

Waterways are public access and it's not equitable to set restrictions to only certain recreational water users.