BACKGROUND:

In Oregon, there are 254 special districts that provide fire protection. Those districts are not part of any state, county, or city government but are created based on statutes which determine how they are overseen. Rural fire protection districts (RFPD), found in the Oregon Revised Statutes (ORS) Chapter 478, were created in 1957 and along with ORS Chapter 198, provide the process to establish and maintain a RFPD as a Special District of Oregon. By contrast, a Zone 2 is created by the County Commissioners which authorizes them to levy a tax within an area defined by the Commissioners to create and maintain firefighting and fire protection equipment and facilities. The Zone 2 designation predates ORS Chapter 478 and only its funding allowances can be found in statute; in ORS 476.330 and 476.340. The last Zone 2 operation ended in 1999 when Crook County created its RFPD.

House Bill 2295 authorizes a fire chief, or representative of the fire chief, of any county to extinguish an uncontrolled fire found to be burning in an unprotected area, if the chief or representative has been given authorization by the governing body of its county to extinguish such fires. The bill also allows the county to bill the property owner for the cost of its fire protection services; and to levy an annual tax based on the assessed value of all taxable property within the Zone 2, to fund its fire protection services or to arrange for an optional subscription for services that prevents or controls a fire occurring within the limits of the Zone 2.
