

It is important to me to have a state song that represents all Oregonians. I have lived in rural and urban parts of this state and know that there is great diversity that needs to be represented.