

My Name is Molly Brown and I am a nurse and a mother.

Everyday I see the toll infectious diseases take on patients and their families. Luckily, we have treatments for many illnesses.

Despite all the advances we have made in the medical field, when it comes to VIRAL illnesses we are still typically limited to offering supportive care. Sometimes it's not enough and the outcomes are heartbreaking.

What we do have as a evidenced based way to prevent many diseases in the first place - vaccines.

For vaccines to work we need everyone who can to get vaccinated.

Unvaccinated folks risk the health of the whole community. Let's start raising our unsafe vaccination rates. Stop personal and religious exemptions!

Thanks You,

Molly Brown
