

This bill appears to simply provide avenues to delay and make more difficult an individuals right to own, transfer or sell a firearm. Of course, responsible gun owners will pay the price given people with bad intentions will secure a firearm, if desired, outside the process anyway. Legislators need to focus on root issues. Gun ownership is increasing in America because citizens safety is declining due to improper management of metro areas and liberal communities. Focus on basic government obligations of government to it's citizens and you won't need to waste time of efforts such as this bill, which ultimately improve nothing but does infringe upon the right of law abiding citizens.
