I have been riding motorcycles since the mid 1960s, currently own six bikes with a lifetime total of over 80. Everyday for my work I drive the Portland area often in rush hour traffic, each year the traffic gets worse.

Lane filtering is a sensible option that needs to be approved for roads in Oregon. This method of moving motorcycles has successfully been used in California for many years.

The current proposed legislation HB2314 is a good law that has the support of the motorcycling community and needs to be passed.
