

Hello,

I am all in favor of relief for renters but I am concerned about compensation for increased numbers of occupants staying indefinitely in my rental. The wear and tear on the place becomes extreme; requiring more repairs and maintenance. I am also concerned about income from the rental, which I depend on. I would like to see some kind of outreach to family-owned rentals to help compensate for lost income. I do not wish to impede the process of renter protections but I do feel it is out of balance to force the owner to comply with unfair and unreasonable regulations.
