

The study of civics is so important so that our young people can learn about our government and the current issues of the day. They can learn about how they can impact laws and movements. They can learn who their legislators are, and become active participants in our democracy. After all, democracy is not a spectator sport! They can learn the history of voting in our country and why it's so important.