

This has been done safely for years in California and will have immediate positive results with traffic on the desperately overcrowded highways.