

I understand this will add more time to the farmers workload and expenses. I also know it is hard to schedule things out because the workload changes daily due to weather and peak ripeness timrframe. Its just as a former Farmworker, and being on that job site, the pressure to finish before dark is overwhelming. That is partly why Farmworkers have a substantially shorter lifespan. I cam guarantee though that if this is granted, it will pay off for all in the end. All farmwokers word hard, no doubt about that, but now here's a way to have them feel a little more valued. Thank you for your time.
