

In our public schools we should always strive to teach the truth. History has been clearly white washed and that is not acceptable. We can do better and should always strive to do better. Children need to grow up knowing many different sides of History to get a clearer picture of our past so we don't repeat our mistakes in the future.