

I have been riding motorcycles on the street for over 10 years. In my opinion it is safer for the motorcyclist to be able to share lanes between cars than not. You have to be able to maneuver around people who are driving unsafe. Also older bikes are air cooled and will overheat if stuck in traffic. Sharing lanes helps keep the motor cool and prevents more break downs on the road.