

I lived in California with a motorcycle, where splitting lanes is legal and commonplace. The practice is safe, good for equipment, and good for reducing traffic.