

Taking away this boating activity will negatively affect local business, as well as reduce the value of living in Portland. This is like telling skiers they can't ski mount hood. The impact of having ski boats on the river does not negatively impact anyone.