No amendment.

BACKGROUND:

As of July 2017, 35 states offered credits against state taxes to provide incentives for the rehabilitation of historic buildings. (State Tax Credits for Historic Preservation, National Trust for Historic Preservation, 2017) Oregon does not currently offer such a tax credit.

Senate Bill 928 would create a tax credit for historic property project contributions and provide for rebates to property owners for expenses for rehabilitation and seismic retrofitting of historic properties. The measure would require the State Historic Preservation Officer to give priority to rebates for creating or preserving workforce housing and the seismic retrofitting of unreinforced masonry buildings.
