

As a motorcyclist I would like to have the option to share lanes with traffic instead of sitting on traffic looking on the mirror for cars coming too fast that probably wouldn't stop on time and would rear end me otherwise. I had to drive in highway shoulder at least once when I was sitting on traffic and a car coming from behind was going too fast and would hit me otherwise.

This is a safety issue, specially on high traffic highways during rush hour.