WHAT THE MEASURE DOES:

Eliminates provision providing for automatic imposition of monthly supervision fees for supervision by community corrections program.

ISSUES DISCUSSED:

- Current statute requires imposition of fees
- Potential disparate impact on counties relying on fees
- Provisions of the measure

EFFECT OF AMENDMENT:

No amendment.

BACKGROUND:

Currently, under Oregon law, a person sentenced to probation or placed by an authority on parole, post-prison supervision, or other form of release, subject to supervision by a community corrections program, is required to pay a monthly fee to offset costs of supervising the probation, parole, post-prison supervision, or other supervised release. See ORS 423.570. Timely payment of the fee is made a condition of such probation, parole, post-prison supervision or other supervised release.

Senate Bill 620 eliminates the automatic imposition of supervision fees as a condition of probationary sentence or supervision.
