

Thanks for talking to me today and offering to put my questions on the record.

The Pacific Propane Gas Association has questions about whether several of the devices they use in their work would be covered under HB 2866. My guess is “no”, but we would like to be sure. I have asked the bill requestor but have not received a response.

In their delivery vehicles my propane dealers use a device called Drive Cam. UPS and FedEx use similar devices. This monitors both inside and outside the immediate area of the truck and tracks driving events, such as sudden braking, etc. Such events trigger a report to a supervisor.

They also put monitors on propane tanks that report geophysical location as well as how much propane is in the tank.

If the answer is “yes”, then we are opposed to HB 2688.

Thanks, Lana

Lana Butterfield
Pacific Propane Gas Association
lanab@teleport.com
503-819-5800
Sent from my iPad