Summary of Revenue Changes

Senate Bill 553 appropriates $1,071,544 General Fund to the Higher Education Coordinating Commission (HECC) to provide funding to universities for students who are refugees and who hold a special immigrant visa, or Compact of Free Association (COFA) students who are receiving an exemption from nonresident tuition at public universities.

Summary of Education Subcommittee Action

COFA students are individuals subject to a treaty between the Republic of Palau, Republic of the Marshall Islands, or the Federated States of Micronesia. Students with refugee status must have been granted refugee status for admission to the United States by the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services. A special immigrant visa holder student is defined as an individual from Iraq or Afghanistan who have been provided with the status of special immigrant by the United States Department of Homeland Security, under certain provisions of law.

SB 553 provides the students described above with an exemption from nonresident tuition at public universities, who have not previously established residence in any state or territory of the United States, other than Oregon, and who are eligible to receive state and university scholarships and other financial aid. The bill appropriates $1,071,544 to HECC to provide funding to the universities for the exemption given to COFA students to qualify for instate tuition rates.

The bill also requires HECC to allocate an amount to Eastern Oregon University (EOU), equal to the difference between resident tuition and fees, and nonresident tuition and fees for each COFA islander who is enrolled at EOU, and this allocation is required to be in lieu of money HECC would otherwise allocated to EOU for the same student under the public university support fund distribution formula.
