

Greetings:

I've worked in a store by a high school and can say for certain that 16 year old kids aren't mature enough to vote...they don't have basic logic or enough common sense to be responsible for something that is this important.

I also remember when I was 16 and that was a while ago. My generation was more adult then these kids are now and I can honestly say we didn't care about politics only the next fun thing we could get into.

I think lowering the voting age to 16 is a big mistake, they can't buy alcohol, cigarettes, guns or even go into the military..my vote is NO.

Sincerely,
