RE: HB 4105 restricts oil and gas production and transportation

WE ARE A STRONG NO

While the nation is now energy independent to obtain reasonable priced fuel, Oregon is going the other direction. Restricting movement of fuel will impact its cost and raise prices of all production and products.

Restricting movement of fuels across state property does not exclude state highways making any movement impossible bringing use of vehicles to a standstill. Whether or not intended, this bill will have a dramatic impact on fuel prices and the economy.

This is not just government overreach, but a tyrannical government.
