

To Whom it May Concern:

Killing for prizes, cash, or just plain fun is a soulless activity that needs to stop. Coyotes are managed as vermin and can be shot any time anywhere. Isn't that enough of a free range? The world is not a game show where even killing is a game. Stop it! Coyotes contests are a disgusting. They have a niche in the natural world and most wild life self manages for over population, if given a chance. We really have no idea what mass killings these contests cause in an area, or how disrupting to cycles of coyote populations or other wildlife they are. Stop! Please stop!! I have lived in rural Eastern Oregon for over 40 years and never seen a coyote do anything more than kill mice, other rodents, feral domestic cats or work on carrion.

Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,
Margaret Durner
Halfway, Oregon

Sent from my iPad