

To whom it may concern:

I am writing in support of this bill to allow cyclists to treat stop signs and flashing red lights as "yield" signs.

I'm an older female that uses a bike for in town transportation, including grocery shopping. Bikes run on momentum, and it makes it really hard to stop and get going again, especially with a load.

Making it easier for older cyclists to keep riding is an investment in our health---as well as reducing carbon emissions.

Please put this into law!

Thank you,
