THE RHECS

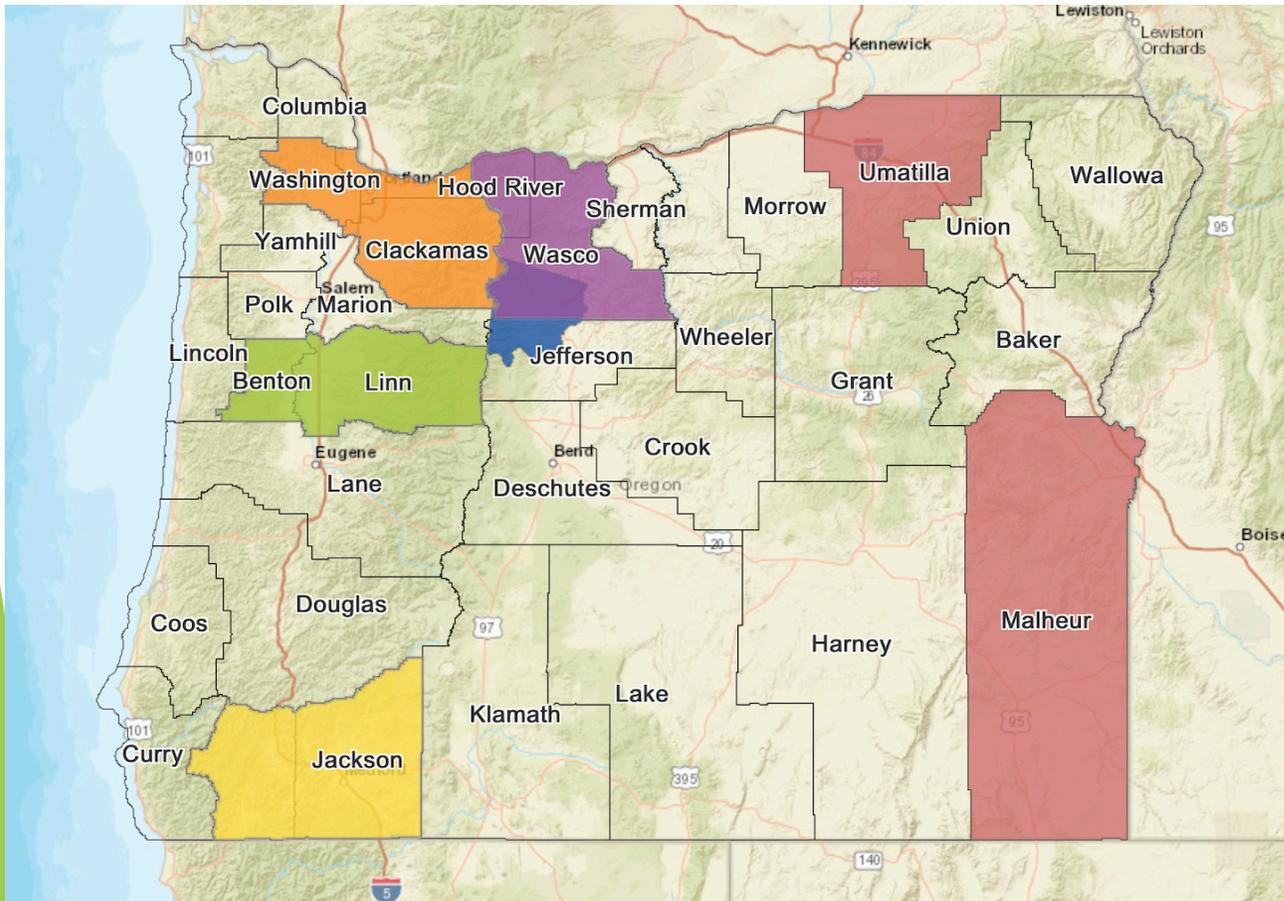

- ▶ The RHECs are autonomous, collaborative, community-driven, cross-sector groups organized regionally to identify policy, system, and environmental solutions that increase health equity for underserved and underrepresented communities experiencing health disparities.

Funded by:

- The Regional Health Equity Coalition model approach:
 - Recognizes the impact of structural and institutional systems that impact the health and well-being of underrepresented communities;
 - Meaningfully engages impacted communities to lead efforts and
 - Honors community wisdom by ensuring policy and system change solutions build upon community strengths

Six Regional Health Equity Coalitions (RHECs) in Oregon, They represent 11 Oregon counties and the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs. There are still 25 counties in the state that could benefit from a Regional Health Equity Coalition
