work effort required to provide services, and personnel packages (i.e., position cost, etc.). Additional drivers of cost include representation from the Department of Justice connected to dependency matters, court-ordered services and workload associated with Federal mandates.

The Office of Child Welfare Programs continues to identify and implement changes to improve efficiencies while assuring child safety (i.e., abbreviated assessment, overdue case closure tool, centralization of functions currently managed at the District offices, etc.), with more to come using predictive analytics to develop decision support tools. Additionally, the OCWP continues to focus efforts on the safe and equitable reduction of the number of children who experience foster care.

Critical elements of the program are thorough and comprehensive assessment of child safety, certification of family foster care providers and timely permanency outcomes. Oregon's Program Improvement Plan resulting from Round 3 of the Federal Child and Family Services Review includes specific strategies to address areas of needed improvement in Oregon's child welfare practice.

Program Justification and Link to Focus Areas

There is a direct link between the program design and delivery for Child Welfare and Safer, Healthier Communities. The Office of Child Welfare Programs supports increased family stability and child safety; prevents vulnerable youth from entering the foster care system; and implements reinvestment practices when savings can be achieved. Through Child Welfare interventions, safety for abused and neglected children is established. The program's work with families enhances their ability to safely parent their children and prevent foster care placements.

Child Welfare delivery and design provides the personnel to administer, design and deliver child safety supports through abuse investigations, service identification and procurement, family support, reunification wherever possible, or alternative child safety planning when necessary.

Program Performance

Personnel resources are necessary to provide performance in the delivery of Child Welfare programs and services. At current staffing levels, the Child Welfare Program is performing below federal standards in most categories. The chart below provides a comparison of the caseload growth (100%) to the personnel growth (41%) over time which provides a display of how our resources directly impact the Department's ability to keep pace with the need of vulnerable Oregonians.

Total Child Abuse/Neglect Reports

Safety for children is measured through the performance metrics of: timeliness of responding to reports of abuse and neglect, re-abuse rates, the ability to have regular and frequent quality face-to-face contact with children and families, and the timeliness of achieving a permanent plan for a child to minimize the duration of a stay in foster care. All these performance measures are impacted by the staffing levels for the Child Welfare Program. Child safety is jeopardized when there is not adequate staff to respond, visit children and families, ensure family stability prior to return, or move children to a permanent home, including reunification.

Having staff that is representative of the children and families we serve is essential to providing equitable child safety services. Staff must be able to respond to the cultural and language needs of all Oregon families that come to our attention.

The approval of additional staff in 2017 and 2018 legislative sessions is critical to reestablishing a positive trend in foster care reduction.

With the assistance of McKinsey & Company, a workload model was developed to record the work effort to provide program delivery. The workload model provides a basis for determining personnel needs to adequately support the work of Child Welfare. Staffing for Child Welfare central support was not included in the workload modeling by McKinsey. However, the work of Child Welfare central support is vital to the delivery of services in field offices. Central support provides the oversight of policy development, program design and changes required through legislation, Federal reporting compliance, and direct practice support to the field.

The newly developed Office of Research Reporting Analysis and Implementation is currently developing a workload model that will more accurately reflect staffing needs across Child Welfare design and delivery.

Enabling Legislation/Program Authorization

Child Welfare services are mandated by multiple Federal and State laws including PL96-272, Adoption Assistance and Child Welfare Act; PL95-608, Indian Child Welfare Act PL 105-89, Adoption and Safe Families Act; PL 110-351, Foster Connections to Success and Increasing Adoption Act; Social Security Act Title IV-E and Title IV-B; ORS Chapter 418, and ORS Chapter 419B.

Funding Streams

Costs for personnel in program design and delivery is determined through Random Moment Sampling Surveys (RMSS) where field delivery staff are required at random intervals to indicate the time spent on various activities to determine the level of Federal funding to offset the cost to the state of staff who directly support our ability to provide critical child welfare services. Block grant funds include Social Services Block Grant (SSBG) and Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) funds. Leveraged funds include Medicaid, Title IV-E and IV-B funds. State-only General Funds also comprise a portion of the budget.

PACKAGE TITLE: BACKFILL TANF IN CW STAFF

| General Fund  | Other Funds | Federal Funds | Total Funds   | Positions | FTE      |
|---------------|-------------|---------------|---------------|-----------|----------|
| $ 40,000,000 | $ -        | $ -          | $ 40,000,000 | 2,420     | 2,385.69 |

PACKAGE DESCRIPTION:

At some point in the past TANF funding was used to fund a significant number of child welfare staff. The history of why this was done has been lost. This was not inappropriate at the time. However, as TANF caseloads have dropped and CW (and Self Sufficiency) staffing costs have increased, a technical restriction in the TANF rules have caused revenue shortages in Child Welfare Staffing. The TANF grant is a block grant that has not changed since the mid 90's. However, there is a 15% administrative cap on program expenditures. Over time as the TANF caseload has dropped and the investment in JOBS has been reduced the 15% Cap has also been reduced. At this point the 15% admin cap is spent in total by Self Sufficiency. This means that TANF can no longer be used for CW staffing. This impacts many positions, causing hundreds of positions to be eliminated unless remedied. In a companion POP DHS requests backfill of General Funds for this mandated program that was denied at CSL. This proposed POP would remove TANF Federal Funds from CW staffing causing many positions to become part time funded. This will free up TANF for future use in case of a recession or for other program uses determined appropriate by the legislature. TANF partially funds over 2,420 CW positions. Due to system limitations all positions with TANF need to be abolished (in package 070), and then if funded reinstated at full time positions through the companion POP that would establish the same number of positions and FTE, effectively causing a fund shift of GF for TANF in each position.

