This bill would not only hurt rural communities, this would impact every single citizen of Oregon. It would raise prices on literally everything and clearly we already have a homeless issue. If this bill was passed it would only contribute to more homelessness as many would not be able to afford to continue to farm, log, truck and the prices of everything would go up. Mix in lack of income and for everything from food to household items would substantially increase in price because they have to make up their money other ways and that is going to affect the consumers everywhere. This bill affects all types of jobs not just logging but logging is one of the longest sustained industries in Oregon and for good reason. Not only does it provide resources we all need, it also prevents wildfires. This is a huge deal because without logging the forests would be overgrown and lead to more and more wildfires. I bet California is wishing they wouldn't have passed this bill right about now since their wildfires of been devastating for whole communities. Kate Brown was not born and raised here and clearly doesn't understand the state of Oregon and the livelihood of these jobs. If cap and trade passes it won't be long until we are just like California, broke, burnt and unsustainable.
