I am a portland native and have lived on the lower willamette river for 20years and played on it my entire life. The portland area has grown significantly and as a result has more people enjoying our rivers. The river is to be used by all. I oppose more regulation focusing on power boats and the wakes they may create. I constantly see other boats such as big cuddy and willamette jet boats causing larger wakes than ski boats do. Regulation and more rules are not the answer. More education and enforcement of our current rules would be a much more effective area.
