

Dear Senate Rules Committee,

Individual voters are what should matter in an election, not the geographic location of where that votes was cast. It is a misconception that under a National Popular Vote certain areas would 'decide' the election. In fact that's what happens now and National Popular Vote fixes this inequality by making every voter matter and replacing swing states with a swing United States of America.

Please address this issue by voting yes on SB 870.

Stacey Atwell
1745 SE Locust Ave
Portland, Oregon
97214