Senate Committee On Judiciary

Prepared By: Channa Newell, Counsel

Meeting Dates: 2/26

WHAT THE MEASURE DOES:

Requires disciplinary action ordered as a result of arbitration involving misconduct by an employee of a law enforcement agency to match the disciplinary action imposed by the agency, if the arbitrator makes a finding of misconduct consistent with the law enforcement agency's finding of misconduct and the disciplinary action was imposed pursuant to a discipline guide. Defines discipline guide.

ISSUES DISCUSSED:

EFFECT OF AMENDMENT:

-1 Retains provisions of measure. Allows use of discipline matrix. Defines discipline matrix. Specifies that for bargaining involving sworn employees of a law enforcement agency, "employment relations" includes adoption and use of a discipline guide or matrix.

BACKGROUND:

Many state and local government employees, including employees of states, counties, cities, and school districts, are subject to the Public Employee Collective Bargaining Act (PECBA). Law enforcement officers are covered under PECBA. A public employer and a collective bargaining unit may reach a written agreement on grievance procedures. As a condition of enforceability, an arbitration award that orders the reinstatement of public employee or otherwise relieve the employee of responsibility for misconduct must comply with clearly defined public policy in statute or judicial decisions. Resolution of disputes over conditions and terms of a contract may be resolved through binding arbitration.

Senate Bill 383 requires an arbitrator who makes a finding of misconduct consistent with the law enforcement agency's finding of misconduct to impose the same disciplinary action that was imposed by the agency, so long as the discipline was done pursuant to a discipline guide.
