

I am writing in support of SB 683. Education about racism in our state and our country is long past due. I am especially excited that the bill provides for education about the history of racism against Black people and also for training in anti-racism skills that can be used to deal with discrimination against other persons and groups. To have our children learning this history and these skills through out their education, K-12, means they will leave with a solid grounding in these areas.
