

Please help our dwindling salmon and steelhead populations recover. Fishing is one of the most wholesome outdoor activities people of all ages can participate in, bond over and make lasting memories. It is also a very important of income for small communities throughout the state who rely on the seasonal influx of fishermen. Help stimulate our economy by supporting the increase in our threatened fish populations. Thank you for reading this and have a good day.