To whom it may concern,

In today's world of diminishing habitat and encroachment of people on wildlife territories as well as our understanding of the sentience and intelligence of predators like coyotes that live and mate for life, why would wildlife killing contests be legal. Predator hunting in general has no valid legitimate purpose and should be banned altogether. Its not a subsistence issue it is trophy hunting and we should know better by now.

Ban these vile contests and then work on changing the regs to prevent trophy hunting
