No amendment.

BACKGROUND:

Oregon's quality rating and improvement system, SPARK, provides information to the public about the relative quality of child care programs. SPARK relies on a variety of metrics to make quality ratings. Child care programs are given a final rating on a five-star scale. The ratings are based on standards in the areas of children's learning and development, health and safety, personnel qualifications, family partnerships, and administration and business practices. House Bill 2059 would change SPARK from a quality ratings system to a quality recognition system and remove the statutory requirement that each program receive a tiered rating.
