

Please reject the effort to expose tender young children to standardize testing that reveals none of the learning differences in the very young. It's too early to determine the potential of a child buy subjecting them to devisive segregation. I vote and remember.

Thanks

Sent from my iPhone