PACKAGE TITLE: CENTRALIZED SCREENING

| General Fund  | Other Funds | Federal Funds | Total Funds   | Positions | FTE   |

PACKAGE DESCRIPTION:

Centralized Screening currently exists in half of all child welfare programs in the U.S. Research has proven its effectiveness in improving consistency in screening decisions and increased training opportunities for screeners to build a specialized expertise. Screening is the first point of contact for all mandated and non-mandated reporters of child abuse in Oregon. It is imperative that screeners apply Oregon Revised Statute 419B.005 accurately to each allegation of abuse and determine when the department is required to investigate. Oregon Child Welfare currently operates under a district-wide child abuse reporting system in most areas of the state. 7,000 reports of child abuse or neglect are being processed through 15 child welfare offices each month, and at least that many phone numbers. Screening decisions can vary based on where the call is received and a multitude of other reasons such as, workload, inexperience, misinterpretation, bias, etc. This POP would support the ongoing operation of a single, stand-alone, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week child abuse hotline. Enhanced training, decision-making and data-informed tools, a single leadership structure and continuous quality assurance processes all support increased accuracy and reduced bias in screening decisions. In addition, it affords opportunities for quality assurance measures which increase the ability of the Department to provide consistent practice and customer service. Overall, this will increase the level of safety for children exposed to abuse or neglect.

PACKAGE DESCRIPTION:

Oregon does not currently have a structure in place to target statewide foster family recruitment and the services and supports necessary to retain good foster family homes. This has resulted in a lack of appropriate placement resources for many children experiencing foster care and was a finding of shortcoming in the most recent federal Child and Family Services Review and the Secretary of State Audit, titled ‘Chronic Management Failures and High Caseloads Jeopardize the Safety of Some of the State’s Most Vulnerable Children.’ The State must address this issue of foster care recruitment and retention as a part of its federally required Program Improvement Plan and in its federal Child and Family Services Plan.

This Policy Option Package requests the positions necessary to develop, implement and sustain a data informed targeted Statewide Foster Care Recruitment and Retention practice model. This model is intended to recruit and retain an abundance of foster families reflecting the cultural, linguistic and other characteristics, including LGBTQ status, of children experiencing foster care to allow for enhanced placement matching and reduce the number of placement changes.

PACKAGE DESCRIPTION:

Funds will allow for increased training for relative and non-relative foster care providers to assure the safety of children in their care. The Department must establish a core set of trainings that are available in multiple languages and alternate formats. Trainings must be trauma-informed, linguistically appropriate, culturally responsive, and must support cultural agility. These trainings will be readily available within each District each year.

PACKAGE TITLE: INDEPENDENT LIVING PROGRAM – SERVICE ENHANCEMENT

| General Fund | Other Funds | Federal Funds | Total Funds | Positions | FTE  |

| $ 417,487   | $ -        | $ -          | $ 417,487  | 2         | 1.92 |

PACKAGE DESCRIPTION:

This POP seeks to expand the Independent Living Program (ILP) and youth transition services through a rate increase, new services, and an expanded age range of youth to be served, to improve outcomes for youth in their young adulthood. This will be achieved by:

- Increasing monthly service rates to stabilize current programs and to increase solicitation opportunities for additional programs. The rate is currently too low to attract new potential contractors.
- Expanding services to begin serving 14 – 15-year-olds and 21 – 23-year-olds (currently services are limited to 16 – 20-year-olds).
- Increasing the comprehensiveness, linguistic appropriateness, and cultural agility of services and supports.
- Adding a Young Adult Transitions Navigator to help guide youth through difficult circumstances.
- Developing transitional housing for young adults.

ADDITIONAL CHANGES:

- The inflation in services and supplies has been eliminated ($715,665 GF), having sufficient funds in services and supplies is extremely critical in CW.
- 2.5% vacancy savings assumed ($3,475,152 GF) in CW.
- Staffing Workload Reduction – This reduction is to CSL earned positions. The positions were earned at 24 months but were cut back to 12 months in this reduction. Staffing levels are critical in CW to ensuring safety of Oregon’s vulnerable children ($14,050,694 GF).
- Due to need in sexual health education for youth in foster care, $1,025,000 GF and three staff have been added to create this program in CW.
- $5,500,000 GF and two positions have been added to support a Visitation Pilot Program in CW.
- An additional $5,728,531 GF has been added for the expansion of legal representation for CW workers to be statewide for the biennium. In addition, $6,284,984 GF has been included to realign GF with FF in services and supplies, to more closely match with actual eligibility of expenditures for federal match.,
