

I am in favor of creating a public process to create a state song for Oregon. Our current song was created by a public contest and it's time to do it again. When you read the words of the current song and think about Oregon's history with Native people and with African Americans, it's an insult. Let's have a song that we all can sing.