

More transparency is needed from a broader range of viewpoints when making important decisions for the majority that may not be able to attend in person meetings.

Thank you,
George Dwyer