

HB 3293 A -A3, -A4 STAFF MEASURE SUMMARY

Senate Committee On Judiciary

Prepared By: Channa Newell, Counsel

Meeting Dates: 5/20

WHAT THE MEASURE DOES:

Extends statute of limitations for civil actions relating to sexual assault to seven years from the date the person discovers, or in the exercise of reasonable care should have discovered, the causal relationship between sexual assault and injury. Defines sexual assault as rape, sodomy, unlawful sexual penetration, incest, sexual abuse, an sexual exploitation. Applies to actions commenced on or after the effective date of Act, including any action that would be barred by current limitation period. Specifies that measure does not create new cause of action. Declares emergency, effective on passage.

ISSUES DISCUSSED:

EFFECT OF AMENDMENT:

-A3 Makes statute of limitations five years rather than seven.

-A4 Specifies a person may not bring a claim for vicarious liability for conduct that constitutes sexual assault.

BACKGROUND:

Under Oregon law, if a person under the age of 18 is abused, including sexually assaulted, the statute of limitations for a civil action does not run until either the person reaches 40 years of age or within five years of the person discovering the causal connection between the abuse and the injury. Like other actions for injury to a person, adults who have been sexually assaulted must bring an action within two years.

House Bill 3293 A extends the statute of limitations for actions on adult sexual assault to seven years from the date the person discovers, or reasonably should have discovered through the exercise of reasonable care, the causal relationship between the assault and an injury.
