

I am writing about the cap and trade bill(s). First off, no matter what number you attach to these bills, it is still about cap and trade. The residents of this state know this. The resistance is not going away or being deceived.

I am a truck driver with an older truck, about twenty years old. I use about 38-40 gallons of fuel a day. If I was to use a newer truck with all of the standards added it would use about 46-50 a day.

The truck I drive will soon be retired and I will get a newer, less economical truck. The added fuel being used, plus the added taxes would make my job too expensive to keep going. The sad side is that my job works to improve the environment.

I view these Democrat run bills will not have a positive impact in the future. But the money grab that is going on will destroy the Democrat party.
