

If every legislator who is voting for this bill has not already bought their electric car then they are just 'spinning the line' and hypocrites. If one believes this bill will save the planet, then personal money should be going where the mouth is.....action, not words and all that. Are you serious enough about 'climate change' such that you have or are getting ready to buy electric? How many legislators who are pushing the climate change agenda own electric cars? My guess is very few, if any.

No to HB 2020 'cap and invest'. It would be more like 'cap and Solyndra'.

More info to support a NO vote on HB 2020 via online comment regarding the 'Tulipmania' Green New Deal.

Beasleyhillman billyhollis • 5 hours ago Physics is something one resorts to only if he wants to know the truth.

Liberals always live in a land of unicorns that defies the laws of physics. The CO2 horror story is probably the worst of the lot. As I have stated many times,

"Carbon Dioxide, AKA, CO2, is the environmental engine governor that keeps everything working correctly. It increases in response for the need to accelerate green matter growth. It operates completely independently of anything man can do to control it. It works much like a small engine governor that keeps the environmental engine running at maximum efficiency."

It is not nor ever has been a pollutant. The Providentially designed reason for any increase in CO2 concentration is to increase green matter growth in order to supply oxygen for animals, humans and -----
--> Democrats. If someone is bothered by the miniscule increase in CO2 concentration, plant more trees.

Ref.:

<https://townhall.com/tipsheet/timothymeads/2019/02/09/aoc-policy-adviser-blatantly-lies-to-tucker-carlson-about-green-new-deal-n2541099>

To reiterate: CO2 is not a pollutant, it is a good thing. To try to tax a gas that comes out of the mouth of humans and is less than 1/2 of 1% of the atmosphere is idiotic. The efforts to demonize and tax CO2 is the modern day Tulipmania. CO2 is the ultimate of green substances. CO2 = Green. CO2 = free airborne fertilizer. FREE!

Carole Leofsky
Oakland, Oregon