

I work with a fair amount of students who are currently homeless or about to be homeless for reasons outside their control. They are people just like anybody else and their humanity should be respected. No one deserves to be made homeless because of the pandemic. They especially, but all of us really, need protection from displacement, eviction, and retaliation. We can't let COVID permanently set back the lives of so many.