

I recently moved here from a state that allowed lane sharing and lane filtering. Allowing me to share a lane has likely saved my life. I was traveling at highway speeds on an interstate and traffic slowed suddenly. I was able to slow my motorcycle and negotiate between two lanes while the car that was traveling behind was not paying attention enough. That vehicle was able to stop and avoid hitting the car in front of it, but left no room for me or my motorcycle.