

Dear Chair Holvey,

I just don't get it why people are so afraid of new technology man kind has been Modifying seed for longer than you know.

I think there can be more research done in this field but to hold the Farmer responsible is beyond reality.

All of this is not of the Farmer making it is the demand of the consumer They are clearly misinformed as too what it takes to put food on their table.

So I asked for your best judgment we the American Farmer need your support.

Sincerely,
