

Bikes and cars are not equal, no matter who is in the right the bikes loses. To this end amending traffic laws for the safety of each group is critical. Studies and my own experience shows that these type of rules lead to safer cycling. Oregon is in a bad place with far too many car on bike accidents and this will help.

Brian Larsen
Hood River, OR