

Killing contests are immoral and basically mindless. Wildlife is managed under the public trust doctrine to the benefit of all citizens.

It is unethical, cruel and , in fact, cowardly to slaughter wildlife to satisfy the bloodlust of a few.

In case you haven't noticed, the more you kill the more they breed actually exacerbating the perceived problem. When the alpha pair of a family pack are killed the entire pack is uncontrolled and they all begin to breed.

Stop this idiocy and learn to live with your wildlife.

William Beech

bill@beechsf.com

BB

Please note my new address Bill@BeechSF.com. I will no longer be receiving email addressed to wrbeech@aol.com