the universal telephone number for a national suicide prevention and mental health crisis hotline. The law also allows states to impose and collect a fee for providing 9-8-8 related services, but specifies that this fee must be held in a designated account to be spent only in support of 9-8-8 services. The act also requires that the FCC submit an annual report on state administration of these fees and that the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) and the Department of Veterans Affairs jointly report on how to make the use of 9-8-8 operational and effective across the country. It further specifies that HHS develop a strategy to provide access to competent, specialized services for high-risk populations such as lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, and queer (LGBTQ) youth; minorities; and rural individuals.

House Bill 3069 and the -4 amendments would establish Oregon's coordinated crisis system and 9-8-8 Fund.
